Raichle's Study Report Points to Inequities

Suggests Steps to Modernize Assessment System in County

Calling the local assessment roll "the foundation upon which we have built our entire system of local financess", Supervisor Clarence C. Raichle (R), 12th ward, chairman of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors Tax Base Committee, has suggested that steps be taken to modernize our system of local assessment.

As chairman of the Tax Base Study committee, a member of the Industrial Development committee of the board and chairman of the Ratio and Apportionment committee, Raichle in a study report of the local t problem, points out the 'inequities" in our present system and suggests that there be a revision in the manner of assessing real property. One suggestion is that Tax Maps be provided for this need. Property description cards, initial revaluation of all taxable properties and assistant to assessors in valuing complex properties are among the important needs.

In his very comprehensive report chairman Raichle points out that "Town government as it existed in the 1920's was under vigorous attack. Governors of that day advocated its abolition and archiac absolute, as ineffective and wasteful and even corrupt.

"Town government survived the atatcks upon it, not because we were skillful in defending its weaknesses but because we began, in 1923, a vigorous and continuing effort to strengthen it by eliminating many of those weaknesses. We have traveled a long way since those days."

Notes Improvements

Pointing out the improvements in town government during the past 40 years, Raichle enumerates the following:

New Town Law 1932. Association of Towns 1933. Town and County Officers Training School 1935. Transfer of welfare from the cities and towns to the counties, beginning a movement of transfer of functions that has since continued. Many functions transferred since 1936. Improvements in the Justice Court including the reduction of number of Justices of the Peace 1938. Town Budget System's abolition of the fee system 1943. New plan for State aid including per capita aid 1946. State Equalization Board established, beginning a movement for more equitable real property taxes in 1949. Later, or second County Home Rule Amendment approved (Since then, Oneida and Onandaga have reorganized the government) 1948. Office for Local Government created in 1959. Municipal Cooperation Amendment approved in 1959.

Expansion of Office for Local Government to include Equalization and Assessment, Municipal Police Training and Fire Safety Program in 1960. First passing of proposed Constitutional amendment to expand home rule

GOP to Select Slate April 23

County Convention Moved Ahead Due To Early Primary; Set at Court House

Ulster County Republican Chairman, Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, said today that Saturday, April 23, has been set as the date for this year's Republican County Convention. The convention, which is generally held during the summer months, is being held in April due to this year's early Primary Election date of June 28.

No Caucuses

The County GOP leader said that delegates to the County Convention will not be selected at pre-convention caucuses as in past years due to the change in the Party rules which were adopted last year. Assemblyman Wilson said Ulster County will now endorse Party candidates in the same manner as all of the other counties in New York State, by vote of the elected Republican Committeemen from every Election District in the County. The convention will be held at the Ulster County Court House, and is slated to begin at 8 p. m.

Chairman Wilson said this year's Republican Convention will be a most important one for the voters of Ulster County as candidates will have to be named on both the district and county level. In the county there will be two announced candidates for these positions, Deputy County Clerk Albert Spada of Kingston has stated his intention to seek the office of county clerk and the incumbent Ulster County Coroner, William S. Keyser of Kingston, has said that he will seek re-election.

Will Pick Candidates

The Republican chairman said that on the District level nominations will be made for the offices of Congressman, State Senator and Assemblyman, as well as delegates to attend the State Convention, the Judicial Convention and next year's Constitutional Convention which has been created to make major revisions in the State Constitution.

Under the newly announced reapportionment plan, all of Ulster County is once again contained in a single Assembly District but the plan links Ulster and Dutchess Counties in a new Senatorial District.

North Hit 1st Time, Key Pass

About 59 GIs Are Killed, Wounded

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Air Force B52s struck North Viet Nam for the first time today, raining hundreds of tons of explosives on a strategic mountain pass. A spokesman said it was one of the largest B52 raids of the war.

While the United States escalated the air war against the north, a Viet Cong battalion mauled an American rifle company in the heavy jungles 40 miles east of Saigon. An Army spokesman reported heavy casualties, indicating perhaps a third or more of the GIs were killed or wounded. A rifle company at full strength has 178 men.

Hit From All Sides

The 1st Infantry Division men were savagely assaulted from all sides while on a multibrigade search — Operation Abilene — in thick jungle where the Communists have held out since the days of French rule.

They were hit with mortars, recoilless rifles and small arms fire after part of the infantry probe killed five members of a Viet Cong platoon in a brisk fight.

The battle Monday night lasted five hours. Helicopters were unable to bring out the dead and wounded until engineers chopped clearings in the forest today.

The eight-engine bombers went north after more than 200 raids on Viet Cong targets below the 17th Parallel. They hammered at the Mu Gia Pass, a funnel for men and arms to the south.

Half Million Pounds

A U.S. spokesman did not give an assessment of damage or the number of planes involved, but they probably dropped a half million pounds of bombs or more on their target.

Sparsely Populated

The Mu Gia Pass cuts across the Annamite mountains on the Laotian frontier. It is in a remote, sparsely populated region 80 miles northeast of the 17th Parallel border with the south and 230 miles south of Hanoi.

Other Air Force and Navy planes flew a total of 36 missions against the Communist north Monday, hitting storage areas, railroad facilities, bridges and shipping.

Navy pilots reported destroying 13 junks and damaging 13 more, wrecking 13 boxcars and smashing 6 warehouses and

Vow Viet Election, Monks Boycott Meet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Viet Nam's military government pledged today to hold elections as soon as a constitution is drafted and the election machinery set up. But the Buddhist opposition cold-shouldered the preparatory congress at which the offer was made.

Earliest Time Possible

Addressing an assemblage of representatives the junta had convened from throughout the nation to start progress toward civilian rule, the chief of state, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, declared the ruling generals want to turn over power to civilians "in the shortest time possible."

Informed Vietnamese sources said this could be within a month or two depending on how long it takes to write a constitution and create the election machinery.

"The military does not want to cling to power," said Thieu.

With Premier Nguyen Cao Ky and four other members of the 10-man ruling directorate attending, Thieu suggested a possilbe formula for a National Assembly: half of the members could be elected, the others appointed from the provinces.

Bids U.S. End Support

The Buddhist leadership underscored its boycott of the congress by demanding that "the U.S. government at once end its support for the Thieu-Ky militarist clique." A communique issued by the Unified Buddhist Church in the name of Buddhists in the army's northernmost 1st Corps area charged that the junta intended to wage "a civil war with U.S. backing" to hang onto power.

The government, however, completed the withdrawal of 1,500 Vietnamese marines it had sent to Da Nang last week in U.S. Air Force transports to take over the northern city from dissident troops.

Two battalions — 1,078 men — and 10 tanks were airlifted back to Saigon in Vietnamese planes from their tent city at the U.S.-Vietnamese Da Nang air base, a Vietnamese army spokesman said. A third battalion left earlier for what the government said was an assignment against the Communists elsewhere in the 1st Corps.

Marches Continue

Despite the departure of the marines, 5,000 persons, including 500 Vietnamese soldiers and more than 100 armed students, marched in a new antigovernment demonstration in the streets of Da Nang. The students were members of a "struggle committee" formed in

Council May Resume Zoning Next Week

Alderman-at-Large Frank Koenig said today that a recessed meeting of the Common Council was expected to be called next week to consider new zoning changes and any other business that might come before the council.

No Tentative Date

No tentative date was set. It was anticipated that the meeting — recessed from the regular session a week ago — might be held this week, but Alderman John Naccarato (R-3rd Ward) Republican Minority Leader, was reported out of town.

Initial action on a 32-unit, $524,000 senior citizens' housing project in the Colonial Gardens area and a proposed $406,000 Rondout Neighborhood Center was taken by the Council at last week's meeting. The Council also authorized transfer of a 135-unit housing site in downtown-Broadway's UR area from the city's Urban Renewal Agency to the Kingston Housing Authority.

Meanwhile, George Yerry, KHA chairman, said that according to the Authority's project schedule, bids on the 135-unit project will be available in the latter part of May, and are to be received in the latter part of June. He said that according to the original KHA schedule, the project was scheduled to start last November 1.

Other Action Pending

Also left for possible action at the recessed meeting were a bid to have the city acquire the uptown Senate parking lot between Fair Street and Clinton Avenue, and a bid for 80 additional units in the downtown UR area.

Among zoning changes approved on the heels of a public hearing held prior to last week's meeting, was one to permit the senior citizens' housing development in the Colonial Gardens area. Action on other proposed changes was delayed, including zoning changes on the proposed Linderman Avenue and Beatty Farm developments.

Garraghan Critical

Mayor Raymond W. Garraghan said that he saw no reason why the council could not have acted on the Beatty Farm project. Action on the Linderman Avenue project was reportedly deferred for further study. A three-quarters majority vote is required on the latter project because it was previously rejected and reintroduced in the Council.

Medicare Aired By Health Unit At Paltz Session

The Ulster County Board of Health held its April meeting Monday night at the New Paltz Nursing Home, which is owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Norton Blue.

First-Hand Data

Dr. Virgil B. DeWitt, president of the Ulster County Board of Health, scheduled the meeting at the New Paltz Nursing Home in order to give the Board members first-hand information on nursing homes and the problems they are now confronted with and those they will face in the future.

The principal topic was Medicare and how it will affect the public, the medical profession, the hospitals and the nursing homes in the county. Although the size of the impact is still unknown, it is expected that demands for hospital and nursing home beds will greatly increase when Medicare gets underway July 1, 1966.

In the regular business portion of the meeting, the board heard reports on the Ulster County Department of Health from Dr. Vernon B. Link, Commissioner of Health, and on the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital from Dr. John B. Plass, director.

Gives TB Report

One of the more intriguing revelations of the evening was made by Dr. Plass in his report on the hospital's activities. He pointed out that it is common knowledge in the county that there are tuberculosis patients being cared for at the hospital. He said some people even know that 10 of the 50 beds are reserved for non-tuberculosis patients with chronic respiratory disease. But, Dr. Plass said, few people know that the biggest activity of the hospital is in the outpatient department, or chest clinic.

Most Stay Away From Mine Jobs As Order Defied

PITTSBURGH AP — Most of the striking soft coal miners stayed off the job today despite a union back-to-work order. But there were some cracks in the two-day walkout.

Half of 4,600 Back

About half the 4,600 strikers in Virginia returned to work, and a United Mine Workers District director said he was hopeful all would be back by Wednesday morning.

Also back on the job were a total of 440 miners in Utah and Indiana.

And in Ohio a continued shutdown of the mines was blamed chiefly on delay in receipt of the back-to-work order issued by officials of the United Mine Workers Union.

Meetings Are Called

Elsewhere, a number of locals called meetings to discuss the walkout.

About 53,000 mines in nine states were on strike in the biggest walkout in the soft coal fields since 1950.

The strike started early Monday over the failure of the union and the Bituminous Coal Operators Association to reach agreement on a new contract in Washington.

Telegrams signed by Union President W. A. (Tony) Boyle and other union officers went out Monday to all union districts ordering the strikers back to work.

Last Friday, Boyle said the union considered itself "at liberty to strike at any time" because the union had no contract with the association.

Huddle in Washington

With the strike under way, union officials huddled in Washington before the back-to-work directive was issued.

Later, Boyle met with president Edward G. Fox of the coal association after a meeting of the association's five-man executive committee.

Disputes De Gaulle's Reasoning

Rusk Says Pact Sanctity Harmed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk has sharply disputed French President Charles de Gaulle's argument that France can properly end its military agreements with the United States because they are out of date.

Rusk says this "strikes at the very heart of the sanctity of international agreements."

In Interview

The comments, in an interview granted last week to the French magazine Paris-Match, were released by the State Department today as the United States replied to De Gaulle's demand for removal of American military installations from French soil.

Delivery of the note, reported by reliable souces here to make much the same points in more diplomatic style, was arranged for today in Paris.

"The United States has more than 4,000 agreements with other nations," Rusk told the magazine. "We are concerned about actions which would weaken the growing fabric of international law."

The interview contained some of the harshest comments yet made by a high U.S. official publicly on De Gaulle's decision to withdraw French forces from NATO and put an end to U.S. and other foreign military bases established on French territory under NATO-connected agreements.

The debate is scheduled for 8 p. m.

List Kingston, Others for Pure Waters Monies

Local and area communities are included in grants just approved to help localities meet operation and maintenance costs of sewage treatment facilities, according to an announcement made today by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

The City of Kingston and other communities in Ulster County, Dutchess and Orange, will share in grants totaling $392,657 approved for 24 New York State localities under the "Pure Waters" program.

$14,891 for Kingston

Kingston will receive $14,891 to be used for operating and maintaining pollution control facilities. The Town of Lloyd has been granted $3,198 for use at the Highland Sewage Treatment Plant. Among four New York City plants, located on upstate watersheds, to be included in the grants, is the one at Pine Hill, which will receive $8,932. Two other nearby plants, at Margaretville and Tannersville will get $41,432 and $8,401 respectively.

In Dutchess County, the Village of Pawling is slated to receive $1,556, and the City of Middletown in Orange County has been granted $19,424.

Founded Last Year

Since the program of grants was founded last year 99 grants have been made for a total of $4,814,087. The grants, made under the "Pure Waters" program adopted by the 1965 Legislature upon Gov. Rockefeller's recommendation, amount to one-third of the direct costs of operating and maintaining pollution control facilities.

In releasing the news of local, area and other grants, Gov.

Urges Meeting On 'Other War'

By STANLEY M. SWINTON

MANILA (AP) — Philippine President Ferdinand Marcos called today for a foreign ministers' meeting to seek a way to end Asia's other war, the Indonesian-Malaysian "confrontation."

Marcos proposed a meeting of the foreign ministers of Malaysia, Indonesia, the Philippines "and other Asian countries if they are interested."

Says Summit Useless

He said it would be fruitless for himself, President Sukarno of Indonesia and Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman of Malaysia to hold a summit session unless the foreign ministers could find a basis for agreement.

Asserts Demo Plan Better on Labor Law

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Legislature's top Democrat said today he saw no chance for Assembly approval of proposals offered by a panel of labor relations experts for a new law to replace the Condon-Wadlin Act.

Sees Bad Bill

Assembly Speaker Anthony J. Travia said the recommendations advanced last Friday by a five-member panel appointed by Gov. Rockefeller woud, if put into the form of legislation without change, constitute a "bad bill."

"Labor would never go for it," Travia told the Associated Press.

He said the Democrats had a "better proposal" for revising the law, which bars strikes by public employes and mandates automatic dismissal for those who go on strike.

The Democratic measure would retain the basic policy that public employes have no right to strike. But it would substitute for the automatic-dismissal provision a series of disciplinary actions ranging from a reprimand to discharge.

The Democratic bill also would provide for collective bargaining and binding arbitration of disputes. Thus, state workers and employes of other governmental units, except policemen, would be allowed to join or form labor unions to represent them.

The Democratic bill would not, however, mandate any punishment for strikers.

Rockefeller's panel, appointed after the crippling 13-date transit strike in New York City last January, proposed last week a plan that would:

Panel's Proposal

—Create a state public employment relations board to provide mediation and fact-finding help in settling disputes between public employes and public employers.

— Grant union - organizing rights and collective-bargaining rights to all public employes throughout the state. State employes and New York City employes have such rights by executive orders of the governor and the mayor respectively, but public employes in many municipalities do not.

—Continue the present ban on strikes by public workers and require all unions representing public employes to sign no-strike pledges.

—Permit settlement of deadlocked negotiations by the Legislature or a local legislative body in the event either labor or management rejects the fact - finding recommendations.

—Establish new, milder penalties for strikers. This would bar automatic punishment but would make a striker subject, after a hearing, to action ranging from a simple reprimand to suspen-

Indict Middletown Official on Taxes

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—The corporation counsel for the city of Middletown, a dance-studio proprietor from Binghamton and an orthodontist from Utica are charged with evading a total of $81,000 in personal income taxes.

A federal grand jury returned separate indictments Monday in U.S. District Court here charging:

—Harold B. Abramson of Middletown with evasion of more than $8,000 between 1959 and 1961.

—Charles W. Pistole of Binghamton, evasion of more than $55,000 from 1959 to 1962.

—Dr. Alfred Block of Utica, evasion of $18,000 during the period 1959 to 1962.

The government said Abramson reported a total of $2,970 in taxable personal income for those years. It charged, however that the actual total was $37,242.

Meanwhile, the four-count indictment against Block said he claimed income of $64,840 during the period. The government contended that his total income was $111,732.

Pistole, who operates an Arthur Murray dance studio in Orlando, Fla., was charged in an indictment that said he reported an income of $92,594 and alleged that he earned over $200,000 during the four - year - long period.

The government said Abramson paid taxes of $540 instead of $8,631, Block paid taxes of $15,526 instead of $33,585 and Pistole paid $29,901 instead of $85,499.

Tax Rate Stays Same In Saugerties Budget

The Saugerties Village tentative budget for the fiscal year beginning June 1 als $241,600, an increase of $17,593 over last year, and reflecting a proposed tax rate of $17.75 per $1,000 of assessed valuation. Although the budget is slightly higher than last year's, the increase will not change local tax rates. They remain the same for the second year in a row, due to an increase in state aid.

A public hearing on the tentative budget has been scheduled for Thursday at 8 p. m. in the village clerk's office.

In the announcement of the preliminary budget, the Village Board said that figures include salary increases for the mayor and six trustees, as recommended in February by the local salaries study committee. The salary of each of the trustees serving on the board has been increased from $300 to $600 annually, and the mayor has received a pay raise from $750 to $1,400 annually. Very slight increases have also been noted in the Police Department. However, there have been no drastic raises, nothing beyond $100.

The board will answer any and all questions relating to the budget at the public hearing.

Estimated expenditures totaling $241,600 in the tentative budget, include the following.

Legislative expense $3,600 ($600 more than last year); judicial $1,800 ($100 more); executive $1,500 ($400 more); staff $19,025 ($1,000 less); public safety $60,350 ($1,950 more); streets and sanitation $97,300

Shippers Prepare For Legal Tussle On Burned Ship

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Shipping company representatives prepared for a complex legal tussle today when the hulk of the cruise ship Viking Princess docks at Kingston, Jamaica.

Four underwriters from Flagship Lines Agency, Inc., New York, operators of the Viking Princess, awaited the vessel's arrival in Jamaica.

The Liberian vessel Navigator ignored an order Monday to release its tow on the Viking Princess and warned an authorized salvage ship to stand clear.

The salvage ship, Cable, had been commissioned by the owners to collect the burned cruise ship. It followed the vessel and the Navigator from south of Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

The Navigator put a line aboard the Viking Princess Saturday while she still smouldered.

The $16-million vessel caught fire Friday morning between Cuba and Haiti while sailing to Miami. Two of the 496 persons aboard died of heart attacks. The others were rescued by vessels nearby.

Clean Water Best for Eye

Rubbing your eye when you get something in it can lead to added irritation. It is best to use clear, clean water to flush out the bothersome object. Also the old method of lifting the upper lid over the lower lid and letting tears wash the eye clean is still effective. Once home or at the office, use a soothing eye lotion.

President Stays For More Sun

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson apparently intends to enjoy more springtime sunshine at his LBJ Ranch while other members of the family resume their regular schedules.

Mrs. Johnson planned to return to Washington today for some long-scheduled activities Wednesday. Daughter Luci, 18, was returning to the capital, too, to resume her studies at Georgetown University School of Nursing. Luci's fiance, Patrick J. Nugent, was going back there to a job.

The President has given no hint of how long he might extend his Easter holiday visit to the ranch, some 65 miles north of San Antonio.

White House press headquarters here said Johnson spent much of Monday catching up with paperwork.

The President announced he had accepted recommendations from a task force, headed by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, on programs to keep young people busy and out of trouble this summer.

Most of these programs were developed last summer but Johnson said he wants them expanded.

The Humphrey group particularly urged another "Youth Opportunity Campaign" to promote summer hiring of young trainees by private employers and government.

Johnson also announced he will nominate Stanley H. Ruttenberg, former AFL-CIO research director, to be assistant secretary of lubor for manpower. Ruttenberg, 49, now is manpower administrator for the Labor Department.

U. S. Officials Observed Riding Out Viet Upheaval

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Frustrated American officials see little they can do about the political violence in South Viet Nam except to ride out the storm and hope for the best.

Some talk has cropped up here, attributed to angry military men who want to get on with the war, that if order cannot be restored soon by quarreling political factions, then the United States will be faced with a choice betwen taking control of the political situation or pulling out of the country.

Deny Extremes

State and Defense Department authorities deny emphatically that any such extreme courses are under consideration.

Behind the public posture of calm confidence, however, officials are deeply worried about the consequences of continued turmoil on military operations and on prolonging the Vietnamese war.

There is concern here about the anti-Americanism and complaints of war-weariness which emerge in the demonstrations and the possibilities for exploitation of trouble by Communist agents in the crisis centers.

But U.S. officials describe as heartening the fact that Buddhist and other powerful political forces in South Viet Nam are reported to be strongly anti-Communist.

Give Advice

U.S. policy on the political crisis is defined as one of giving advice but not trying to dictate or impose a solution.

Officials here apparently would like to see temporary continuation of the present ruling military directorate whether or not that included Premier Nguyen Cao Ky. The Johnson administration is closely identified with Ky as a result of President Johnson's meeting with him at Hawaii.

Until Monday, top U.S. officials were reporting that the political crisis, which began a month ago, was having no particular effect on the prosecution of the war against the Viet Cong.

Undersecretary of State George W. Ball said in a television interview Sunday that he would not regard South Viet Nam's internal trouble as "anything that needs to be deplored so long as it doesn't interfere with the conduct of the military operations."

Hit North Viet Nam

Monday the Defense Department confirmed reports from Saigon of what was called a temporary decline in bombing operations against the Viet Cong. Monday night, however, big Guam-based B52 bombers hit targets in North Viet Nam for the first time.

Other informants reported more generally that the political unrest was beginning to limit ground military operations. Presumably this meant that the number of South Vietnamese forces available for action against the Communists was being reduced to some degree by Ky's assignment of units to try to control civil strife.

The Communists, officials say, have been suffering severe military blows for many months now and in the U.S. view it is urgently important to maintain the pressure.

The objective of the military pressure is to break the Viet Cong will to fight by convincing the leaders and the rank and file that they cannot possibly win.

Believe in Victory

Conversely, as authorities here see the situation, the Communist forces and their North Vietnamese allies and supporters are sustained in continuing the struggle by the belief that they can win, their belief being based primarily on two political considerations.

One is that in spite of the great military strength which the United States has thrown into the war, South Viet Nam will be torn apart by its own political factions.

The other basis of the Communists' belief in eventual victory is said to be their view that the American people and government eventually will tire of the conflict and its political trials and will make peace on terms favorable to the Viet Cong and North Viet Nam.

Driver Suffers Cuts As Car Hits Tree

Dorothy M. Komosa, 19, of Colonial Gardens, suffered left knee cuts in a one-car accident about 7:30 Monday night at Tremper Avenue and Downs Street.

Patrolmen Otto Short and Thomas Childs said that she was attempting to back into a driveway at 68 Downs Streets when she accidentally stepped on the car accelerator, causing the vehicle to strike a tree.

Fire fighters from Engine 2 were summoned to wash down the area as a result of spilled gasoline from the car.

Boy Killed by Car

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Lewis Valone, 14, of suburban Gates was injured fatally Monday night when struck by an automobile while crossing a street after leaving a friend's home in Gates.

Police said he died shortly after arrival at St. Mary's Hospital here.

The accident happened on Wegman Road.

Has Set Ritual

Keeping Portly Elephant Content Is Huge Problem

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Diamond, the Knoxville Zoo's portly pachyderm, is one of the biggest elephants in North America and he has an appetite to match.

City officials here are fed up with his eating habits, his motor-oil baths and his surly disposition. They are ready to ship him off — to anywhere.

Move Under Way

But a move is under way to "Save ole Diamond," who was a gift from a circus.

If it were up to the city's children, Diamond, who stands 10 feet tall and weighs almost four tons, would remain here at any cost. Some older heads share their view and are willing to foot the bill for Diamond's room and board.

The controversy began Feb 21 when city officials heard it was costing $10,000 a year to feed and care for the elephant. Mayor Leonard Rogers said also that Diamond was dangerous.

"That elephant's mean because somebody's been messing with him," countered a third-grader. "And you know how elephants are — they never forget."

Offer Suggestions

Several children offered suggestions to solve the problem.

"Why don't they paint his house with pictures of trees and stuff like in the jungle?" asked one youngster. "Then he would feel more at home and wouldn't try to get out."

The Knoxville Journal has contributed $1,000 toward the $35,000 goal of the "Save ole Diamond" movement.

"The only thing he won't eat is lemons," said keeper Frank Huskey, after dumping a bale or two of hay, a crate or two of lettuce, yams, grapefruit and broccoli, along with some horse food, in front of Diamond.

Diamond needs a warm, soapy bath every three weeks and, during hot weather, needs to be splashed with cold water twice daily. Then, after his bath, Diamond gets an oil rubdown.

"That's when he is happiest — when thin motor oil is soaking his dry, inch-thick, wrinkled hide," said Huskey.

Interest Upped

Second Hike Is Made for FHA, GI Home Loans

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a move designed to attract more money to the field, the government has raised the interest rate on new FHA and GI home loans from 5½ to 5¾ per cent.

It was the second boost in interest rates on such mortgages in little more than two months. It will mean increased monthly payments on new mortgages — about $3 additional each month on a $15,000 mortgage.

Would Lower Charge

But its main effect is expected to be a lowering of the charge which must be paid to obtain a mortgage. In some areas this charge — called points — now runs as high as 6 or 7 per cent of the total value of a mortgage.

Monday's announcement of increased interest rates on mortgages insured by the Federal Housing Administration or guaranteed by the Veterans Administration represented a further sign of tight money. Unaffected are the estimated 6 million outstanding FHA and VA mortgages which will continue to bear interest at the agreed upon rate.

One critic of high interest rates, Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., chairman of the House Banking Committee, said the FHA and VA "had to do it to be competitive."

The real cause, Patman said, is the Federal Reserve Board's action last December increasing the discount rate from 4 to 4 ½ per cent. This is the amount paid by banks to borrow from the Federal Reserve.

Home builders and mortgage bankers had urged the Johnson administration in January to boost FHA interest rates to 5 ¾ per cent but FHA went only to 5 ½ per cent Feb. 7. VA followed March 3 with a similar boost from 5 ¼ to 5 ½ per cent.

For FHA mortgages, the full borrowing cost will now be 6 ¼ per cent including the one-half of 1 per cent charged for FHA insurance. No similar charge is made on VA mortgages.

FHA also announced an increase from 5 ¼ to 5 ½ per cent in interest rates on some mortgages insured under its multi-family building programs. The increase does not apply to programs in which the maximum rate is fixed by law.

Robert C. Weaver, secretary of housing and urban development, cited a shortage of mortgage money, and William J. Driver, VA administrator, said it has become virtually impossible for veterans to obtain GI home loans in many parts of the country.

A spokesman for the Mortgage Bankers Association of America said initial charges should be lowered by as much as two points. This would mean a saving of $300 on a $15,000 mortgage.

The new rate is the highest ever for a VA loan. The FHA rate was 5 ¾ per cent from Sept. 23, 1959, to Feb. 2, 1961.

FESTIVE FINERY — It's a far cry from the fashions of her native Copenhagen for Queen Anne Marie of Greece, who donned the local finery while in the Greek province of Epirus for a state ceremony. The Danish-born queen attended religious services celebrating the anniversary of the city of Ionnina's liberation from Turkish rule.

May Power Everything

Fuel cells are in use in space now but some day they may power everything from rockets to the family television set. The cells convert fuel and oxygen directly into electricity. The nice part is that theoretically any fuel will do: ammonia, alcohol, sawdust, decaying leaves, or even rotten coconuts.

Voiceprint Use Accepted First Time in Court

By RONALD L. DEUTSCH

NEW YORK (AP) — A revolutionary device called the voiceprint that its inventor says may some day rival the fingerprint as a method of criminal identification has been accepted as evidence in a perjury case.

The inventor, Lawrence G. Kersta, 58, a physicist, appears today in Westchester County Court to demonstrate how the voiceprint works.

Ruled Favorably

Judge Robert Dempsey ruled Monday that the new form of identification could be used by the state in the case of a suspended policeman from New Rochelle charged with perjury.

It would be the first time that the device would be introduced as evidence in court although some police departments are known to be experimenting with it.

Kersta, a former employe of Bell Telephone Laboratories, Inc., has developed an electronic method of converting the voice into weird-looking picture displays known as spectographs. These measure the physical characteristics of a voice, each of which is unique, Kersta says.

"You might call it a fingerprint of a voice," the physicist said in an interview. "Right now voice prints are where fingerprints were 60 years ago, but they could easily become as valuable to police as fingerprints."

Words Echoed

Kersta's words were echoed by Samuel Dash, a law expert from Washington, D.C.

"What we've got now is a whole new issue of law," Dash said. "Maybe we'll keep files of voiceprints — and just think of their value in kidnapping or extortion cases."

Kersta believes the voiceprint represents a milestone in criminology that could easily help police track down suspects in cases involving the use of telephones. He says he has supervised the production of 50,000 voiceprints with 97 per cent accuracy.

Better Than Air

Discover Neon Gas Superior For Underwater

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Neon gas, the same stuff that lights the signs, looks like a new and superior breathing gas for divers in man's intensifying attempts to tap the secrets and natural treasures of the ocean bottom, it was reported today.

Test-divers who recited Lincoln's Gettysburg address at a simulated depth of 650 feet have helped demonstrate the seeming superiority of neon over both ordinary air and helium as the life-support gas of deep sea explorers, a scientist said. Both gases are mixed with oxygen for breathing.

Given in Report

Dr. Heinz R. Schreiner of Ocean Systems, Inc., of Tonawanda, N.Y., the largest diving firm in the Western Hemisphere, told about it in a report prepared for the 50th convention of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology. The science meeting is one of the world's biggest, with 20,000 researchers expected.

Dr. Schreiner described tests of the gas in a manned laboratory chamber "submerged" to depths equivalent to those at the limits of the continental shelf. He said they indicated:

1. Neon appears free of the dangerous narcotic effect which ordinary air can have on divers, due to air's nitrogen content — an insidious effect sometimes called "rapture of the depths."

"Nitrogen narcosis in a diver," the scientist said, "can and frequently does have serious and sometimes deadly consequences. It is characterized by euphoria, abdication of responsibility, confusion, and other abnormalities seen in individuals under the influence of alcohol.

Cite Martini Law

"In fact, the parallel is so striking that veteran divers speak only half-jokingly of 'martini's law,' which holds that the effect of every 50 feet of descent into the sea while breathing air has the same effect as one dry martini taken on an empty stomach."

2. In an atmosphere consisting essentially of neon gas, the speech of divers is much more intelligible to their mates on the ocean bottom — and the listeners above — than it is in an atmosphere of helium.

Arrest Island Man On Hunting Charge

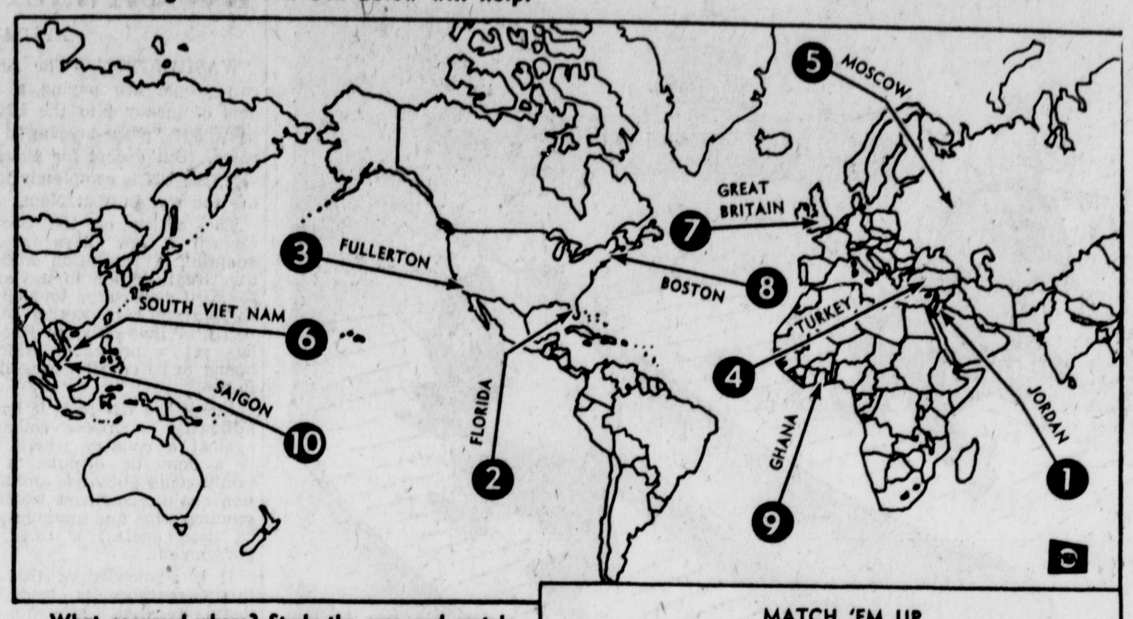

Christopher Rafferty, 53, of Bethpage, L. I., was arrested Monday on a warrant charging him with a Conservation Law violation. It is alleged that Rafferty back during the hunting season in 1964 was hunting on posted lands when he was apprehended by a caretaker.

He was charged with hunting on posted lands in a warrant sworn out before Justice of the Peace Rudolph Baumgarten of Town of Woodstock.

On being arraigned Monday before Justice Baumgarten the case was adjourned to April 22 at 8:30 p. m. Bail was set at $50.

Lindsay's Mind Unchanged; Says New Tax Needed

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor John V. Lindsay feels the same about his plans to impose an income tax on commuters today as he did Monday before he met with suburban congressmen opposed to the tax.

The congressmen failed to persuade the mayor to change his mind and Lindsay apparently did not convince them the tax was necessary and fair during a 50-minute meeting in city hall.

One congressman left threatening retaliatory taxes on city residents using suburban recreational areas. The congressmen were from New Jersey, Connecticut and suburban New York districts.

Meanwhile, former Mayor Robert F. Wagner said Lindsay has been too anxious in pushing his tax program.

"If Lindsay had waited two weeks more," in his proposal for a 50 per cent increase in the stock transfer tax, Wagner said, the New York Stock Exchange "would have committed itself to an 81 million building expansion."

Wagner made the remark at Yale University, his alma mater, where he plans to stay for a week.

To Build 2 Big Power Plants in Southwest Area

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — The way has been cleared for construction of two giant steam generating plants in the Southwest, the first stage in development of the largest regional electric power program in history.

Under an agreement announced Monday night between the Interior Department and a group of electric utilities, one of the 1½ million-kilowatt steam generating plants will be near Farmington, N.M., and the other below Lake Mohave and Davis Dam in the southern tip of Nevada.

To Supply 9 States

Besides supplies of adequate dependable power for a nine-state area, the program also will mean a big economic boost for depressed areas in which the plants are to be constructed. The New Mexico plant has been described by officials of the sprawling Navajo reservation as more beneficial to the tribe's economy than any single activity in history.

Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall announced in Washington the agreement with Western Energy Supply and Transmission Associates — WEST, a group of 21 private and public electric utilities. Formed in 1964 to plan for future electrical needs, WEST by 1985 plans to have three times the generating capacity of Tennessee Valley Authority and 18 times that of Grand Coulee Dam.

The agreement covers water contracts, sites, rights-of-way and Indian-owned coal. Measures are spelled out to abate air and water pollution at the plants.

Way Is Cleared

"This clears the way for all WEST President D. W. Reeves of Albuquerque, chief executive of Public Service Company of New Mexico. "In other words we can proceed now with the construction."

The plant near Farmington will serve Southern California, Arizona, southwest Texas and New Mexico. The one at Mohave, managed by the Southern California Edison Co., will service a similar region. More than 1,800 miles of transmission lines will be constructed.

To the 105,000 members of the Navajo tribe, largest Indian tribe in the country, the Farmington plant will mean many new jobs, more than twice the royalties from the tribe's vast coal reserves and even electricity on a preferred basis.

O'Connor Denies Kickback Charge In DA's Office

NEW YORK (AP) — City Council President Frank D. O'Connor has angrily denied exerting any political pressures or demanding kickbacks during his year tenure as Queens district attorney.

"I am angry. I am shocked. I am dismayed. But these words can't begin to express my feelings," O'Connor said Monday over the telephone from his Bermuda vacation retreat. His remarks were made public by his Manhattan office.

Announces Probe

Current Queens Dist. Atty. Nat Hentel said Sunday he was investigating the possibility that some people employed by O'Connor, while he was district attorney, may have made political contributions in exchange for their jobs. He made the statement on the WNBC-TV program "Searchlight."

"I have never directly or indirectly sold D.A. jobs or any other jobs," O'Connor said. "I have not directly or indirectly forced or even solicited political contributions from anyone in the Queens district attorney's office."

O'Connor, a Democrat, was district attorney until last Jan. 1.

Called GOP Plot

Meanwhile, State Senator Thomas J. Mackell, Queens-D, attacked the investigation as a "Republican plot" to hurt Mr. O'Connor's possible gubernatorial chances. Mackell has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Queens district attorney.

Hentel, appointed by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller after O'Connor resigned to become council president, is up for election this fall.

Dispute Recital By Billie Sol

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Billie Sol Estes faces cross-examination today over statements that loan companies, plus scores of individuals, had plotted with him to deal in worthless mortgages involving millions.

Estes, onetime whiz kid of farm finance, spieled off one name after another Monday of firms and people he accused of agreeing secretly to such transactions.

Almost before court recessed for the evening, spokesmen for a number of finance corporations disputed Estes' recital.

He finished direct testimony just before the end of the first day of a hearing on his motion for a new trial, leaving cross-examination by government counsel for today.

Taking the stand for only the second time in three criminal trials, the West Texas promoter broke four years of silence on transactions in mortgages on mythical fertilizer tanks, in an effort to win release from the Leavenworth, Kan., federal prison.

He has served about 15 months of a 15-year term for mail fraud and conspiracy.

Estes, now 41 and almost skinny in contrast to his former plumpness, was brought here under guard to appear before U.S. Dist. Judge Leo Brewster.

Estes and his lawyers contend his mail fraud and conspiracy conviction should be wiped out because, they say, a government witness lied at Estes' trial here three years ago, and also that knowledge of all parties that there were no fertilizer tanks to secure mortgages on hundreds of them made fraud impossible.

Greets FDR Jr.

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The feeble, white-haired Negro woman grasped the hand of Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., whose smile and profile are reminiscent of his famous father's and said, "Oh, darlying boy."

"Lizzie, I hope these flowers will brighten your Easter holidays," said Roosevelt, handing Mrs. Irvin M. McDuffie, 85, a bouquet of red, white and blue carnations.

Roosevelt, 51, chairman of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, stopped briefly in Atlanta to address the Rotary Club and to pay a nostalgic visit to Mrs. McDuffie, who was maid and nursemaid for many years to the Roosevelt family.

He and his blonde wife, Suzanne, were enroute to Warm Springs, Ga., for ceremonies today marking the 21st anniversary of the death of President Roosevelt.

The elderly Negro woman, who has difficulty seeing, was obviously moved by Roosevelt's visit Monday. She sat in a rocker in a bare but spotlessly clean pink-walled room in a nursing home.

Mrs. McDuffie's husband was the former president's valet for 12 years.

Morse Says LBJ Trying to Deride Solons on Viet

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., a leading critic of the administration's Viet Nam policy, says President Johnson is trying "to deride and belittle those in Congress who seek peaceful solutions in Asia."

Addressing a rally sponsored by the Foreign Policy Council of New York Democrats Monday night, Morse said also that he believes the Johnson administration "can be checked only by a Congress willing to check it and that must be provided by the voters."

Morse was given an ovation by a crowd of about 5,000 at the rally at Manhattan Center. Shouts of "Morse for president" greeted the senator as the meeting started.

About 1,500 persons heard Morse's speech over a loudspeaker in another room at the center. Several hundred more listened on the street.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, APRIL 12, 1966

WAR HERO AS CANDIDATE

Since 1928 the Republicans have won only two presidential elections. Both times their candidate was a military hero, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Thus it is natural that, after the defeats of 1960 and 1964, some Republicans are thinking fondly of the military hero formula. They are asking themselves, in effect: Since only a general has won for us, is there another general available?

The trouble with this notion, from the GOP standpoint, is that no general with anything approaching Ike's post-World War II fame is on the horizon. Gen. William C. Westmoreland, our commander in Vietnam, has been suggested. He is said to have an agreeable personality of the type that wins voters. But the objections to Westmoreland as a candidate are obvious.

Eisenhower was well known, and had been commander-in-chief in a victorious war. Westmoreland is neither.

The Republicans can take some comfort in the fact that the army hero formula does not always work, anyway. Its success depends on circumstances. For illustration of this, consider the experience of the Whig party more than a century ago. It gained its only victories when it nominated a general — William Henry Harrison in 1840 and Zachary Taylor in 1848.

In 1852, when the party was petering out, it tried to arrest the process by nominating the most famous general of the time, Winfield Scott. The formula did not work that time. Scott carried only four states, and the Whigs gave up the ghost. This bit of history has no direct bearing on the proposal to run General Westmoreland, but it is something for hero-hungry Republicans to think about.

FLYING DINNERPLATES

Servicemen traditionally gripe about the chow Uncle Sam feeds them. They ought to give a thought to the astronauts who may one day have to live on rocket fuel, if one space scientist's idea works out.

It's not as bad as it sounds, though. According to J. Reece Roth, of NASA's Lewis Research Center in Cleveland, interplanetary crews would dine on meals of "steaks, frozen vegetables, pastries and desserts" which, when metabolized, could serve as fuel for electric engines.

It's a feasible idea, he says, because in theory electric, or ion, engines can be built to run on anything. Their operating principle involves ionizing atoms or molecules of some propellant and accelerating them to high velocities.

There are, says Roth, two other possible methods.

1. Take along enough food, oxygen, water and fuel in the first place. But this is prohibitively massive on any long interplanetary flight.

2. Use a partially closed ecological system in which carbon dioxide and other metabolic waste are processed and reused by the crew. But the equipment needed to sustain this cycle is about as massive as a one-month supply of food, water and oxygen.

In his "feed-the-fuel-to-the-c r e w-first" system, some or all of the propellant, in the form of food, water and oxygen, would be eaten by the crew and metabolized into carbon dioxide, water and solid wastes. The first two could then be used as propellant while the solid residues were discarded.

Evidently, instead of eat and run it would be eat and z-o-o-m!"

HOW LONG WILL IT WAVE?

Did you ever think you'd see the day when the American flag would have to be protected from Americans?

Or an enemy flag would be openly and proudly displayed by curious characters who at least profess to be Americans?

Well, the day is here.

How do you like it?

And why are we so strangely tolerant of it?

Do we really believe that ANY American—regardless of race, nationality, creed, color or motive—has the right to tear down or tear up Old Glory?

Do we really believe that ANY American—regardless of personal views or convictions—has the right to choose the Viet Cong flag over the Stars and Stripes?

Such acts of near-treason cannot be excused or condoned on the basis of any cause or any ideology, no matter how just or how sincere.

It is tragic and outrageous for one American to defile and sneer at his country's flag at the very moment another American is dying to defend it.

Is this the freedom we are fighting for?

Navy detection of unidentified submarines has doubled. It's frustrating: No one knows for sure whether detection is better or there are just more subs.

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

REFLECTIONS OF A RETURNED TRAVELER

Two weeks spent in a foreign land certainly help to sharpen one's perspectives on the way the world is going. The perspectives, it need hardly be mentioned, offer almost limitless opportunities for ironical reflection.

There is this matter of one-party government, for example. If you go by the standard political science texts, rule by a single party must lead to arbitrary government, the suppression of civil liberties, and a difficulty about changing leaders in an orderly way. The generalization holds if you consult the history of Peron's Argentine, or Trujillo's Dominican Republic, or Mao Tse-tung's China, or Kadar's Hungary, or Soviet Russia itself. But the history of single party rule in Mexico since 1940, and even before, belies all the generalities.

Looking under the surface of Mexican politics, one shortly discovers that a dominant party can contain sub-parties which thrash things out to arrive at a consensus without shooting anybody. Thus the Mexican Party of Revolutionary Institutions — which, with due apology to the Daughters of the American Revolution, might more properly be called the Party of No More Mexican Revolutions — must consult at least four "estates" before formulating its policies. The four estates are, respectively, the farm organizations, the labor unions, the bureaucracy, and the "popular" estate, which represents the rising middle classes. Significantly enough, the army has been absorbed into the popular estate.

What emerges from this line-up is a phenomenon that should be perfectly familiar to U. S. citizens. It is nothing more nor less than government by pressure groups. The Mexican Executive can manipulate the pressure groups to a degree, but he must bow to the strongest combination. At the moment, the "popular," or middle-class, estate is the all-important "swing group" in Mexican politics. So the policies favor the development of a middle-class country, with a strongly nationalist flavor.

As for the presidency itself, the Mexicans have found a way of handling the succession without bloodshed. A president is limited to a single six-year term. He normally picks his own successor, but he does this only after consultation with the groups that have established the dominant consensus. The individual president is, of course, an extremely important figure in Mexican life and politics. But he is important primarily because he represents an institution. A Mexican Peron, or Khrushchev, or de Gaulle, is, under present circumstances, an impossibility. Rule by personality, or charisma, is out.

Contemplation of the Mexican scene leads inevitably to ruminations about the chances in the modern world for an enlightened conservatism. No purely bourgeois party could do the things for private business development in Mexico that the so-called "revolutionary" party succeeds in doing. A separate bourgeois party would find itself hopelessly embroiled with a labor party. But, by maneuvering within the single party to affect final policy, the Mexican middle classes manage to get their way as long as they can prove that their enterprises will give relatively full employment to members of the labor unions.

By extension, modern Mexican politics may explain a good deal that has been happening in Britain and in the United States. In Britain they still have two important political parties. But Harold Wilson's Labor Party which has just won an impressive victory, owes its opportunities to middle class elements which expect it to move in fairly circumspect paths. The British Labor Party, like the Mexican Party of Revolutionary Institutions, is a "consensus" party which must respect the opinions of labor, the middle classes and the bureaucrats.

As for the Democratic Party of Lyndon Johnson, need we say anything? Though he might piously say he is for a two-party system, Johnson must privately regard the Mexican Party of Revolutionary Institutions as his beau ideal. Making due allowance, of course, for the Mexican party's way of handling the presidential succession, which LBJ might like in theory but never in practice.

Q—I have coronary insufficiency with attacks of angina pectoris. I take nitroglycerin and paratrate for the pain. Would it be better to switch to digitalis and stop the paratrate?

A—Nitroglycerin and pentaerytritol tetranitrate (Peritrate) are both given to dilate the coronary arteries. Digitalis is given to strengthen the heart beat, chiefly in persons with a severely leaking heart valve. You should follow your doctor's instructions because digitalis is of no value in the treatment of coronary heart disease.

Q—I have an abnormality of the left ventricle. Is this some kind of heart disease? What would cause it? Can it be cured by surgery or relieved by drugs?

A—The heart has four chambers (two auricles and two ventricles). The left ventricle is by far the largest and has the thickest wall. From this chamber blood is pumped to every part of your body except your lungs. Defects may be present from birth or may be the result of an infection such as rheumatic fever. With modern surgical methods most of these defects can now be corrected. Drugs may be used to improve heart function but will not cure the condition.

Q—How serious is endocarditis? How is it caused?

A—Endocarditis is caused by a bacterial invasion of the inner lining of the heart. This may be caused by various germs but most commonly by streptococci. Before the advent of antibiotics it was always fatal. Even with antibiotics only about 70 per cent of the vitcims can be saved.

Q—What is hypertensive cardiovascular disease? Is it very serious? What is the best treatment for it?

A—This is heart disease secondary to a very high blood pressure. Such a blood pressure puts a severe burden on the heart. It is a gradual process but it will lead to death if not promptly and skillfully treated. The treatment consists primarily in controlling the blood pressure.

Q—I have emphysema. Last November I had the removal of the carotid body sometimes recommended for this condition. I am still shortwinded. I've heard that vanillic diethylamide will give prompt relief. What do you think?

A—This drug, known as ethamivan, must be given by injection into the vein. The rate of injectiong must be very slow to prevent such side effects as coughing, sneezing, muscular twitching and generalized itching. The greatest disadvantage, however, is that the beneficial effect wears off in a short time. In spite of the advances made in the treatment of this troublesome disease there is still no real cure.

The Race Against Inflation

SAN JOSE, COSTA RICA (NEA) — Costa Rica, a small but very bright showpiece of democracy and social progress in Latin America, is living beyond its means. And up to now its political leaders have not grappled with hard fiscal realities.

Americans, weary or hearing so many areas of the world set down as trouble spots for which they must bear some responsibility, can be pleased to know that Costa Rica is a place of real promise. Tiny though it is (Vermont and New Hampshire combined), it seems to suggest hope for the rest of Central and South America.

How sad, then to have to report that this cheerful, friendly country is about to run up its tenth straight annual budget deficit, and that neither the outgoing nor the incoming (May 8) government seems willing to attack this problem with new taxes.

Many economic indicators suggest, deceptively, that things were never better for the 1.5 million Costa Ricans. Dazzled by these surface impressions, some Costa Rican officials do not see the peril in the lengthening trail of deficits. Says one:

"This must be only a sort of bookkeeping problem, isn't it?"

The answer is no. Costa Rica is $30 million to $40 million in the hole on short term loans from American and a few West German banks. Some day soon these banks may entertain second thoughts. Right now they keep the government in daily operating funds.

THE BASIC SOURCE of the trouble is Costa Rica's incredible population growth, and its consequences in education, health, housing and other expenditures.

With a current annual increase of some 4.2 per cent (some officials like to play it down to 3.8), this nation has the world's fastest growing population. Today, 50 per cent of the people are under 16 years of age.

Soundly bent on educating its young, the government spends 33 per cent of its budget on schooling. This proportion likely will rise further as the boom in young people continues.

Health outlays, a cornerstone in the Costa Rican welfare state, consumes another 11 per cent of the budget.

These and other services are regarded by outsiders as an admirable model for those many Latin lands which have not yet achieved really significant social advances for the general population.

Yet they weight the government down. It is kept going by the foreign commercial banks and otherwise assisted by an amazing volume of foreign investment, public and private.

Last year this assistance for Costa Rica totaled $50 million. If Brazil, with 80 million people, got proportionate help it would have received $3.8 billion in 1965. Actually, that is more than was put into all Latin America.

These various money aids, plus favorable foreign market conditions, account in large part for the bright impressions in Costa Rica.

COFFEE EXPORTS, half the country's outgo in trade, are up to designated quota now after suffering from a two-year p[our] of "black snow" from erupting volcano, Irazu. The market for bananas, another big item here, is good.

Costa Rica's trade with the Central American Common Marke is up 20 per cent. Industry, lured by tax and customs concessions, is beginning to come in from the United States, Europe and Japan.

But, though foreign specialists see a growth prospect of perhaps 10 per cent, actual economic advances barely keeps up with the vaulting population increase. Needed diversity and expansion in food output comes slowly.

Like politicians the world over, Costa Rica's leaders, including incoming President Jose J. Trejos Fernandez, do not like to face the financial music. Yet if they do not offer good growth and tax policies, their country's bright promise may be badly tarnished before many years have passed.

Superficial Excuses Given By U.N. for No Viet Action

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The American people are paying a good deal of money into the UN for so-called "peace-keeping" purposes. But except for pious advice, the UN is completely ignoring the war in Viet Nam.

The action of the Security Council a few days ago in adopting a resolution authorizing Great Britain to use armed force, if necessary, to stop any ships from transporting oil directly or indirectly, to Rhodesia has set a precedent which is bound to be embarrassing in the future.

For if the UN feels it has the authority to impose embargoes against a country where there is a domestic dispute, it certainly could authorize smilar action against countries which are sending arms and ammunition to be used against a constituted government.

It is acknowledged that military assistance is being rendered by Red China to rebel forces in Viet Nam, and that war supplies are going in the ships of various nations to ports in North Viet Nam.

The excuses being made by the UN for acting in the case of Rhodesia and refraining in the case of Viet Nam are superficial. The Secretary General said in January:

"I felt very strongly, and I still feel very strongly, that if realistic discussions are to take place, there must be participation in them by, among others, those who are actually fighting. . . .

"I felt, and I still feel, that at least at this stage the UN cannot be involved in the Viet Nam conflict."

But the UN is supposed to be concerned with the preservation of peace and with the adoption of measures that will lead to peace discussions. Certainly, to pass a resolution which authorizes military force against shipping destined for Rhodesia is a for more serious step by the Security Council of the UN than authorization of a commission to initiate a peace conference in Viet Nam would be.

The French representative at the Security Council took the position that the Rhodesian affair is strictly internal and implied that only if there were a threat to international peace would intervention be justified. United States Ambassador Goldberg defended the resolution, declaring that to impose legal sanctions to halt and search merchantmen on the high seas was a major step for any trading nation to take in war time. He implied that the conflict between Great Britain and the rebel government in Rhodesia has a direct relationship to international peace. The French dispute this view.

But so far as Viet Nam is concerned, there are no such legal doubts. The war there involves Southeast Asia nations as well as the U.S. This country has sent an army of more than 235,000 men to South Viet Nam. And military forces, though in smaller numbers, from other countries are engaged in the fighting there. Not only is a war going on, but a threat to the peace of a continent is evident. Yet the UN does nothing about it.

The big question is how long public confidence can or will be reposed in the UN when it deliberately avoids taking any steps to end the war in Viet Nam.

This is in contrast to the action the UN took in 1950 when the North Korean armies invaded the South Korean Republic, and many hundreds of thousands of Red Chinese troops moved toward the borders of Korea. At that time, a UN force was organized, and an American general was put in command. The UN not only authorized the whole military operation, but adopted a resolution condemning Red China as an aggressor nation.

Many people have hoped that the UN would provide a forum for the discussion of international questions, and that it could also bring together peace-keeping forces which would be able to intervene in situations like that which has arisen in Viet Nam. The American people have been patient and have stuck by the UN notwithstanding its many frustrations.

There arises now, however, a question as to what good it is to this country to pay millions of dollars a year to the support of the UN when in a crisis such as exists in Viet Nam nothing is done either by the Security Council or by the General Assembly to authorize collective action by member nations under the auspices of the organization itself to secure peace.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Our Kingston Consolidated School System is growing in leaps and bounds, where it will stop not even the taxpayer knows, but I feel suddenly, perhaps through TV instructions or other methods, the system will change entirely. I wonder how many readers read about a resolution passed by the Board, which can be read in full on page 16 of The Freeman, of Wednesday evening, April 6, 1966. It was to inform all non-teaching members of the "professional staff and all secretarial-clerical employes of the school district that they are expected to report for a full day's duty at the building or office to which they are assigned on days when schools are closed because of inclement weather. The only legitimate excuse for absence by members of the two categories shall be illness or road conditions which make it impossible or excessively dangerous to travel."

The above makes interesting reading, when one thinks back to Washington's birthday which came out on Tuesday, Feb. 22, 1966, so the school system had the Monday before it off and the Saturday and Sunday also, of course, and the following Saturday and Sunday, and had a "snow-day" between on Friday on which they say 14 inches of snow fell. Out of nine days, children were in class rooms only two days, Feb. 23 and 24. Out of 10 days only three days children were in school. I wonder if the office help had that many days off. I notice by telephoning for information to the school system during the long Easter vacation, the staff of clerical workers, and a custodian I spoke to, are there. All those except the school teachers better get themselves snow-shoes for "snow-days" as they call them for the coming winter of 1966-67.

The New York Herald Tribune of Tuesday, Feb. 22, 1966 tells about the death, at 82 of Dard Hunter, one of the world's foremost authorities on papermaking and printing. He had traveled in many countries to trace the history and methods of papermaking. He was a native of Steubenville, Ohio, and was a dropout from high school but liked to draw, perhaps the teachers did not understand him. He entered the graphic arts field in East Auroro, N. Y. as a designer of books and advertisements. Later he was to study in Vienna, at the world's top graphic arts school and practiced in graphic arts in London. Perhaps if he had finished high school, he might have been a successful little cog in some office.

It so happens that when he returned to this country he bought a small farm in Ulster County, at Marlboro-on-Hudson and established a shop for making of paper by hand, and casting type. He got a hand press and began producing books on very fine paper. First he printed books written by others, then in 1915 this high school dropout produced a book on the history of printing, entirely by himself, written from his own experiences. His editions sold for as much as $175 each and soon doubled and tripled in value. Some of his titles were: "The Etching of Figures," "Papermaking in Pioneer America," and "Papermaking by Hand in India."

In 1919 he moved to Chillecothe to continue this one-man operation all his life. In 1939 he established the Dard Hunter Paper Museum in Cambridge, Mass., which was moved in 1954 to the Institute of Paper Chemistry at Appleton, Wisc. In 1937 he established a papermaking school in Madras, India.

In 1950 this high school dropout was made honorary curator of graphic arts at Harvard University, and consulted by historians and lawyers in matters in which age, type or origin of paper was important.

DO YOU TAKE VITAMINS AND STILL FEEL TIRED?

Here's How To Feel Stronger Fast

Have you been feeling tired and rundown lately? And do you take vitamins yet still feel tired? If so, your trouble may be due to iron-poor, tired blood. Vitamins alone can't build up iron-poor blood. But GERITOL can! That's because just 2 GERITOL tablets, or 2 tablespoons of GERITOL liquid contain 7 vitamins plus twice the blood-building iron in a whole pound of calf's liver.

In only one day GERITOL iron is in your bloodstream carrying strength and energy to every part of your body. Check with your doctor, and if iron-poor blood is making you feel tired, take GERITOL, liquid or tablets, every day. Feel stronger fast—in 7 days—or money back from GERITOL.

BARGE FIRE AFTERMATH — Thin clouds of smoke rise from ruins of some dozen deserted barges on south shore of Rondout Creek near Connelly, leaving an even uglier scar on what was considered an eyesore. Fire fizzled out over Easter weekend after continuous burning that started a week ago. Fire officials said that fire was of incendiary origin and was probably set by youngsters who used abandoned craft for fishing in creek. Roger Mabie, Town of Esopus supervisor, told The Freeman that he plans to contact Army Corps of Engineers and Coast Guard to determine what, if anything, can be done with unclaimed barges. He said that neither he or Connelly Fire Chief Frank Giles has been advised by either Army Corps or Coast Guard, although they were notified shortly after blaze broke out.

Still Await Word On Oil Cargoes

LONDON (AP) — One Greek tanker arrived at the South African port of Durban today and another sat at an unloading dock in the Mozambique port of Beira. It still was not known whether their oil cargoes would go to Rhodesia.

The tanker Manuela, carrying 12,000 tons of oil, entered the Durban port area after picking up a pilot and lay off the docks awaiting space to berth. The Manuela went on to Durban after the British frigate Berwick intercepted the Greek-registered ship when it seemed headed for Portuguese-held Beria, which has an oil pipeline to rebellious Rhodesia.

The British diverted the Manuela Sunday after a U.N. Security Council resolution authorized Britain to intercept tankers believed carrying oil for the white minority regime of Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith.

Smith told a reporter in Salisbury the council action "seems a bit of a joke."

"It seems very surprising to me that a so-called peace-making body can make such a decision," he said.

The South African government, which sympathizes with Smith's aims and racial policies, has been allowing private companies to ship sufficient oil overland to supply Rhodesia's essential needs.

Mummy Tissues Permit Copy of Gene Patterns

LOS ANGELES (AP) — When ancient Egyptians mummified their pharaohs thousands of years ago, they did so in the belief that the dead would be reincarnated in all their splendor at some future time.

That time, says a university zoologist, is no more than a century or two away.

But the process will be reconstitution instead of reincarnation, Prof. Elof Carlson told a group of fellow scientists Monday. The actual dead will not be brought back to life, but in their place will be grown physical copies of men and women who once lived, he said.

The copies will have all of the genius possessed by their predecessors, except for their memories and emotions.

Carlson, a zoologist at the University of Calixornia at Los Angeles, said the process will be routine within a century or two because of the study of genetic codes or gene patterns. These codes or patterns, preservd in the dried tissue of mummified bodies, could be copied and placed in fertilized egg cells.

"For example, once the genetic code of a great genius is determined, hundreds of thousands of his duplicates can be created for the world's benefit. If Mozart's body had been mummified, thousands of Mozarts could be reconstituted," Dr. Carlson said.

"We some day could be able to reconstitute Joan of Arc — except that she was burned. As an example, we certainly will be able to reconstruct King Tutankhamen from his Egyptian mummy."

Carlson said he is confident that nucleic acid crystals necessary to identify the mummy's genetic code will be found. He noted that other proteins discovered in such tissue have made it possible for scientists to type the blood of Egyptians who have been dead for tens of centuries.

The Mature Parent

Stimulating a Child

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: Though our two granddaughters are both excellent readers, their 7-year-old brother reads so poorly that I recently started paying him dimes for every story he reads out loud to me. I already see an improvement in his reading interest. He now scans my shelf of children's books before he chooses one where he used to pick the thinnest one he could find: However, his grandfather says I may be doing the wrong thing. What do you think?

ANSWER: I think what you are doing is splendid.

I expect that your husband objects to it because he regards your paying of dimes to the boy as "bribery." Well, if we follow that view to its logical end, we'd also have to see "bribery" in farmers' fertilizing the roots of young trees, wouldn't we? Because the farmer uses the fertilizer for exactly the same purpose you're using dimes — to stimulate growth.

Somewhere I've previously remarked that "bribery" is the purchase of wrong action from somebody else. So I can see no bribery at all in what you're doing, inasmuch as reading you stories isn't immoral action by your grandson. All I can see is a concerned and resourceful grandmother's use of a child's interest in the dimes which buy 10-cent toys and ice cream to fertilize and enlarge that interest to include interest in reading. That's nourishment to me, not bribery.

Of course, the dimes aren't the real fertilizer. The real one is your pleasure in the stories your grandson reads to you. Your pleasure in them has stimulated his pleasure in them so that he's begun to enjoy himself, not just as a giver of delight to you but a giver of delight to himself. That's why he now selects the stories you share more carefully. He wants to increase this mutual delight you both find in them by choosing the most promising stories he can find.

Readers of this column don't really have to write to me to ask me if some action they are taking toward a child is "wrong" or "right."

You yourselves can judge the worth of actions you take toward children by the spirit they express. This is the standard of judgment Jesus gave us when he said: "It is the spirit that quickeneth: the flesh profiteth nothing." Among other things, Jesus was a poet and talked in symbolic language. If, understanding him as a poet, we ponde. this wonderful statement, we can find ourselves substituting the word "expression" for the word "flesh"—and so arrive at the real meaning:

"It is the spirit that matters: its expression in action matters not one bit."

Happy Over Prospect Of 3rd Pa. Session

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—House Majority Leader Joshua Eilberg, D-Philadelphia, says he is delighted at the prospect Gov. Scranton may call a third special session of the legislature.

A. James Reichley, Scranton's chief legislative aide, said over the weekend Scranton is considering calling another extraordinary session within three weeks.

The session, Reichley said, would include such topics as state-related status for the University of Pittsburgh; highway beautification; a comprehensive mental health program; and, possibly, additional milk control legislation.

Set Cornerstone Rites Saturday

FRANK C. STAPLES

Ulster Lodge 193, Saugerties, will have a cornerstone laying for their new Masonic temple on Russell Street, Saugerties, Saturday, April 16, at 4 p. m., to which the public is invited

The ritualistic ceremony will be in charge of Frank C. Staples of Floral Park, state deputy grand master, who is president of the SuCrest Corporation. He will be assisted by the entire Grand Lodge Line from various parts of the State, as well as John A. Smith of Windham, district deputy grand master of the Greene-Ulster District, and past district deputies.

Staples is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, a Trustee of the Roosevelt Savings Bank of Brooklyn, and a member of the New York Coffee & Sugar Exchange. He is Past President of The Sugar Association, Inc., an international organization with a world-wide membership, the Sugar Research Foundation, a Trustee of The Nutrition Foundation, and is active in a number of other sugar organizations.

Officers of Ulster Lodge 193 are: Master, Herwig Sternberg of Woodstock; Senior Warden, Charles W. Steele, Saugerties; Junior Warden, Clifford W. Elliott, Woodstock; and Secretary, Horace F. Emerick, Saugerties.

GOP Club Meets Early in Switch

Town of Saugerties Republican Club will hold its April meeting Thursday instead of April 21, as originally scheduled. The change in date was necessitated due to a conflict with the Ulster County Republican dinner on the same evening.

This week's club meeting will be held at the Glasco Fire Hall. Mrs. Sally Brinnier, secretary, said that several new members had been welcomed at the March meeting of the organization, at which New York State Senator Lloyd A. Newcombe spoke on reapportionment. She said the club is hopeful more local residents will join the organization at the April meeting. All meetings are open to interested Republicans and all are cordially invited to attend and hear the interesting speakers, who are slated for each session.

The local club has also set up a new committee, headed by Ben Rinaldi, to contact all new residents of the area. Plans call for setting up a central station where names of families moving into the area will be listed. The club will offer its help to local committeemen in contacting all new people. Rinaldi, who said the project is the responsibility of everyone, observed that new Republicans should be contacted by the club—not the other way around. James Luther is serving with Rinaldi on this project.

Jayncees Slate Dancing Recital

Saugerties Jayncees met recently at the Saugerties Savings Bank; welcomed Janice Martin and Elaine Catudal as new members. The two received their pins at the session.

Arlene Childers, chairman of the dancing school, announced that the recital will be held Friday, June 10, at the Main Street School. President Terry Leombruno announced that the nominating committee for officers for the coming year will consist of Patricia Kartheiser, Dorothy Corea, Connie Catalinotto and Marilyn Francello, headed by chairman Barbara Poleschner.

For many years, the Jayncees have been sending gifts to the patients in the rehabilitation homes run by Mrs. Beyerl and Mrs. Burdick. The gifts included Christmas trees and turkeys, and remembrances at the women's birthdays of cakes, ice cream, cards and gifts. At the recent meeting Diana Antalek explained that the organization will no longer be doing this because the women have all gone into private homes.

The program for the evening was a film on "Poison Control," followed by a very interesting discussion by Dr. William E. Askue. Dr. Askue, a Kingston pediatrician, explained the causes and treatment of human poisoning and discussed the work of the Poison Control Center in Kingston Hospital. During this meeting, the Jayncees voted to contribute a sum of money to this very worthy project.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Kartheiser and Mrs. Antalek.

Trinity Cops 2 From Quarryville For Dart Trophy

Trinity smashed its way to another Saugerties Dartball League championship Monday night by defeating Quarryville, the league play-off winners two straight 16-15 and 25-18. Trinity won the league pennant during the regular season and Quarryville was second.

Lupe Mickle of Trinity led the assault with three home runs, one of them won the first game in the bottom of the ninth. Trinity went into the ninth one run behind when Mickle scored his second home run of the game with one on.

In the top of the eighth of the second game, Mickle sparked a 10-run rally with a bases loaded homer. He had a total of nine runs batted in for the two games. Other Trinity home runs were scored by Ken Dixon, Ike Perks and Earl Minkler. Ken Mower was high man with nine hits for 11 at bats. Perks had nine for 12.

High man for Quarryville was Al Whittaker with 12 for 15. Will Eggelston led the home run barrage for the losers with one in each game. Other Quarryville round trippers were by Joseph Finger, Whittaker and Rolland Hommel. Whittaker also led in RBI's with Eggelston, seven each.

The championship trophy was presented to Trinity and the play-off plaque to Quarryville.

In pre-game ceremonies, League Vice President Jim Hutton presented the playing board to High Woods Sportsmens Club and one dozen darts. The other darts used in the championship contests was presented to West Camp Palatines.

This is the first year th series games were played in High Woods Sportsmens Clubhouse. The auxiliary served the roast beef dinner prior to the games.

Board umpires were Alson Finger of Katsbaan Apaches and Woodrow Sperl of Centerville. Official scorers were Charles Gilmore, Joseph Sinnott and Al Cawein, the latter two of West Camp Palatines.

League President Clarence Lynk asked for the blessing prior to the banquet. More than 100 were served.

Society to Hear Of Russian Tour

St. Mary's Rosary Society will have the Rev. Joseph Richard as guest speaker at the annual Communion Breakfast. Father Richard will speak on his recent three year tour of Moscow, Russia, as the only Catholic priest there.

No stranger to Saugerties, he opened the Assumption Novitiate in Barclay Heights here in 1954, and served locally until 1956. While here he helped to train a choir for St. John's Church, Veteran, under Msgr. Louis A. Stryker and Msgr. Daniel Daley.

Mrs. Gloria Smith and Mrs. Joan Hopf are co-chairmen of the breakfast. Tickets will be limited so reservations should be made now. The deadline will be April 26, and tickets will be available from Mrs. Joan Turek, also.

The Living Rosary will be held Thursday, May 5, at 8 p. m. Mrs. Ginger Curl is in charge. Refreshments will be served in the school cafeteria later.

The nominating committee for the election of new officers to be held at the June meeting consists of Mrs. Gloria Leard, chairman, Mrs. Peg Wilsey, Mrs. Mary Cook and Mrs. Agnes Altenau.

At the recent regular meeting of the society, refreshments were served by Mrs. Ann Vozdik, Mrs. Gloria Leard, Mrs. Helen Kramer, Mrs. Joan Turek and Mrs. Bobby De Dominico. Roy Davis of the New York Telephone Company showed colored slides on the Hudson Valley.

Craftsmen Shop Opens

Craftsmen Shop, Route 32, eight miles north of Saugerties, will reopen April 16 with displays of unusual hand-crafted gifts. The shop gleamed much favorable comment last year during its first season of operation.

Many items featured in the shop are from the potter's wheel and weaver's loom of local craftsmen.

Auxiliary to Meet

American Legion Auxiliary of Lamouree Hackett Post No. 72 will hold its monthly meeting Thursday 8 p. m. at the Legion Home, John Street.

The refreshment committee for the evening includes Carrie Kenney, Rita Rosner and Sadie Underhill.

Exempts Set Banquet For Monday, April 18

The annual banquet of Saugerties Exempt Firemen's Association will be held Monday, April 18, at 8 p. m. in the Fire Company rooms of the Municipal Building, Partition Street.

Harry Hornbeck, president of the group, has also announced that a regular meeting of the Exempts will be held at 7 p. m. that evening.

Town Notes

Mrs. Annie McCormick, Washington Avenue, is a patient at Benedictine Hospital, Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Giegler, of Easton, Pa., spent the recent Easter holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Underhill Jr. and family at their Elm Street residence.

Plan Steak Roast At Veteran Site

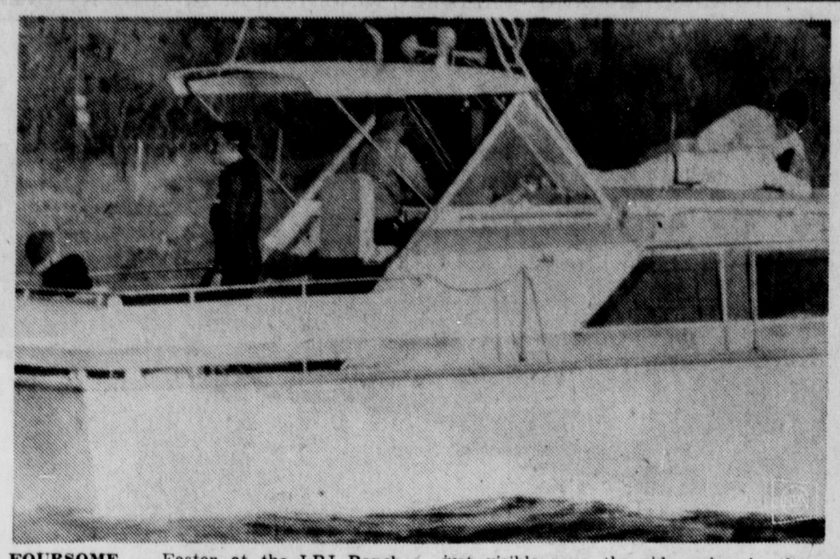

Saugerties Camp Fire Council met recently and announced that a steak roast for fathers and daughters will be held Sunday, May 1, at the Camp Fire property in Veteran. The land was donated by Mrs. Rosse, and consists of 9.8 acres, off Route 212 by the Snyder Farm.

The annual Camporee will be held June 3, 4 and 5 on the Camp Fire site. More details will be announced at a later date.

It was decided that the local girls will march in the annual Loyalty Day parade on April 30.

All of the groups will also work together for a float for the fourth of July parade.

The next meeting of the Council will be held May 2 at 8 p. m. in the meeting room of the Saugerties Savings Bank.

Better Air Service Depends on Side Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — New England can have the best type of regional air service only if Northeast Airlines can have a share of the profitable New York — Florida travel market, Gov. John H. Reed of Maine said today.

Reed's statement was prepared for a hearing before a Civil Aeronautics Board examiner in the reopening of the Northeast petition for a permanent certificate for the New York-Florida flights, also serving intermediate cities.

He said he was attending the hearing personally, in his capacities as governor and chairman of the New England Governors Conference, to stress the importance of the issue to his state and region.

Regional short-haul service can never be more than marginally profitable, if at all, he said, so it follows that the best service to his region must depend on the line's ability to make a profit on its long-haul service south.

NEA is still operating to Florida under a five-year certificate issued in 1956. The CAB once rejected the airline's petition to make the certificate permanent but a federal court on appeal by the line ordered a full rehearing by the CAB.

$77M in Federal Aid Gives Boost to School Projects

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — School officials in New York State are spending more than $77 million in federal funds this year on projects designed to help educationally deprived children.

The funds, only recently available, have given "a tremendous boost to school programs," Louis Pasquini, associate coordinator of federal aid in the State Education Department, told The Associated Press. "Schools are doing things they've never been able to do before."

Aids Handicapped

The funds are administered by the department under guidelines of the federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965. The act is intended to support programs for children with special educational needs —poverty children, the handicapped, the migrants.

"Schools have had any number of new ideas," Pasquini said, "Many of them are original and innovative."

He said Albany, for example, used part of its $800,020 allocation to place a second teacher in the first grade classes at two schools in poverty areas, thereby reducing class size.

Notes Upstate Plans

In Rochester, 25 children from poverty area schools are being sent to a school in Wealthy, suburban Irondequoit. The project is financed by part of the city's $1,980,306 allocation.

New York City, allocated $65,133,281 added teachers and personnel for health and attendance.

Syracuse was allocated $1,386,872 in federal funds, part of it to add specialists in music, art and physical education to the teaching staffs of elementary schools.

A project in Yonkers is intended to identify the abilities of poverty children. Social workers are sent into the homes to determine the needs and special interests of children; there is increased guidance counseling. The city has an allocation of $698,372.

Rural Schools Benefit

Even though most of the federal funds are being distributed to schools in the larger cities, small rural schools also are benefitting, Pasquini said.

Chateaugay school district in Franklin County used its $61,540 allocation to hire more teachers, reducing average classes from 30 to 15 pupils and permitting increased individual aid.

Northville school district in Fulton County hired a teacher for corrective reading to help pupils in grades 4 through 9 where extra help was needed. The district has an allocation of $23,272.

Reading Projects

Pasquini said nearly 75 per cent of the projects are for reading helps.

"Schools consider it the biggest problem," he said.

The funds are financing the purchase of reading materials, electronic aids, equipment for language laboratories.

The federal funds also permitted schools to send their teachers to special institutes about the education of deprived children.

Pasquini said that 1,149 projects have been proposed in 655 of the state's 855 operating school districts. All of the projects are designed to raise the level of educational attainment of deprived children to the level appropriate for children of their age.

Outlook Is Bright

Most of the projects are just beginning, Pasquini said, so evaluation of results is not possible. But he added:

"It can only result in benefits."

He said the state agency is to distribute $110 million in federal funds, but school districts have applied for only $77 million in aid.

"A school district may have an $80,000 allocation but submit plans for projects costing $60,000," he said. "If the plans are approved, the district receives just $60,000."

Use 1960 Census

The allocations are based on 1960 census figures, correlated with government-supplied statistics on poverty areas, Richard C. Schilling, supervisor of federal aid planning for the State Education Department, told a reporter.

New York City, with an estimated 178,135 poverty children between 5 and 17 years old, has its allocation of $65,133,281. Bacon Hill School district in Columbia County, with an estimated one fiftieth of a poverty child, has a $7.31 allocation.

Garden City Project

Calculations of the state agency also determined a $33,551 allocation for the Garden City school district, where the median family income is $14,000 a year and whose poverty children exist as statistics.

In Garden City, the government said 98 children in the unincorporated area lived with families of incomes of less than $2,000 a year—the guideline for determination of poverty children.

"This information was spurious, but it was all we had to work with," Schilling said.

He explained that the government obtained the data by projecting a few income reports over an entire census tract.

Supports One Pupil

"The trouble is, many of the poverty areas don't correspond with school-district boundaries," Schilling said. "We didn't have the names of poverty children or where they lived, so we had to adapt."

Bacon Hill school district supports one pupil, who attends school outside the district. The number was divided into the total school population of Columbia County, correlated with the number of poverty children in the county and found to be eligible for one-fiftieth of the available federal funds.

Schilling said this method was considered the only one suitable for the purpose of the federal legislation.

"We can't ask the pupils about the salaries of their parents. It would be helpful for district guideposts, but it might be an invasion of privacy. It also would be bad for the child."

He said $85 million of the $110 million available funds will be earmarked for the state's larger cities—"where we know poverty pockets exist and where the pockets correspond with school boundaries."

The funds are for projects to aid all disadvantaged children, with emphasis on poverty children, he said.

Sees Migrant Problem

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. indicated today that migrant labor camps may be one of the problems his staff members will attempt to solve in the Miami area.

"We will fight the economic deprivations facing the Negro," he said Monday when he arrived with staff members of his Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

"I'm very concerned about conditions in the migrant labor camps as well. These will be our key areas of work."

Riot of Youths Causes Damage at Amusement Park

By SEYMOUR M. HERSH

GLEN ECHO, Md. (AP) — Scores of young persons turned a day-after-Easter outing into a stormy two-hour wrecking spree at an amusement park and then moved to the nearby streets, breaking windows in some homes and autos.

Some of the youths crowded into a grocery store across the road from the park. Witnesses said they smashed glass containers on the floor and helped themselves to pies, fruit, popcorn and chocolate milk.

Police Respond

More than 125 state and county police were needed to restore order Monday night to this suburb near the nation's capital. Officials set damage at $5,000 and said some parts of the Glen Echo Amusement Park were in shambles.

At least six persons were injured by flying glass, and three youths were arrested.

"This wasn't anything racial," said Inspector Kenneth W. Watkins of the Montgomery County police. "I wouldn't even say it was a riot. There wasn't that type of fighting — no hand-to-hand combat."

He said no more than 100 youths took part in the disturbance.

Watkins said the trouble began with pushing and shoving among the estimated 1,500-2,000 youths — nearly all of them Negroes — who had jammed into the park. Other estimates of the crowd ranged up to 7,500. The park was desegregated in 1961.

"People running the rides were being badgered and shut them down," Watkins said. "This resulted in some of the patrons trying to take over."

Eventually, he said, officials were forced to shut down the park.

Blight Caused Migration

The great Irish famine of the 19th century was caused by a blight to the potato crop. Between two and three million people died and many others emigrated to the United States, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, April 12, the 102nd day of 1966. There are 263 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1861, a shot was fired across the harbor at Charleston, S.C. to Fort Sumter. The dawn ushered in the Civil War.

On this date

In 1777, the brilliant American statesman Henry Clay was born.

In 1788, the first power loom for manufacturing cloth in the United States was installed in Philadelphia.

In 1860 the first Pony Express rider reached Carson City, Nev., from St. Joseph Mo., in 8½ days.

In 1945, Franklin Delano Roosevelt—four times elected president—died at Warm Springs, Ga.

In 1949, Stanley Hill Jr. landed at the foot of Wall Street in New York City from Palo Alto, Calif., on the first transcontinental helicopter flight. The helicopter was Hiller's own design.

Ten years ago—Egyptian and Israeli jet planes clashed over the Negev Desert and each side claimed one plane shot down.

Five years ago—Russian astronaut Yuri Gagarin made man's first space orbit of the earth. Gagarin landed safely after one circuit of the globe.

One year ago—Red China and North Viet Nam turned down a British suggestion that former British Foreign Secretary Patrick Gordon Walker visit Peking and Hanoi to discuss Viet Nam situation.

26 Cubans Flee In 21-Foot Boat

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — There was standing room only when 26 Cubans escaped from their homeland in a 21-foot boat.

"It was crowded, all right, but we didn't mind it," said Celia Perez, 45, at the Cuban Refugee Center Monday. "The voyage took us three days."

Mrs. Perez said she left a 24-year-old son imprisoned in Cuba.

The boat, which arrived over the weekend, carried 18 men, 5 women and 3 children. Five of the men were exiles who had returned to Cuba to bring out the rest.

The arrivals brought to 320 the number of small boat refugees since a daily airlift began Dec. 1. Many of the escapees have been youths of military age, ineligible for the plane shuttle.

Two flights brought 152 Cubans Monday, bringing the airlift total to 15,799. Seventy-three per cent of the arrivals are being resettled, the rescue center reported.

Bloom Award Is To Be Annual

The establishment of an annual Herbert I. Bloom award, in memory of the rabbi emeritus of Kingston's Temple Emanuel who died January 18, was announced today by Harry M. Thayer, president of WGHQ.

The award will be made annually to a person "who reflects the image of the great humanitarian and who has, like Rabbi Bloom, transcended the adversities of physical handicap, to contribute to his or her environment" Theyer said.

The first recipient will be announced at the third annual Human Relations Award dinner, sponsored by WGHQ at the Granit Hotel in Accord April 19. The Human Relations Award will be accepted by his widow. U.S. Senator Robert F. Kennedy will be the principal speaker at the dinner.

"We have been deluged with requests to attend our third annual Human Relations Award dinner," Thayer said, "but, regretfully, we must restrict the number of invitations to seven hundred."

Al Kelly, the double-talk master nonpareil, also will appear on the program at the Granit and present his humorous routine.

Havana Says Mob Ask Execution in Try at Hijack

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cuban radio reported Monday night that mobs in Havana asked for the immediate execution of Angel Betancourt Cueto the flight engineer who tried to hijack a Cuban airliner and fly to Miami.

He was arrested Monday morning inside a Roman Catholic convent in Havana.

The broadcast said the growd gathered in front of the convent shortly after Betencourt was captured.

Betancourt had escaped when the airliner, carrying 91 persons, landed at Rancho Boyeros Airport March 27. He had been sought since then.

The flight engineer killed the pilot and an armed guard during his unsuccessful attempt to fly the plane to Miami.

Boy Killed by Tractor

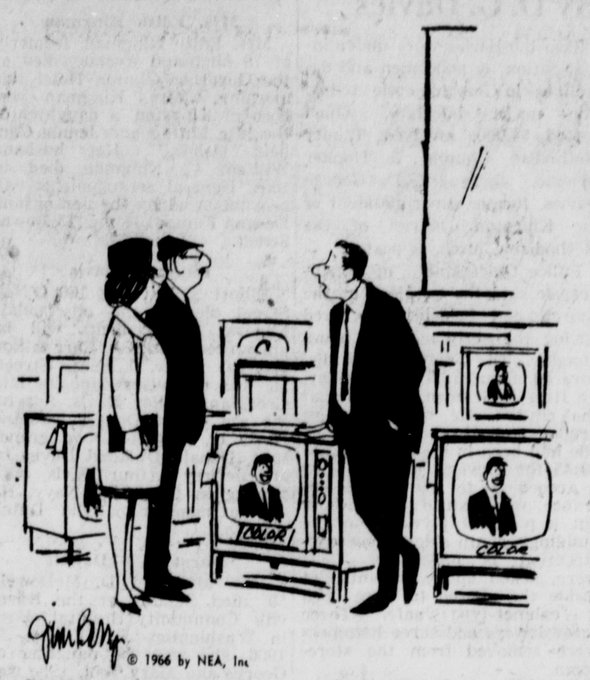

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — Walter E. Raynor, 7, was killed Monday when his clothes became entangled in blades of a tractor-drawn farm implement and he was pulled under it.

Sheriff's deputies said the boy was operating the machine on his family's farm in Chautauqua Township, about 15 miles northeast of here.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Raynor.

The farm is on Beech Hill Road.

Preference Cued on First Lead

By JACOBY & SON
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The suit preference signal can even be used on the opening lead.

West's first impulse is to go to seven hearts and accept a seven or nine-hundred-point penalty against a possible vulnerable slam. Then he sees a chance to to beat the slam if his partner can win the first trick with the ace of hearts and will return a club. How can he ask for a club return? The suit preference signal.

West leads the deuce of hearts. East wins with the ace and asks himself, "Why did my partner lead the deuce of hearts? It couldn't be fourth best." Then he realizes that the lead was to ask for the return of the lower side suit. East leads back a club. West ruffs and another slam has bit the dust.

Suppose West happens to be void of diamonds instead of clubs. How can he lead so as to get a diamond return?

It is not as easy. His highest diamond is the king and if he leads the king his partner will think that he has merely made a normal lead of king from king-queen.

In expert circles he could lead the queen. East would win with the ace and do a little thinking after noting that South followed with the five spot. He would wonder where the king was and eventually come to the conclusion that his partner would have it. No one, even an expert, is likely to open three hearts with a six-card suit to the queen-jack. Then East would recognize that a suit preference signal for diamonds had been given him.

Pay-TV Only Glimmering Hope

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The two-hour feature for television has replaced the pay-TV as Hollywood's pie-in-the-sky.

For 15 years, the cry has been: "Wait until pay-television; then this town will really boom!" The theory had been that when first-run movies could be paid for and seen in the home, the Hollywood product would be in greater demand than ever before.

But pay-TV remains only a glimmering hope after years of experimentation. Now the studies are scouting another, more immediate prospect of future prosperity: the movie feature made expressly for television.

Prime Network Time

For 1966-67, the three networks have scheduled prime time movies on five nights — Tuesday and Saturday for NBC, Thursday and Friday for CBS, and Sunday for ABC. All three are scrambling for products.

"Within two or three years, the supply of feature movies should become critical," Grant Tinker, new head of NBC programming, remarked recently.

Michael Dann, program head of CBS, agreed that the diminishing supply of features is the network's chief problem. "We are sizing up our needs and know the importance of films," he said.

All three networks have entered into deals to provide new features. CBS recently announced a contract with Warner Bros. for six two-hour films which would be released in theaters first, then on the network. CBS was also reported in negotiations for features by producers Ivan Tors and William Castle.

ABC concluded a deal with MGM for six features, which may or may not be released in theaters first.

NBC is the pioneer in the field of new features, having contracted with Universal for such films over the past two years. The network reported that ratings suffered no drop when brand new features were played, rather than the more publicized old ones.

Universal expects to make a dozen two-hour shows for television this year, most of them for NBC.

Could Mean Survival

Studios generally reserve the right to release the films in theaters first, in case they turn out promisingly. That happened with "The Plainsman," which Universal made for CBS with Don Murray and Guy Stockwell. Additional revenue comes from the release of the films in foreign theaters.

All this bodes well for an industry that once feared television would destroy it. Now it appears that television may supply the movie industry a means of survival.

Dear Abby . . .

No Way to Teach Child a Lesson

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a mother who would hold the hand of her three-year-old son over a gas flame to teach him a lesson? The boy lit some matches, so his mother wanted to "cure him, once and for all" as she put it. This isn't something I heard about, I saw it with my own eyes. The flesh was burned right off his little hand. It was pitiful.

ANONYMOUS WITNESS

DEAR WITNESS: If you witnessed such a cruel and inhuman act and all you do about it is write me an anonymous letter, you are badly confused. If there is no Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children in your area, for goodness sake, report that woman to your local police or sheriff at once. She must be mad!

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: I am 18 and a high school graduate since last June. My fiance is 21 and a college graduate. He has a good job. On his birthday a few weeks ago we got engaged without inviting his parents to the party. At this point they are so annoyed with me I am beginning to wonder how things will work out. We plan to be married this summer. His parents say as long as we got engaged without them, we can get married without them. What is your honest opinion, Abby? I really don't care very much for them, and know they never liked me. Any suggestions?

ENGAGED

DEAR ENGAGED: Yes. Don't start down the aisle on the wrong foot. You can't undo the past, but you can try for a better relationship with your in-laws in the future. Admit you were unkind and inconsiderate to exclude them from the engagement party but make them welcome at the wedding.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: Please say something in your column about the dreadfully poor taste shown by women who earn pin money selling cosmetics or household products to their friends — and only their friends—because they lack the sales ability and ambition to go out and tackle the general public.

I'm not referring to women who must support themselves and need loyal friends to help them get started. I mean women who are eager to make money on the side but don't want to work too hard for it. How does one keep from being taken in by such people without ending the friendship?

SICK OF IT

DEAR SICK: She simply says, "No, thank you. I am not buying any." And if that ends the friendship, it was obviously not much of a friendship to begin with.

• • • •

CONFIDENTIAL TO "THE HUSBAND OF A JOINER": The woman who feels she must belong to everything would be much happier if she felt she "belonged" to her husband.

• • • •

No Applicants

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — The Youth Opportunity Center here didn't expect a wealth of applicants for an antipoverty project aimed at providing jobs to the jobless.

But not a single applicant has signed up for the $221,650 project designed to make part-time city employes of school dropouts.

Jack Vanderwal, a center official, said the project could not compete with the many jobs available in the area because it could guarantee only 20 hours a week at an hourly rate of $1.25.

A REWARDING CAREER AWAITS YOU IN the NEW BUSINESS FIELD OF DATA PROCESSING— YOU CAN START TODAY AT COMPUTER CAREERS!

The extremely rapid growth of Data Processing, both locally and nationally, has created a vast demand for trained personnel. It is one of the few careers today where a high school graduate can earn a college level salary. Large numbers of immediately available positions are open in this exciting field.

Computer Careers, Inc. is the area's first Data Processing Education Center—designed and created to prepare area residents for the many challenging positions available in Data Processing. This is the career of the future, with a future!

KEY PUNCHING COURSE

The basic machine in any computer operation is the Key Punch. The operation is similar to typing, but instead of producing typed letters and words the machine punches holes in cards. These punched cards can then be processed at high speed. This course provides complete training on the use and operation of the Key Punch. While no special background or experience is required, many houseives with previous business training have found Key Punching a rewarding way back into the business world, where there is a great demand for women qualified and trained as Key Punch Operators. Computer Careers offers a complete range of courses in Data Processing including: Computer Programming and Operations Course, Unit Record Machine Operation and Control Panel Wiring, and Executive Seminars for Computer operations in business.

Says Price Hike Needed to Save Milk Production

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — A dairy leader said today milk production in the state could be expected to continue to decline at an accelerated rate "unless we are able to bring about some promise of increased prices to dairy farmers over a long-range period."

Robert C. Forsythe, manager of the service division of Northeast Dairy Cooperative Federation Inc., said that, despite the decline in milk-production last month, there was enough milk to "satisfy for the present the fluid needs of the state."

He warned, however, that "the rapid decrease in production could have drastic effects in future years."

Sees Future Harm

Dairymen have been reducing production because of low returns, insufficient labor, and better opportunities in other livestock enterprises.

In an effort to boost production and head off a tight supply situation, the federal government has granted a temporary, three-month price increase to dairymen.

Forsythe and other dairy leaders in the New York-New Jersey milk shed consider the increase too little and too short-lived.

Cite 4 Factors

Forsythe said there were four factors in the decline.

"The four years of drought in the New York market have depleted capital reserves and the cost of production has risen faster than the price paid for milk."

In addition, he said, "high beef prices have made it possible for farmers to cull their cows more closely and sell them for beef."

Prevent Spread Of Newburgh Fire

NEWBURGH, N.Y. (AP) — Fire today destroyed a one-story frame warehouse containing oil byproducts which was in the center of a cluster of Sinclair Oil Corp. oil storage tanks.

Firemen with seven pieces of apparatus played water on the oil tanks and kept the fire from spreading.

The first alarm was sounded at 2:45 a.m., and the fire was pronounced under control at 5:30 a.m.

No estimate of damage was available immediately. The cause of the fire was unknown, firemen said.

Two Roomies Slain In Brooklyn Place

NEW YORK (AP) — Two male roommates were shot and fatally wounded in their Brooklyn apartment Monday night, apparently after admitting their slayer, police said.

The victims were identified as James Parker, 30, and Randolph Black, alias Randy Parker, 19.

Detectives said Parker was found dead in the second-floor apartment at 439 Macon St., in the Bedford-Stuyvesant section, and Black was found dead in the street.

Both had been shot twice in the chest, and Black apparently had staggered out in search of aid.

Police said evidence indicated that the killer or killers were admitted to the apartment.

Th shots alerted other residents, and one bystander reportedly glimpsed a man leaving the three-story brownstone where the men lived.

Police assigned 25 detectives to the case.

A special telephone number — GL 5-6488 — was set up to take calls from persons who might have information about the crime.

Police said both Parker and Black were unemployed.

Disputes . . .

ments are obsolete, Rusk replied:

"Most of those military agreements by their terms continue for the life of the North Atlantic Treaty to which France says it intends to continue to adhere. This thesis strikes at the very heart of the sanctity of international agreements."

To the French contention that the soviet threat to Western Europe has receded, Rusk said: "If the threat against Western Europe has diminished in the last 17 years, it has diminished because NATO stood as a firm barrier to Soviet ambitions. As late as 1961-1962, we were in the midst of a major crisis over Berlin that threatened war."

Asks About Reform

To a question whether De Gaulle's proposal for "reform" of NATO are out of line with U.S. views, Rusk said: "Instead of offering proposals for the reform of NATO, the French government has chosen to announce its decision (to draw back from NATO; without consulting its allies in any serious way."

Rusk also rejected the argument that the United States profits by having a strong but independent France, saying the United States certainly wants a strong France, but it also wants "dependable interdependent allies."

France called on March 29 for removal from her territory of all American military installations by April 1, 1967.

Students Guests At Sneak Preview Of Met Opera

NEW YORK (AP) — The Metropolitan Opera's new Lincoln Center home cleared its throat and burst forth with the sound of music for the first time Monday.

More than 3,000 high school students attended a sneak preview of the new opera house to see a performance of Puccini's "Fanciulla del West," and to witness an accoustics test in the new building.

The first music to be played to a capacity audience was the national anthem. Moments before the opera began, a technician walked on stage carrying what appeared to be a blunderbuss.

He fired a shot that resounded throughout the opera house. This was a test to measure reflections and echo.

The preview of the house came five months in advance of its official opening night. Although preliminary acoustic tests had been conducted, nobody knew how the house would sound with a capacity audience.

The Metropolitan Opera wanted the preview to be a secret and didn't tell the students where they were going when they packed them into buses and took them to the house.

Penal Institution Riot Under Control

BREATHEDSVILLE, Md. (AP) — About 400 prisoners at the Maryland Correctional Institution rioted for two hours today before state police and prison guards controled them.

Two prisoners and one guard were injured in the melee, which broke out about 5:30 a.m. as the first breakfast shift prepared to eat in the dining hall.

None of the injuries was believed to be serious.

Preston L. Fitzberger, superintendent of the medium security prison for young offenders, said he had no idea what caused the trouble. He ordered breakfast resumed after about half of the 400 returned to their cells.

The institution, six miles from Hagerstown in western Maryland, has 1,495 inmates aged 15 to 25. The superintendent's office said it was built to hold a maximum of 800.

About 40 state troopers and several sheriff's deputies joined prison guards in halting the riot.

To Clear Back Mail

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Millions of letters went out of Australian postoffices today as 7,000 postal sorters worked to clear away the big backlog of mail which piled up during a slowdown last week.

Cong Hits Base

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong mortar fire hit Saigon's Tan Son Nhut air base early Wednesday, starting fires that lighted up the sky.

Informed sources said the mortar fire apparently hit a gasoline storage tank.

There were no details immediately available.

The base is about four miles from downtown Saigon. It serves as the main air installation for the capital, handling Vietnamese and U.S. military aircraft as well as civilian airliners.

Dropout Charged In Mom's Death

NEW YORK (AP) — A medical school dropout who told police he had been flying for three days on the drug LSD has been charged with slashing his mother-in-law to death in her Brooklyn home.

"Man, I've been flying for three days on LSD," Stephen H. Kessler, 30, of Brooklyn, was quoted by police as saying Monday.

LSD is a mind-distorting hallucinatory drug, considered dangerous when administered without a doctor's care. Federal law prohibits its use except in authorized cases.

Kessler was also quoted by police as saying: "What am I here for? Did I rape anybody? Did I kill my wife? I've been high on LSD."

Kessler's mother-in-law, Florence Cooper, 57, a junior high school English teacher, was found dead Monday by her husband, Isadore, in their apartment. He had come home early from work after his wife had telephoned him that Kessler was threatening her.

Cooper told police his wife said their son-in-law was berating her because their daughter, Miriam, 22, had left him Friday after an argument.

Buys Historic Home

Ronald Hardy of 136 Fairview Avenue, Hudson, who is associated with the Grand Union Company in Kingston, has purchased a home in Greenport, Columbia County, located on Route 31, that is reputed to be in excess of 300 years old, according to a Columbia County historian.

Ward Lasher owned and occupied the home for many years. The eight-room home was acquired from Hudson Michael Realty Corporation of Hudson. Extensive renovations are now under way to restore the home and supplement it with modern improvements.

$4,000 Is Stolen At Church Headed By D. G. Davies

Two burglaries were under investigation by policemen and detectives in Poughkeepsie today. The major burglary, which netted $4,000, involved Trinity Methodist Church, 3 Hooker Avenue, where Dr. D. George Davies, former superintendent of the Kingston District of the Methodist Church, is pastor.

Police Chief Martin of Poughkeepsie said the burglary at the church had evidently occurred during the early morning hours Monday. The break-in was discovered about 5:50 a. m., today, by Russell Seaman, a sexton at the church. He notified police headquarters; advised that no one had been in the church since 10:45 the previous evening.

According to the chief, entrance was gained by pushing out a piece of plywood on the building's south side, where construction is underway. Tools were picked up by the intruder inside the church to force open a cabinet-type safe. Three screwdrivers and three hammers were removed from the storeroom.

According to Dr. Davies, who came to Kingston in 1952 as superintendent for the local District comprising 106 Methodist churches, approximately $4,000 in Easter funds collected had been taken. The loot included $2,000 in cash and $2,000 in checks made out to the church. Dr. Davies, who left Kingston in 1957 for the Poughkeepsie post, said "less than $100" had also been taken from a second, smaller cabinet. The Methodist pastor is well remembered here; was a frequent speaker at many local affairs.

Police Chief Martin also said investigation was continuing into the burglary of the Albano Liquor Store, Main Street, Poughkeepsie. The store, which had been closed over the weekend due to a death in the family, had apparently been entered twice during the Easter period. Police were notified Saturday afternoon at 2:20 p. m. that men had been seen in the rear yard of the store, carrying bags. Law enforcement officials were called out again to the scene that evening when neighbors again saw someone in the yard. Four cases of whiskey were missing from the premises, according to the owners.

In charge of the investigation into the burglaries at both places is Sgt. Brophy, assisted by Detectives Naughton and Schribnor.

Medicare Aired

clinic. This is an average of 30 patients for every day of the month. Last year there were 6,840 examinations, and so far in the first three months of this year 2,245 persons have been processed. If examinations continue at this rate, then nearly 9,000 people will be examined in the chest clinic during 1966, or an increased activity of over 30 per cent above that of 1965.

The purpose of the chest clinic is to discover new cases of tuberculosis and to maintain surveillance over old cases being treated at home. New cases of tuberculosis are being discovered this year at a greater rate than in 1965. In the first three months of last year there were seven new cases in the county with an average age of 55. This year, in the same period, there have been 18 new cases with an average of 30 years. This does not mean that there is an epidemic of tuberculosis going on, but that cases are being found and treated as they occur, and that the search for contacts has revealed a large number of secondary infections in sons and daughters of the newly discovered cases.

Tuberculosis is not the only finding that the X-ray reveals. In March there were 38 cardiovascular diseases, 11 suspected cancers, 8 emphysemas, and 168 other conditions. Together with the 95 cases of tuberculosis this means that one person out of three had something wrong with him that could be seen on the X-ray plate.

Tuberculosis is a gradually disappearing disease, but it must be relentlessly pursued if it is to be eradicated. The busy chest clinic at the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital is directly involved in this pursuit and will continue to play a very important role in the fight against tuberculosis.

The students carried U.S. carbines, grenades and pistols issued to them by Vietnamese officers.

They displayed banners reading: "The United States has violated our autonomy by supporting the Ky government which is not chosen by the Vietnamese people" and "America stays here because it wants to, not at the bidding of our people."

on the meeting. There was speculation that Fox told Boyle the operators would not resume negotiations until the men are back at work.

The association's executive board meets in Pittsburgh today as a prelude to the resumption of talks in Washington, possibly Wednesday.

Fox said the meeting was called "to discuss the general situation."

Javits Launches Upstate Tour

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — U.S. Sen. Jacob K. Javits headed for a tour of central New York today in the face of opposition by 11 Upstate Republican county chairmen to any bid on his part for the governor's chair.

Meanwhile, Javits still left unresolved an invitation by Gov. Rockefeller to manage the governor's re - election campaign this November, an invitation viewed in some political circles as an attempt to cement Javits into the Rockefeller camp.

The 11 GOP chairmen pledged their support for Rockefeller Monday in an announcement seen as a means to discourage Javits from deciding to challenge Rockefeller for the gubernatorial nomination.

Javits' aides have explained privately, however, that the Republican senator's visit to the Syracuse-Watertown area today and the Rochester-Buffalo area Wednesday is to determine whether local GOP leaders believe Rockefeller can lead the party to election victories.

While Javits insists that he regards Rockefeller as a good governor, Rockefeller strategists are known to be worried about some Republicans who view Javits, a million-plus winner in his last race for the Senate, as a more likely victor than Rockefeller.

State Sen. John Hughes of Syracuse, a leading Republican, has urged Javits to make the race, in which 207 legislative seats also are at stake.

The announcement of support for Rockefeller was made public by Assemblyman Donald A. Campbell, chairman of the Montgomery County Republican Committee. The resolution praised Rockefeller as the only man with the "vision, know-how and administrative experience necessary" to run the state.

It was signed by the chairmen of these counties and communities:

Clinton, Essex, Fulton, Montgomery, Saratoga, St. Lawrence, Schenectady, Warren, Washington, Hamilton and Franklin and the city of Gloversville.

Demos Are Urged To Cast Vote in Party Caucuses

Men and Women enrolled in the Democratic party were urged today to vote at party caucuses to be held this week in each election district.

Dr Gerald P. Gorman, chairman of the Democratic City Committee, in voicing the plea, said voter participation in democratic government starts in the party caucus with election of delegates to the county convention. Three delegates are to be elected in each election district.

The purpose of the convention, he stressed, is to recommend to enrolled Democrats, candidates for nomination to public office. "This is a privilege as well as a responsibility," he said.

The county convention is to be held at 8 p. m. Saturday, April 16 at the John F. Kennedy elementary school on Gross Street. "City Democrats," Dr. Gorman said," will have a part in naming candidates for Member of Congress, State Senator, Member of Assembly, county clerk and coroner. They will also name delegates and alternate delegates to attend the Judicial Convention for the Third Judicial District; delegates and alternate delegates to the New York State Democratic Convention and two State Committee members, one man and one woman, the city chairman said.

Directed to Repay $18,000 to Agency

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A former business manager for the University of Rochester's Atomic Energy Commission project has been placed on two year's probation for theft of AEC funds.

Charles S. Thompson, 44, of Rochester pleaded guilty March 28 to felony charges that he took $18,000 in AEC funds by falsifying cash vouchers between July 1961 and last November, when he left the post.

Judge Harold P. Burke of U. S. District Court suspended a two-year prison sentence, ordered the probation and directed Thompson to repay the sum.

Thompson lives at 190 Lattimore Road.

Will Mark Invasion

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Paratroops will jump, jet-fighter planes will zoom, tanks will fire at targets and torpedo boats will maneuver to commemorate the fifth anniversary of the abortive 1961 invasion of Cuba by exiles.

Havana radio said the April 17 display will take place on Havana's waterfront.

Church Mission Crisis

WHEATON, Ill. (AP) — The encroachment of communism has brought a crisis in church missions says a New York Minister.

The Rev. Louis L. King told a religious congress that since 1940, "Communist influence has grown from 8 per cent of the world's population to 40 per cent today."

Today's Business Mirror

NEW YORK (AP) — The age of specialization has reached summer camps.

Once upon a summertime, children were packed off to camp for two weeks to live in tents, go swimming, learn nature lore and maybe cook corn on the cob in a pit.

Lush Situations

Now they are off for two months, living in lush cabins with fireplaces and bathrooms, water skiing and scuba diving, and learning acting, auto mechanics or chamber music.

"There is an increasing trend toward specialization," said Betty Lowenstein, executive director, New York section, American Camping Association Inc.

She estimates 5½ million youngsters, aged 6 to 16, will go to the nation's 10,000 camps this summer. That is 1½ million more youngsters and 500 more camps than in 1950—and big business for camp operators.

Costs shoot up from nothing for the underprivileged, expenses of which may be picked up by charity groups, to $1,000 for the affluent private camps.

There are special camps for the mentally retarded, the emotionally disturbed and those with asthma.

Even Camps for Parents

There even are camps for parents.

The Audubon National Science Field Workshop, Greenwich, Conn., has a one-week $70 session for adults on how to keep a child in touch with the earth and his environment.

In recent years, there has been an upsurge in sports camps.

A Cape Cod camp, advertising basketball and tennis under Sam Jones, the Boston Celtics star, already is filled up this year and accepting inquiries for 1967.

Len Casanova, University of Oregon football coach, for the sixth year is running a sports camp for boys 9-14, on the Eugene, Ore., campus.

The boys live in dormitories and have access to all of the university athletic facilities for track, swimming, football, baseball, basketball, wrestling and gymnastics, under the instruction of university coaches.

Even in this age, there still is a bit of the wilds left in some of the camls.

Adirondack Woodcraft Camps, Old Forge, N.H., has Canadian canoe trips, pack horse trips and survival camping — $725 for eight weeks.

New Head Sees Dual Obligation In Dental Health

Shared responsibility is necessary if dental health of the public in this area is to measure up to proper standards, says the president of the Third District Dental Society. Dr. Bernard Rosenn of Albany was installed today at the Society's annual meeting at the Inn Towne Motel, Albany.

In his acceptance remarks, Dr. Rosenn said:

"As members of the honored profession of dentistry, our responsibility is to the public in the area we serve. Here in the Third District, comprising the counties of Albany, Columbia, Greene, Rensselaer, Schorarie, Sullivan and Ulster, we have a population of nearly 700,000 people who look to us for dental health.

"We recognize our responsibility by continuing our education in the constantly improving world of dentistry. Clinical sessions at our meetings andat our post-graduate conferences, articles in our journals and the application of research, are among the methods by which we keep abreast of the most advanced techniques, procedures and approved developments in this important profession.

"But this responsibility is not ours alone. It must be shared by the public we are dedicated to serve. I hesitate to say how many adults do not avail themselves of periodic dental checkups. Nor how many parents think it is unimportant to have their children's teeth examined regularly by their friendly family dentist. There comes a time in their lives when they are made aware of the results of neglect. I is our hope to stimulate this awareness early in life.

"Regrets can be avoided when potential patients of the dentist become patients — patients making regular visits. This, it seems to me, is that part of the responsibility which must be shared by the public as an approach to the good dental health with which everyone should be concerned."

Other officers elected are Dr. Robert F. Rudisill, Latham, president elect; Dr. Paul D. Englert, Catskill, vice president; Dr. Robert A. Olsen, Troy, treasurer and Dr. Herbert G. Spieske, Albany, secretary.

Develop Power Crutches

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) —Three men working in a garage workshop say they have developed power crutches which enable a handicapped person to raise and lower himself by pressing a button.

The battery-operated device, which is to go into production this summer, is expected to cost about $500 a pair.

HINTS FROM Heloise

Dear Folks:

From a director of the Wallpaper Council, comes the following advice:

"For people

"For the do-it-yourself decorator in the corner, but "For the do-it-yourself decorator who is planning to hang wallpaper, get started off right.

"Most people start hanging wallpaper in the corner, but sometimes you can do a better matching job with the first strip hung elsewhere.

"Also you should use a plumb line to make sure you hang the first strip of wallpaper straight.

"Use a thumb tack with a string on it and weight at the other end — a piece of chalk or anything. Tack this at the top of the wall, and it will give you a straight line for hanging your paper. You can either draw a line down, or make a chalk mark on your wall.

"If the room has a fireplace, center your first strip over the fireplace (the focal point of the room), and work out from each side of the first strip.

"If there are two windows on one wall, start in the center of the wall between the two windows.

"The main reason is so you can get a better match on a patterned paper where you have a broken wall.

"And, if it's not a patterned paper, at least it's hanging straight when your eye catches the center of the room.

Claire M. Barrows

Well, how about that? I've hung wallpaper many times, but Claire Barrow's idea never occurred to me, and she's right as rain.

Thank you for setting us straight on the proper way to hang it. Sure will make it easier for us "do-it-ourselfers."

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

The plastic case which held your new toothbrush makes a practical case for holding all your crochet hooks.

Flora Goslin

DEAR HELOISE:

Instead of using egg cartons for your treasured costume jewelry, try investing in colored, satin-lined hosiery boxes.

These boxes are just the right size to fit into shallow dresser drawers. They have six individual satin-lined sections, and each section is just perfect to hold one set of beads and earrings.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

Dear Heloise:

Why hasn't anyone spoken up for N. N. (nylon net) as being real sharp (and I do mean sharp) for easily and quickly removing the ring from the bathtub?

The net takes "it" off by itself, but with a bit of scrubbing powder, just say, "With this ring I thee WET" and clean tub!

FROM HELOISE'S KITCHEN

Dear Gals:

Here's a discovery I made this weekend:

I wanted to make some scalloped potatoes, but found I had no "spuds."

I happened to look up in my kitchen closet and spied some canned potatoes which I decided to substitute for the fresh ones.

They were delicious!

Canned potatoes are quite inexpensive (cost very little more than bagged ones). Since they are pre-cooked, all one has to do is put their favorite sauce over them, and bake slightly.

So . . . next time you go shopping, why not buy a can or two, and keep them on hand in case of emergency.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

For a cute gift, the next time you make an apron, use either store-bought pot holders, or make your own. Then make outer coverings of the apron material to cover each pot holder.

For an even nicer set, make a pair of oven mitts, too.

Estimate 5,000 Priests Leave Clergy to Marry

ST. PETRSBURG, Fla: (AP) — A Roman Catholic priest who took a wife says he will try to establish a guest house for married priests.

Anthony Girandola, 40, says an estimated total of 5,000 U.S. priests have left the clergy to take wives.

"I am tired of hiding the fact that I am a priest," said Girandola. "If the church wishes to excommunicate me for publicizing this fact, let it do so."

Girandola left Westerly, R.I., where he had worked as a newsman, about two weeks ago.

Charles W. Utter, editor of the Daily Westerly Sun, said he was surprised to hear that Girandola is a priest.

"He had a wonderful touch with a human interest story," said Utter. "He was a good man, and I hated to lose him."

He said Girandola's wife suffered from asthma and this prompted their move south.

Girandola said the church refused him dispensation to marry.

He said in some cases priests have been allowed to marry but they are forbidden from practicing the ministry and must keep their married status secret.

Girandola reported that the church has required priests who have broken their vows of celibacy to leave any area in which they are known as priests.

A native of Hartford, Conn., Girandola's last ministry was at the Shrine of Sacred Heart in Baltimore from 1963 to 1964. He attended St. Bernard's Major Seminary in Rochester, N.Y., and has worked as a cashier, waiter and advertising agency copy writer.

Girandola and his wife, Lorriane, have a four-month-old son, Anthony Jr.

Girandola said he would solicit funds for his guest house and also will look for a place of assembly where he can hold services. He added that he saw no reason why he should not continue to do a priest's work.

Priests are not trained for work outside the church and need help readjusting if they marry and must look for other employment, Girandola said.

He said he had asked the church to help him set up his guest house but had been refused.

NEW YORK (AP) — Network television lives by the clock — right down to the second hand. For almost an hour late Monday afternoon the living wasn't easy for CBS and its golf commentators.

The Masters Tournament at the Augusta National Golf Club ended Sunday in a three-way tie, so CBS resumed its live coverage of the playoff at 5 p.m. Monday afternoon.

Miscalculated Speed

Somebody miscalculated the speed of the play. All the cameras were stationed at the last three holes — but when the coverage started the three finalists, Jack Nicklaus, Tommy Jacobs and Gay Brewer, had only reached the 12th hole. It was 50 minutes before we got a look at the players.

In the awkward interim there were verbal bulletins of the unseen action. They ran — twice — a tape made Sunday which showed the three at critical moments. They ran a film shot from a plane that showed the first dozen holes of the course but without a single player on them. They described the beauties of the course. They recalled exciting shots from other Masters tournaments.

When the players finally approached a spot where a camera could see them from a distance we were treated to a long, long look at the crowd — from the rear. The commentators were running out of small talk and statistics.

When Nicklaus sank his winning putt 70 minutes after that, CBS cut away from the tournament so fast we didn't get to see Tommy Jacobs final putt or putts. But CBS found time for a couple of commercials before it went to Walter Cronkite's news show.

CBS of course could have put the playoff on tape, edited it down to the high points and shown it at a more convenient time. But television sports are much more interesting to watch when they are live — even when the game is as slow as golf.

Re-Runs Underway

If many entertainment programs are beginning to look familiar, it is because they are. A dozen or so programs already have started summer re-runs and by the end of this week about a fifth of the schedules on the three networks will be repeat performances.

This year will be the first in several seasons when there is not a single summer replacement series of "new" half-hour shows with an over-all title, like "Vacation Playhouse." These really were collections of unsold pilot films of other seasons. The broadcasts enabled their makers to recoup some of their money.

Next week there will be three "special programs," two on ABC and one on CBS. Each is really a pilot film for a series that failed to find a network niche. CBS has "Where's Everett?" on Monday night in "Hazel's" time, a comedy about a invisible baby that was a loser in [illegible] stake.

ABC has "Assault" on Tuesday night. This is an adventure story about World War II Marines. It also has "The Man in the Square Suit" on Friday — a comedy about comedy writers.

$165,457 in State Share in State Gas Tax Receipts

Ulster County's share in state motor fuel tax receipts for the quarter ending March 31 is $165,457.32, up $21,477.55 over the same period last year.

State Comptroller Arthur Levitt announced the distribution of $7,162,489.89 in receipts to the 57 counties outside New York City Monday.

This total is the share of state collected motor fuel tax for the three months ending March 31, 1966 which is being returned to the counties in accordance with the State Highway Law.

The law provides that 10 per cent of the statewide collection of the state's gasoline tax and the tax on diesel motor fuel are allotted to the counties on the proportional basis of county road and town highway mileage in each county. The money is earmarked by statute for deposit in the county road funds.

The amount distributed in April of 1965 was $6,222,907.96.

Delay May Mean Division

Muscovites Are Told Of Broad Promises— But Not Real Plans

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet people heard their leaders make broad promises at a party congress last week to increase the quality and quantity of food, clothing and other consumer goods.

They have yet to see the concrete plan for 1966-70 that will put these promises into effect and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin said it will be another four or five months before they do. The plan sets production tasks for every Soviet factory and farm.

Some specialists here see the delay on the plan as a sign of possible divisions among top Soviet leaders.

Divisions are believed certain over how Kosygin's economic reforms will take shape.

The reforms retain the traditional soviet system of central planning of economic activity. But they give the individual factory manager more say in setting his own production plan, based on local demand for his goods.

The factory manager has only a limited say, but the planners no longer have absolute power to set production goals. The result could be dissatisfaction of both sides.

Profits are the key word in the new system.

Success used to depend on whether the required amount of goods was produced, regardless of it being sold. Workers often got bonuses for meeting the quota even though it wasted millions in state funds.

Under the new system, workers will get bonuses if the factory makes more sales and profits. The profits in turn are based on price.

Soviet prices, often set arbitrarily in the past, are being revised into line with the value of goods.

The new prices are not expected to go into effect before 1968, the third year of the plan.

Goals for the later years of the plan will have to be much higher in order to meet over-all goals.

Some Westerners believe the Russians will either have to overfulfil the 1966 plan or eventually scale down the goals of the full plan.

The Soviets ure attempting to show the world that their planned economic system is the best one. Their new plan is supposed to overcome past defects in their system.

Teachers Await Budget Before Buffalo Action

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Two teachers groups awaited today submission of Mayor Frank A. Sedita's proposed 1966-67 city budget, before acting further on their salary demands.

One of the groups, the Buffalo Teachers Federation, cancelled a threatened strike, while the second, Local 39 of the American Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, lowered its pay demands.

Donald S. Laing, president of the Buffalo Teachers Federation, said a meeting was of his group scheduled for within five days after the mayor submits his budget proposal to the City Council.

Sedita now has until May 1 to do so.

Laing's organization voted Monday to cancel the strike planned for April 19. Members called the strike threat "no longer necessary" after pledges by the mayor and Gov. Rockefeller to increase local and state commitments for educational spending.

Robert Jarnot, president of the union local, said the local presented Monday what was termed an "emergency" pay plan, which included a proposed teacher salary range of $6,000 to $9,250.

The union had earlier asked for a scale of $6,000 to $14,000.

"We're trying to avert a strike. It's too early to tell yet if we have been successful," said Jarnot, after a meeting with Sedita and School Superintendent Joseph F. Manch.

Jarnot said the union plans to carry out its threatened strike "at an undisclosed date," unless the new pay schedule plan is adopted.

Sedita denied Monday that the strike threat "had brought me around to a commitment.

"If we don't have the money and I can't raise the money, then you can hang me in effigy and call all the strikes you want," the mayor said.

Rockefeller has said he would support legislation for at least $5.7 million in state aid for Buffalo schools in the 1966-67 fiscal year, if the city raised a minimum of $2.3 million.

Fear Three Teeners Drowned, Find Canoe

SKANEATELES, N.Y. (AP)— A 13-year-old girl and two 14-year - old boys were feared drowned early today after their aluminum canoe was found nearly filled with water in Skaneateles Lake.

State Police and volunteer firemen began a search Monday night for Betsy Loftus, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. David Loftus, and Donald Cain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cain Sr., both of Skaneateles, and Russell Cayer, son of Mrs. Helen F. Cayer of nearby Marcellus.

The canoe was found 500 feet from shore near here, about 7 miles east of Auburn, Monday night. Police said the lake is 130 feet deep at that point.

The trio was last seen about 3 p.m. Monday.

The Cain address is East Lake Road.

The Loftus home is on West Lake Road.

New Rose Queens Reign in This Year's Gardens

Apricot Nctar

Rich, delightful, old-fashioned rose fragrance is poured forth by Apricot Nectar, a well-shaped floribunda type on a strong-growing plant. It features large, double blooms which open to as much as 5 inches across. Foliage is disease-resistant and the plant reaches a height of about three feet.

Apricot Nectar's developer is E. S. Boerner, dean of American rose hybridists. He is a director of plant research for Jackson & Perkins Co. This is the ninth of his florabunda roses to be selected as an All-America Rose Selections award-winner. Boerner is noted also for hybrid tea rose development.

Matterhorn

Quality, vigor, and beauty of bloom mark this new, All-America Rose Selections award-winner. Ivory-white buds form on a free branching plant which produces an unusual number of long-stemmed roses. Just a hint of green is to be seen in the depth of the flower. The foliage is large, glossy, bright green and gives plant cover from top to bottom.

Dr. David L. Armstrong, director of plant research for Armstrong Nurseries, developed Matterhorn. He has several rose varieties to his credit. Among them: Columbus Queen, Lotte Gunthart, Ole, Eiffel Tower, Sweet Afton and Joseph's Coat.

Two Boys Are Taken Off Ledge

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — "I thought we set a pretty good fire, we had only one match," said Richard Reed, 9, after he and a companion were rescued from a ledge in the Genesee River Gorge in Rochester.

Reed and John Vogler, 8, set fire to rubbish on the ledge Monday and smoke from the fire attracted their rescuers, Rochester city firemen.

Firemen said it took more than 30 minutes to extinguish the fire on the ledge a few feet above the river, after the boys were pulled to safety by ropes.

The boys said they were stranded on the ledge after they followed a dog down the steep, 150-foot incline.

Two other boys, Richard's brothers, Joseph, 12, and Thomas Jr., 13, who also climbed down to the ledge, went for help after they managed to reach the top again. They returned with their father, Thomas C. Reed, about the same time firemen answered the fire alarm.

The Reeds live at 4 Vose St. Vogler's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Dale Vogler of 309 Saxton St.

Boy Dies of Injuries

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A 5-year-old boy died Monday when he was struck by an automobile as he crossed street in nearby Chili.

Police said the victim was Jeffrey Kunz of suburban Webster.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Kunz of 823 Chestnut Bend.

Appraisal Given on Policy

Latest Viet Chaos May Be President's Worst Disaster

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson had it pretty much his own way up till now. But now what he faces in Viet Nam may be the greatest disaster of his political career.

At home things were going well. The country was prosperous. He kept putting the heat on Congress to pass his legislation and on business and labor to keep wages and prices down.

Lots of Work

It meant a lot of bone-aching work, of course: telephone calls from dawn till midnight; conferences at the White House day and night; the endless attention to details.

But this was all duck soup for him. In one way or another he had been doing the same thing for years as the Democrats' majority leader in the Senate before he became vice president then president.

In short, it was a way of life with him and his big advantage was that he understood the American mind.

And even with Viet Nam, despite some intense criticism and demonstrations at home, he had broad public support for the administration's policy of using U.S. money and troops and planes to keep the Viet Cong from taking over South Viet Nam.

Was Backing Ky

This was going well, too. And, further, he was backing the military government headed by Premier Nguyen Cao Ky. There didn't seem to be a cloud in the sky. Then the sky fell in, pulled down by the Buddhists.

They have a different kind of mind, unfamiliar to Johnson, and bit by bit, by marches, riots, protests, and denunciations they began to topple the government headed by Ky.

The Johnson administration's aim was said to be the survival of the military regime, with or without Ky. But as time passed the whole military leadership seemed in danger of being thrown out.

No matter what it did or tried to do behind the scenes, in public the administration tried to put on the appearance of great calm, even detachment, with one State Department official saying: "Our feeling is that the solution to the political problems in Viet Nam is something for the Vietnamese themselves to work out."

More Than Squabble

But if the North Vietnamese Communists have worked out a deal with the South Vietnamese Buddhists to destroy the present government and make way for the Communists, this is more than just a political squabble between some Vietnamese in the south.

If the Buddhists get control, whether or not they turn the government over to the Communists at once, they may ask the Americans to leave. And, if they do, it is certain the Communists will get control for the South couldn't stand them off.

Vietnamese among themselves

Johnson can't be sure he knows how to deal with the Buddhists or how they think, for they don't think like Americans.

For the Americans, to be asked to leave, after the billions of U.S. dollars spent there and the many U.S. lives lost there, such a request would in effect by an American defeat and an American embarrassment without parallel.

Johnson would have a hard time living it down. It undoubtedly would be used against him if he ran for re-election in 1968. And it might cause desperate damage to the Democrats in this year's congressional elections.

Selkirk Pharmacist To Be Sentenced 13th

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—An Albany pharmacist faces sentencing Wednesday on a charge of selling an exempt narcotic to a person under 21 years old.

Henry Dargan of suburban Selkirk was found guilty of the misdemeanor Monday by a police court jury. Justice Michael V. Tepedino released Dargan in $500 bail.

The pharmacist was arrested last February in a police investigation into the use of transquilizers and narcotic - based cough syrups by pupils at Shaker High School in nearby Colonie.

The law, under which Dargan was convicted, went into effect last Jan. 1. It prohibits sale of exempt narcotics without a prescription to a person under 21.

Social Security Office Extends Hours on Friday

The Social Security Office in Kingston will remain open until 9 o'clock on Friday nights until further notice, George J. Habernig, district manager, announced today. The office will not be open on Saturday morning.

It is believed the Friday night hours are necessary at this time to better serve the people in this area. The additional hours will permit those who, for one reason or another, cannot visit or telephone during the regular hours.

Habernig pointed out that recent legislation extended the deadline for enrolling in the Medicare Program from March 31 to May 31. All those who are 65 years of age or older and who have not yet applied for their Medicare benefits should get in touch with the Kingston office now. Some may find an added bonus, Habernig said.

Several hundred Ulster and Greene County people 72 or older who never worked under social security were made eligible for monthly social security benefits of $35 for a single person and $52.50 for a couple under a recent change in the law. The new payments will begin with the month of October 1966. Anyone 72 or older who is not receiving a monthly social security or railroad retirement benefit or some other Federal, State or local public retirement payment (a teacher's pension, for example) may be eligible for the special payments, Habernig pointed out. Those receiving public retirement payments (other than social security or railroad retirement) of less than $35 per month for a single person or $52.50 for a couple, may apply for the difference between their present payments and the amount of the social security benefit. Persons getting public assistance payments from a State Welfare Agency may elect to get either the new social security payment or the public assistance payment, but not both.

Eligible persons 72 or older who have already applied for Medicare will not need to make special application for the new payments. Habernig stated that these people will be contacted in the near future to find out whether they are collecting another public retirement benefit.

Habernig also emphasized that anyone who will be 65 between now and the end of the year should enroll in the Medicare Program in any one of the three months before the month of attainment of age 65. This is important if Medicare coverage is wanted with the first month possible.

The Social Security Office is at 57 Albany Avenue.

Placed on Probation In Embezzling Case

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—A 39-year-old former assistant cashier is under five years' probation for embezzling $8,422 from the First National Bank of Moravia.

Judge Edmund Port of U.S. District Court here also suspended the imposition of a sentence Monday on Louis J. Tyrell of the central New York community of Moravia.

Tyrell had pleaded guilty to one count of an embezzlement charge on March 14. He was employed by the bank from 1962 to 1965.

Martorana Notes Anniversary Date Of Road Action

Supervisor Joseph Martorana of the Town of Plattekill noted that it was four years ago today, April 12, 1962, that he first offered a resolution to the Ulster County Board of Supervisors calling for the reconstruction of the west approach to the Mid-Hudson Bridge.

In reply to Martorana's resolution, J. Burch McMorran, State Superintendent of Public Works, indicated on May 16, 1962 that the west approach road should be reconstructed on new location. Following almost 2½ years of engineering studies, preparation of plans and holding of public hearings on the proposed new alignment, the plans were finally approved by the Ulster County Board of Supervisors on Oct. 8, 1964.

Martorana added that a year of legislative procedures followed which saw Ulster County Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson and Senator Watson R. Pomeroy introduce the necessary legislation which paved the way for the advertising for bids. And now finally this year a low bid of under 5 million dollars has been received and it is anticipated that very shortly a contract will be awarded and work on the new road will start in June.

"The new west approach road will not only eliminate traffic congestion and facilitate the movement of traffic flow in the area, but it will also eliminate one of the most unsafe stretches of road in the area. The new road will also link closer the people of Dutchess and Ulster counties and should prove a boost to the economy of the region," Martorana concluded.

SHOULD PRESENT BE GIVEN IN FRONT OF OTHERS?

Q—My husband and I, along with two other couples, were invited to the new house of friends of ours. It was not a party; we were just asked to come and spend the evening. I brought a small gift for the house. The others brought nothing. When I arrived, I handed the gift to the hostess. My husband thought part (and embarrassing to the others) to have given it to her in their presence. He said I should have put it aside and waited until she was alone to present it to her. Was I wrong?

A—Even though there was no reason for the others to bring presents, I agree with your husband that your handing a gift to the hostess in their presence might have been embarrassing. It would have been more tactful if you had put the present down inconspicuously and when you had an opportunity, mention to the hostess that you had brought her a small gift.

Confirming Boy's Invitation

Q—My girl friend, who is in college, is going to visit me in my parents' home over the spring vacation. She asked me if my mother would write her a note confirming my invitation so that she could show it to her mother. Is this the correct thing to do, or would a letter from me be enough?

A—Your girl friend is perfectly right in wanting a note from your mother to show to her family, and they be equally right in not allowing her to visit you if she didn't hear from your parents.

Their Friend Is a Waiter

Q—A friend of ours has recently taken a job as a waiter in one of the better restaurants. Whenever my husband and I invite guests to dinner, we usually go to this restaurant. wait on us, do we introduce him to our guests?

A—It would certainly be very unfriendly to ignor him. Explain to your guests beforehand that one of the waiters is a personal friend. When you arrive, if he is assigned to your table, greet him as you normally would and add, "John, these are our friends, Mr. and Mrs. Smith, from Chicago."

Repertory Theatre Incorporated; Will Open in September

The Hudson Valley Repertory Theatre Inc., a new non-profit corporation dedicated to the establishment of a regional professional theatre in this area, has received approval of its corporate charter. The new company was approved by the Attorney General's office, State Supreme Court, Department of Education of the State of New York and the New York Department of State.

A Board of Trustees has been selected and a full Board of Directors is now being created to carry out the directions and needs of the company and to serve the community at large.

The new theatre organization will utilize the facilities of the Woodstock Playhouse, Woodstock, N. Y. This famous Summer Playhouse will undergo extensive renovations to house the new company, including a complete heating plant.

M. Edgar Rosenblum, executive director of the company, clarified some items regarding the company's operations. HUVREP Inc. will give its productions in April, May, June, September, October and November, starting this September. The Woodstock Playhouse Company will continue its policy of "summer stock" in the mid-summer months.

A fund raising campaign started this week with the goal of a quarter of a million dollars sought to subsidize the new regional theatre.

Interviewing and auditions for the professional cast and staff has already begun in studios in New York City.

Announcements of the Board of Directors and staff appointments are expected at a press conference to be held later this month.

Gala Social Planned By Temple Emanuel

Temple Emanuel will hold a gala social night Saturday, April 30, featuring the well-known comedy team the Barton Brothers, and singer Jerry Heller, both from New York.

Dancing after the Broadway show with a three piece orchestra from New York providing the music. Hot and cold canapes and other refreshments will be served.

Reservations may be made with Mrs. Morton Cohen, Mrs. Jeremiah Sachs or Mrs. Albert Spiegel. Dr. Walter Myer and Mrs. Robert Ronder are acting as general chairmen of the affair.

Working on the committee are Mrs. Irwin Gellen, Mrs. Morton Kamen, Mrs. Walter Myer, Robert Ronder, Mrs. Charles Ronder and Mrs. Lewis Neporent.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Roy Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Caple, Stanley Wyman, Mr. and Mrs. William Klein, Eugene Abramsky, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jacobs, Marshall Lipton, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Wolfield, Leonard Zimet and Louis Kaye.

The Barton Brothers and Jerry Heller are known not only from their many television appearances but their frequent shows in the Sullivan County resort areas.

It is urged that reservations be made early as a capacity crowd is expected and reservations will be on a first come-first served basis.

Past Regents Club Plans Luncheon

The Past Regents Club of the Hudson Valley Council, Daughters of the American Revolution, will have its semi-annual luncheon meeting at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Thursday, May 19 at 12:30 p. m.

At 2:30, on the Academy Green, a flag of the United States of America, with a pole, will be presented to the newly formed Boy Scout Troop 8 of Sawkill. Frank McMahon is the scout master. Among those attending will be Alex MacDonald, Scout Commissioner, and Chief Robert Murphy.

Little Gardens Club

The Little Gardens Club of Kingston will meet at the home of Mrs. Severyn J. Hasbrouck, Route 209, Hurley, Friday, April 15. In preparation for their coming Flower Show on May 12, the program will be "Interpretation of Schedule — Artistic Division."

A fifth entry for the Page One Queen to be held Sunday afternoon, May 1 at The Flamingo Restaurant, Route 9W, Saugerties, has been reported by Robert L. Bain and Rose Morris, co-chairmen of the event.

She is Miss Patricia A. Misasi, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Misasi, 208 Downs Street, city. She attends Kingston High School and her hobbies include swimming, painting and dancing.

Miss Misasi is five feet, three inches tall, weighs 110 pounds, and her hair is black and her eyes are brown. She holds the D. E. C. A. Sweetheart award at the Kingston High School and she says she would like to further her education in the field of merchandising as a fashion buyer.

PATRICIA A. MISASI

Previously announced candidates for the Page One Queen Award, a feature of the Page One Ball sponsored annually by the Kingston Newspaper Guild, were the Misses Annette Mistretta, 16, of 199-B Bellwood Lane, Saugerties; Lauren Winnie, of 280 Washington Avenue, city; Cheryl Ann Hackney, of Box 63A, Meadow Brook Drive, Saugerties, and Patricia M. Tiano, 76 Brewster Street, Kingston.

Committe chairmen announced today that there is still time for other area high school and college girls between the ages of 16 and 21 to enter the contest. Applications may be obtained by writing Kingston Newspaper Guild, RPO Box 153, Kingston, or from Miss Joan Woinoski, Uptown Freeman Office, 239 Fair Street.

On Sunday, May 1, three finalists will be selected at the Queens Reception to be held at The Flamingo. The public is invited to attend the reception which starts at 2 p. m. There is no charge.

The Page One Queen of 1966 will be announced at the ball to be held Saturday night, May 14 at The Governor Clinton Hotel. The Queen will receive the crown from Miss Pamela Downey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Downey of Mt. Marion, who was the 1965 Page One Queen.

The format of the 11th annual ball includes dinner and dance, the coronation of the Queen, presentation of awards to outstanding personalities in various fields and the Page One Souvenir Yearbook.

Tickets for the ball are available from any member of the Kingston Newspaper Guild.

Memorial Concert Will Be Given at Vassar on Sunday

The Carl Parrish Memorial Concert will be given in the Vassar College Chapel on Sunday, April 17, at 3:30 p. m. when the Vassar College Choir and the Yale Glee Club will present A German Requiem by Johannes Brahams. The 170 voices will be assisted by Melinda Kessler, soprano, Arthur Thompson, baritone, and a 41-piece professional orchestra conducted by Donald M. Pearson.

Mr. Parrish served on the Vassar College faculty from 1953 until his untimely death in November, 1965, and was chairman of the Department of Music from 1953-1958. He was devoted to teaching in a career which began as a pianist and composer. Before coming to Vassar College, he had taught at Wells College, Fisk University, Westminster Choir College, Union Theological Seminary and Pomona College. He taught also during various summers at the University of Southern California School of Music, at Union Theological Seminary School of Sacred Music, and at the University of Minnesota.

Mr. Parrish was co-author of Masterpieces of Music before 1750, author of The Notation of Medieval Music, A Treasury of Early Music, an annotated translation of the Dictionary of Musical Terms by Johannes Tinctoris, and a translation and edition of the Thoroughbass Method by Hermann Keller. He also composed choral arrangements of folk songs, chamber music, and piano pieces.

Page One Award in Labor Will Be Given to Mitch Kaidy

Executive assistant to the New York State Senate Committee on Labor and Industry since Jan. 1965, Mitchell Kaidy of Rochester has been named winner of the Kingston Newspaper Guild's 1966 Page One Award in Labor, according to Henry P. Eighmey, chairman of the awards committee.

The award, along with four others, will be presented at the 11th annual Page One Ball of Kingston Newspaper Guild to be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel, Saturday night, May 14.

Previously announced were Harry Rigby Jr., of 56 Plymouth Avenue, this city, winner of the KNG Page One Award for Civic Achievement, and John J. McCardle, prominent area baseball personality for more than 40 years, who was the winner of the Page One Award in Sports.

Rigby is customer relations director, (community relations, public relations and advertising) of the State of New York Bank.

Winners of two other awards will be announced soon.

Kaidy was born in Brooklyn, March 23, 1925. He was educated in the Brooklyn Grade and High Schools, and holds a B. S. Degree in Journalism, which he received at New York University in 1948. His scholastic honors include

MITCHELL KAIDY

He served in the U. S. Army 1943-45 with the 87th Infantry Division in England, France, Belgium, Luxemburg, Germany. He has two Battle Stars, Rhineland and Central Europe, a Combat Infantry Badge, Bronze Star Medal. He attended a specialized training program, University of Mississippi and Clemson A&M College, Clemson, S. C.

His organization affiliations include, American Newspaper Guild (AFL-CIO); South Presbyterian Church, Rochester, Associated Business Writers of America, CIO Councils in Rochester, 1959.

The Page One Ball labor award winner was employed by the Monticello Evening News, July, 1948 to January, 1949 as sports editor. He was a rewrite man for the Middletown Times-Herald, February, 1949 to October, 1950, and also held the post of school editor. From October, 1950 to December 1965 he was employed by the Rochester Democrat and Chronicle as Federal, State, Labor and city hall reporter and since January, 1965 he has served as executive assistant to the New York Senate Committee on Labor and Industry.

Kaidy is married to the former Jean Harris, and is the father of two children, Kristen, 8 and Mark, 4. He resides at 921 Crittendon Road, Rochester.

The awarding of honors to outstanding personalities in various fields, is one of the features of the Page One Ball. The format of the social event also includes a Page One Queen Contest, the Coronation of the Queen the night of the ball, a Page One Souvenir Book and dinner and dance.

The three finalists for the Page One Queen will be selected on Sunday, May 1 at a reception to be held Sunday, May 1 at The Flamingo Restaurant, Route 9W, Saugerties. Applications for the Queen's contest should be returned to the committee soon.

Tickets for the Ball also are available from any member of the Kingston Newspaper Guild.

Woman Gets Post As New Editor Of Law Magazine

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — The new editor-in-chief of the University of Michigan's Law Review insists it wasn't an omen when the editor's office was redecorated in pale pink and a white.

The new paint job appeared three weeks before Sally Katzen, 23, became the first woman named to hold the top post on the university's quarterly legal journal.

The pretty brunette from Pittsburgh heads a staff of 24 associate and assistant editors — all men — on what is considered by many lawyers one of the top publications of its kind in the United States. The journal frequently is cited in litigants' briefs and court decisions.

Sally already has begun to break with tradition by making personal visits to solicit research contributions from the university's law professors.

"I've been told the job will take about 60 hours a week," she said, "but I hope I won't have to give up my social life."

As a second-year law student Sally also will carry a 12-semester hour academic load.

"They say you're supposed to do about three hours of homework for every hour in class, so maybe I'll just give up sleeping," she laughed.

An honors graduate of Smith College, Sally already has compiled an impressive legal background.

One summer she did legal research for a U.S. Senate subcommittee on constitutional rights and last summer she was a research assistant for the Civil Rights Division of the Department of Justice.

She has been interested in civil rights since her days at Smith, "but not in such a way that I would go out in the streets and march," she said.

MR. AND MRS. HENRY F. GEERZ celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary on April 8 at their home in Colonial Gardens. Mr. Geerz, until his retirement in 1958, was head of the shipping department in the Manhattan Shirt Company of Kingston. Mr. and Mrs. Geerz have one daughter, Mrs. Winfield Benoit of 84 Millers Lane, this city; one grandson and one great grandson. (Freeman photo by John Kruh).

Local YWCA Will Send Delegates To National Meet

More than 800 members of the Young Women's Christian Association from 12 states will be in Rochester on April 22-24 for the National YWCA Conference in the Eastern Region.

Attending from Kingston's YWCA will be the following: Mrs. Eva Maxwell, Mrs. Robert Murray, Mrs. Roger Malloy, Miss Helen V. Bowen, and Miss Frances Maxwell.

The conference will discuss the program and purpose of the YWCA. Some of the program questions will be on how the YWCA can help individuals develop their individuality and self-confidence, the organization's responsibility in community affairs and in world affairs, and how the association deals with current moral standards.

Mrs. William M. Cuthbert of Verona, Pa., a National Board member, will be general chairman, and Mrs. Fred J. Church of Natick, Mass., is program chairman. Dr. Wilbour Eddy Saunders, President-Emeritus of Colgate Rochester Divinity School, will lead a meditation during the conference.

Among other leaders will be Mrs. Lloyd J. Marti, president of the YWCA of the U.S.A., Miss Lilace Reid Barnes of Lake Forest, Ill., past president of the YWCA and chairman of the YWCA's National Commission for Study of the YWCA as a Christian Movement. Also attending will be Mrs. Ambrose L. Cram Jr., of Bronxville, N. Y., vice president of the National Board of the YWCA, and Miss Edith M. Lerrigo, general secretary.

Highlighting conference presentations in Rochester as well as in the other regional YWCA meetings across the U. S. this spring will be a report from the National Commission. The commission's report, which earlier this year was placed before the National Board of the YWCA of the U.S.A., is to be reviewed by conference delegates in concert with commission members.

In its study, authorized by the 1964 national convention of the YWCA, the commission is working with individual and organization leaders to determine what it means in philosophy and practice for an organization to be both Christian and open to all women and girls in communities with widespread religious pluralism and many persons of no faith.

The commission's final report, based on findings from this spring's conferences as well as earlier consultations, will go to the 1967 national convention in Boston for membership action.

By DOROTHY A. NAREL
Freeman Society Editor

To praise Phyllis Curtin's performance last night at the Community Theatre, given under the sponsorship of Community Concerts Association, would be only gilding the lily. All that critics have said about her is true.

Miss Curtin, who is one of the world's most sought after singers today, is a remarkable performer and a striking beauty.

She sings with a wide gamut of feeling, temperament and dazzling spirituality. She can be lighthearted, contagiously gay, staid, or engagingly simple as in a lilting folk tune.

Miss Curtin can also sing of love with the sentimentality of a school girl or with the deep, smoldering tones of a nightclub performer. A dramatic soprano, she achieves a lyricism in some of her selections worthy of any lyric soprano. In short, Miss Curtin is one of America's finest singers today and she deserves all the critical acclaim received.

The first section of Miss Curtin's program was devoted to Franz Schubert, the composer who completely realized the artistic purpose of the song. In this opening segment, Miss Curtin demonstrated her ease for tone placing and phrasing. Her top notes resounded with richness and quality and she immediately established the fact that, as a singer, she is entirely capable of using words and music so that they create artistic unity.

The second section of Hugo Wolf Lieder songs gave expression to Miss Curtin's penetrating tones and excellent diction. Wolf, a Romantic who sought a close intimacy between words and music, gives the singer a difficult lesson in vocal gymnastics. Miss Curtin performed the four selections with ease.

Miss Curtin reached the forte of the first half of her program with the popular aria from Puccini's "Madama A Butterfly," which she sang in English and another Puccini masterpiece—the aria "Vissi d'arte," from Tosca. In these two selections Miss Curtin firmly established her acting abilities.

For the second portion of her program, Miss Curtin reached into the more experimental realm with two selections by Hector Berlioz, one of the most original figures in the history of music. She sang "La mort d'Ophelie" and for the Berlioz bolero "Zaide" she played castanets.

Miss Curtin, who is completely home with South American music, devoted a portion of her concert to four outstanding composers of that country: Heitor Villa Lobos, Jayme Ovalle, Oscar Fernandez and Joaquin Rodrigo.

In the Villa Lobos number "Tu passaste por este Jardin," which is essentially a nightclub type composition, Miss Curtin displayed another side of her creativeness. Her rendition of this beautiful selection was earthy and sentimental.

The program concluded with "Four Epitaphs" by Theodore Chandler which Miss Curtin performed with skill and ease.

Reception Is Given

The power and purity of Miss Curtin's voice and the flexibility with which she performed, gave our Kingston audience an unforgettable evening of sound.

Members of the Board of Directors of Community Concerts entertained Miss Curtin and her gifted accompanist Ryan Edwards at a reception after the performance. It was given in The Stockade, corner of John and Crown Streets.

Also attending was Percy de Forest Warner, II, former Consul of the United States to South America, now retired. Mr. Warner had hosted Miss Curtin when she was on tour in South America for the U. S. State Department. Mr. Warner now resides in Woodstock.

Margery Ryerson Is Bride-Elect

The engagement of Miss Margery Gilmore Ryerson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Newton Ryerson of Swarthmore, Pa., to Peter Radcliffe Jones of Woodstock, son of Mrs. Wendell Jones and the late Mr. Jones has been announced.

Miss Ryerson was graduated from Beloit College and is now studying for her masters degree in creative writing at the University of Iowa. Mr. Jones was graduated Cum Laude from the Hotchkiss School, Amhert College, and is now attending the University of Iowa where he is studying for his masters in fine arts.

The couple plan to wed in August.

Mrs. Jones, a Woodstock artist, is known professionally as Jane Jones.

New York Flea Market Opens for Season Sunday, April 17; Colorful Bazaar

The New York Flea Market, Manhattan's unique outdoor arts and antiques show, opens for its third season on Sunday, April 17. Proceeds will benefit the educational programs of the Community Committee of the Brooklyn Museum.

Occupying the same corner lot at Sixth Avenue and 25th Street here it has been successfully established as the first permanent version of an Old World tradition, the market will be open every Sunday until July 3, then resume from Labor Day to October 23, weather permitting. N. H. Mager is director of the New York Flea Market which offers the wares of about 100 dealers, collectors, hobbyists, swappers and artists.

Like its counterparts abroad, such as Petticoat Lane and the Caledonian in London, El Rastro in Madrid, Paris's "Marche aux Puces," and Mexico City's Lagunilla, the New York Flea Market presents a unique opportunity to buy, sell, browse and swap in an informal, heterogenous trading post. Wares are offered from walls, fences, booths, stands, tables and the backs of station wagons. There will be special exhibits of interesting "collectibles" such as antique and elderly corkscrews, photographic memorabilia and "Granny" spectacles in silver, brass and tortoise shell from a Vermont collection.

Art Exhibit

Many stands are manned by collectors or dealers who are seeking quick cash. Other stands are taken by collectors seeking to attract the rare "sleepers" in which they specialize. Sometimes the heir to a considerable estate takes space to dispose of the "old fashioned" items which have accumulated in his home. There are also "gypsy" traders who travel around the country collecting rarities and exotica for sale at marts like the New York Flea Market. These "gypsies" may offer their wares at as many as 42 shows a year and spend the better part of their free time packing and unpacking, often driving all night to hit the next show.

One area at the flea market is set aside for professional artists who are invited to exhibit. There are also exhibits of unique memorabilia, such gleanings salvaged from attics, farm houses and auctions across the land. The atmosphere is redolent of the teeming outdoor marts and push carts of Manhattan's own lower East Side of the early-century.

Among the relics, curios, thingumbobs and "white elephants" offered for sale are antique jewelry, Tiffany glass, sculpture, carvings, brass, copper and pewter artifacts, old silver, period furniture, antique weapons and tools, ship models, gas lamps, old prints and maps, stained glass windows, European and early phones, old drug bottles and posters.

The hours are from 1 to 7 p. m. each Sunday.

BOGOMIR BOGDANOVIC will be guest artist at the next meeting of the Rondout Valley Art Guild in Kerhonkson in the Berger Law Offices Building at South Main Street. Mr. Bogdanovic will give a studio-type demonstration of oil painting. A resident of Warwick, Mr. Bogdanovic has exhibited in his native Yugoslavia, Germany and many prominent museums and galleries in this country. Listed in "Who's Who" he won 14 different awards including the Dana Water Color Medal in 1963 and operates an art school. The meeting slated for Monday, April 18 is at 8 p. m.

DORIS URELL

Wins Leading Role In Next Coach House Play 'Guys and Dolls'

The plot of "Guys and Dolls," the musical to be presented by Coach House Players in May, revolves around the romance of a slick gambler and a winsome Salvation Army lass who is the leading force in the "Save-a-Soul" mission. There is a parallel love story between a night club stripper and a promoter of a floating crap game. The last mentioned has been going on for some fourteen years in which time the lady has been unsuccessfully attempting to get the reluctant suitor to the altar!

The lead female role of Sarah Brown will be played in the Coach House production by Doris Urell of Ulster. Doris will be remembered by Coach House audiences for her many portrayals in former productions. Her first role with the players was in 1961 when she took the part of Nellie Ewell in "Summer and Smoke." She followed that with appearances in "Separate Tables," "Visit to a Small Planet," and "Ah, Wilderness." She played supporting roles in both "Say Darling" and 'South Pacific." She has also taken parts in several workshop productions. She was a member of her high school choir and now sings in the Trinity Methodist Church choir.

Y-Wives Schedule April 21 Meeting

Y-Wives Club will resume activities after the Easter holidays with a meeting and program April 21 at 8 p. m. at the YWCA, 209 Clinton Avenue. The meeting will begin promptly at 8 to be followed by a film program presented by a representative of the Telephone Company in Kingston. All members are urged to attend this important meeting as several spring activities will be discussed.

Mrs. Francis P. Gardner, chairman of the Spring dinner-dance, announced that it is scheduled for 8 p. m., Saturday, April 23 at The Flamingo. Reservations must be made by April 19 with Mrs. Gardner. Y-Wives will sponsor a bake sale at the Gov. Clinton Market Thursday, April 28, beginning at 9:30 a. m. Co-chairmen are Mrs. William E Barnes and Mrs. William Devine.

Mrs. Frederick F. Burnett, president, announced the appointment of Mrs. Alfred J. Port as chairman of the nominating committee. Election of officers takes place on May 19.

Y-Wives members are reminded of the annual meeting and luncheon of the YWCA on Saturday, April 16 at 12:15 p. m. at the Gov. Clinton Hotel. Reservations may be made at the YWCA at any time.

Garcia-Renart With Philharmonic; Concert Slated for Monday, April 18 Here

Guest artist at the April 17 concert of the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Orchestra will be Luis Garcia-Renart, principal cellist of the Hudson Valley Philharmonic and member of the faculty at Bard College.

The concert will be held in the Poughkeepsie High School at 8:30 p. m. and repeated in the Community Theatre here on Monday April 18. Claude Monteux, musical director and conductor, will conduct both concerts.

Garcia-Renart was born in Barcelona, Spain, in 1936 and came to Mexico in 1941. He began to study music at the age of seven, having been introduced first to the guitar and four years later he began to study the cello with the well-known Imre Hartman.

In 1952 he was brought to the attention of the eminent Pablo Casals and has remained under constant supervision of the famed maestro ever since. For five years he studied harmony, composition and chamber music at the Conservatories of Bern and Basel, Switzerland, and Trossingen, Germany, while also attending the famous master classes of Maestro Casals in Zermatt. In 1961 he was sent on a special scholarship to study with the world-renowned Mstislav Rostropovich at the Moscow Conservatory.

Garcia-Renart made his debut as solo cellist in 1955 at the Palace of Fine Arts in Mexico City. He has since appeared in many concerts as recitalist and as a soloist with orchestras in Europe, the Soviet Union and the Mexican Republic.

Annual Ball Set

The annual ball, designed to help the Philharmonic meet an operational deficit of $17,000 this year, a sum which must be met through special projects, will be held at Champagnat Hall, Marist College, Saturday, April 16. A buffet dinner will precede the ball.

Mrs. Sidney N. Miller, President of the Society, and chairman of the ball with Mrs. Philip G. Swartz, has announced that "The Philharmonic needs and deserves the support of the entire Hudson Valley. The annual benefit ball is a Hudson Valley community project, and all people are invited. Anyone wishing to attend this gala affair may do so by calling the Philharmonic office in Poughkeepsie. In expressing her gratitude to Marist College for its help, she added, "Marist is becoming a great force for culture in this area."

The Philharmonic Orchestra, to be aided by the ball, will be playing a concert for young people on Saturday afternoon, April 16, at Newburgh Free Academy. The following evening, April 17, at the Poughkeepsie High School, with Luis Garcia-Renart as guest 'cellist, and Monday evening, April 18 at Kingston Community Theatre.

Major League Baseball Openers on All Fronts Today

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The baseball season rolls into high gear today with six new managers, one new ball park and one new attitude on display — if the Boston Red Sox get to the ball park on time.

Actually everything should go off like clock work.

The six new managers are ready, Atlanta is ready and the Red Sox have synchronized their watches.

The new timetable for the Red Sox became mandatory Monday when outfielder Carl Yastrzemski was elected the first playing captain in team history and admitted "there have been times during the past five years that I've been ashamed to wear a Rd Sox uniform."

Yastrzemski took immediate steps to institute a new attitude, announcing a ban on card-playing in the clubhouse before games, and ordering all players to report on time — one of the things they occasionally failed to do last year.

"If we didn't have the talent I wouldn't say anything," Yastrzemski pointed out. "But we have too much talent to waste.

"I'm sick of being a laughing stock like the New York Mets."

The Mets were no laughing stock Monday — they were rained out. That left only the Presidential Opener at Washington, D.C. on the schedule, and the Senators and the Democrats came out on the short end of the score as Cleveland recorded a 5-2 victory.

The Mets and Reds will try to get the National League started again today, while Chicago is at San Francisco in another day game. In night action, Houston is at Los Angeles, Philadelphia at St. Louis and Pittsburgh at Atlanta for the Braves' long-awaited debut in the Deep South.

The American League has four day games scheduled — Kansas City at Minnesota, California at Chicago, Detroit at New York and Baltimore at Boston.

Don Heffner of the Reds and Wes Westrum of the Mets will make their postponed managerial debuts at Cincinnati with four other new or used field bosses ready to step on the firing line — Leo Durocher of the Cubs, Eddie Stanky of the White Sox, Grady Hatton of the Astros and Al Dark of the Athletics.

All undoubtedly are hoping to make more successful debuts than the one made by relief pitcher Hubert Humphrey at Washington. The vice president, subbing for President Johnson, threw out the first ball at the Indians-Senators game and LBJ's administration came up a three-time loser.

Dems Bow Again

Johnson has thrown out the first ball twice, and Washington has lost each time. Humphrey extended the Democrats losing streak but not without help from the Senators, who led 2-1 on Frank Howard's homer when the Indians came up with a four-run ninth inning uprising.

Two-run singles by Vic Davalillo and Max Alvis, who collected three hits for the day, were the big blows and tagged Pete Richert with the loss. Sam McDowell got the victory with Sonny Siebert's relief help after checking the Senators on four hits and striking out nine through eight innings.

In the big ones today, the Twins and Dodgers open defense of their championships and the Braves begin their first southern campaign after a day-long series of ceremonies.

The Twins will send Jim (Mudcat) Grant, the biggest winner in the AL last year and one of the league's biggest holdouts this year, against Jim (Catfish) Hunter of Kansas City.

Osteen to Open

The Dodgers will start Claude Osteen, who gets the opening assignment while holdouts Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale continue to try and catch up.

The Astros will give veteran Robin Roberts the honor of pitching his 13th opener.

At Atlanta, meanwhile, businesses and schools will be closed during the afternoon for a downtown parade, then 50,893 people are expected to march on Atlanta Stadium. Tony Cloninger will start for the Braves and Bob Veale for the Pirates.

By that time the Braves should know the result of the court trail aimed at returning the team to Milwaukee.

Nicklaus Wins 2nd Straight Masters

Decision Is Expected Today In Baseball Antitrust Suit

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Circuit Judge Elmer W. Roller labored into the early hours today, trying to complete his decision in Wisconsin's antitrust suit against baseball with the Braves' Atlanta debut only hours away.

The white-haired judge, who is 64, would not pinpoint a time for the announcement of the verdict.

"I'm sure it will be today," Roller said, "but as for what time I'm not making any predictions."

The Braves, who left Milwaukee after 13 seasons here, are scheduled to open at 8:05 p.m., EST, in Atlanta against the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Wisconsin has asked the judge to order the Braves to return here this season if the National League failed to agree to an expansion team for Milwaukee by today. State attorneys have conceded any order by Roller's court could not be enforced unless it came before the Braves' first game in Atlanta.

Early today the judge was still working to complete the draft of his lengthy, complex ruling. A court aide said, "We've got more than 100 pages now."

Judge Roller planned to finish the decision before dawn if possible, but it might be hours later before editing was completed and the decision could be copied and bound for distribution to attorneys and the press.

Glenerie Club Bridge Results

Dr. Murray Fletcher and Irving H. Wheatcroft, Kingston, posted a 59 per cent game to win honors in the Glenerie Bridge Club regular fractional point game. Twenty-five boards were played in a Howell movement.

Other results:

Mrs. Harold Rakov and Mrs. Irving H. Wheatcroft, Kingston, 56 per cent.

Henry Berleth, Woodstock and Ralph Wesselmann, Shokan, 53 per cent.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest LeFevre, Hurley, 48 per cent.

Saugerties Club Accepts Members

Eight new members were voted into the Saugerties Fish and Game Club at its monthly meeting. They are John Dickson, John Baron, Henry R. Copeman, Charles Sherwood, Mickel Baron, Arthur Falk Jr., George Felton and Ray Adams.

Trap chairman Harold Lownsberry made known that trap facilities are now open every Sunday except for special weekends.

Trout chairman Carlton King said that donations are now being accepted for the trout fund. Money raised will be used to purchase trout for Saugerties streams.

The rabbit committee has completed its activities until next season. Thirteen rabbits were caught and released in February and March. Those participating in the activity were Gary Sperl, Art Sperl and William Van Tassel.

Considerable work has been done on the property sight in the Centerville Fish Creek area. A new trap range will soon be opened there.

Net Play Begins In River Oaks

HOUSTON (AP) — Monday's 16 qualifiers in the 32nd annual River Oaks Invitational Tennis Tournament faced the exempt players today as the tournament's opening round got under way.

The No. 1 seed, Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., was paired with Fred Kester, an Irving, Tex., player who downed Tommy West of San Antonio, Tex., 2-6, 6-3, 6-2 in the first qualifying round. Kester dropped Lutcher Bullock of Trinity University 6-2, 6-2 in the second round.

College stars dominated Monday's rounds, with the University of Corpus Christi boasting three qualifiers. Lamar Tech, Trinity and Pan American each qualified two players, followed by Rice and St. Edward's with one apiece.

Tony Roche of Australia, the No. 2 seed in the tournament, was paired with Mike Estep in today's play. The Dallas player qualified by defeating Al Driscole of Beaumont, Tex., 3-6, 6-3, 11-9 and ousting Bill Glaves of Houston 8-6, 6-0.

Another Australian, third-seeded John Newcombe, met Danny Obryant of Trinity, who beat Scott McWilliams of the University of Houston 6-1, 1-6, 6-3 and Joe Csadli of Lamar Tech 6-0, 6-1.

Cliff Richey of Dallas, the fourth seed, was paired with Chris Bovett of Pan American, who defeated David Young of Austin, Tex., 6-2 6-0 Monday before downing Hugh Sweeney of Houston 6-4, 6-4.

Nicklaus Is Forced To Try on Own Jacket

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Such a problem. Jack Nicklaus had just won the Masters and was looking around for someone to help him into his green jacket. And there wasn't anyone to do it.

It's traditional that the defending champion helps his successor into the jacket that goes with the title and first place check, which in recent years has totaled $20,000.

When big Jack became the man to retain the title by beating Tommy Jacobs and Gay Brewer in a playoff Monday there was nobody around to do the honors.

Jack slipped into it himself, grinning all the while.

The three-time champion pointed to the 10th, 11th and 12th holes as "probably the turning point of the match."

One Under Par

He and Jacobs made the turn one under par and three strokes ahead of Brewer.

Nicklaus gained two shots in the three-hole span and nursed that advantage through the last six holes as he and Jacobs posted identical scores.

Nicklaus boomed some of his finest drives throughout the day. "I hit the ball very well," he conceded. "Except for the drive on the 10th hole every one I hit went just where I wanted it to."

His putting also was better and he credited a practice session Sunday night after viewing a television repeat of his putting in the fourth round. He noted he had positioned his eyes outside the ball instead of directly over it and made the adjustment.

Given a lift by his improved play and second money of $12,300, Jacobs said he planned to play a lot of golf in the next few months.

As for Brewer, he said, "I just got off to a bad start. When I three-putted the second hole I became scared of my putter and if you can't putt you can't play."

Toronto Coach Feels His Club Will Get Moving

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Punch Imlach, stuffed head and all, is expected to be back behind the Toronto bench tonight when the Maple Leafs host the Montreal Canadiens in the third game of their National Hockey League Stanley Cup playoff.

And while Imlach tries to guide the Leafs to their first victory, Detroit Manager-Coach Sid Abel gives his chase and check defense another shot at the Chicago Black Hawks in the third game of their semifinal series.

The Leafs are down 2-0 after dropping the first two games at Montreal but Imlach, recovering from a bout with the flu, isn't worried.

"I don't like where I am," said Punch, "but I intend to remedy it. There's no problem. We did it before, we'll do it again."

Imlach said his head felt a little stuffed from the flu but he'll coach tonight.

Veteran Johnny Bower, also recovering from the flu, will be back in goal for Toronto. Terry Sawchuk played both games in Montreal.

Abel, happy with the 1-1 standoff with the Wings in their two games at Chicago, gave Detroit some time off to rest up for tonight's third game.

"After playing 15 or so exhibition games and 70 during the regular season, I don't think anything can be gained by skating between games," Abel said.

"If you don't know what it's all about by now, you're in bad shape."

The Wings did a tenacious checking job on the Black Hawks in Chicago and it paid off with five straight periods of shutout hockey. Now Abel hopes his club can keep it up on Detroit ice.

Chicago Coach Billy Reay, whose club took a 7-0 shellacking Sunday, said he planned no changes for tonight's game.

Granit Course To Open Friday

Granit Hotel & Country Club golf course at Kerhonkson will open for the season Friday, April 15, it was announced by Richard Aaron, golf pro.

The 3450-yard course has come through the winter nicely and both greens and fairways are in top condition, he reported.

Considered one af the better courses in the Hudson Valley region, the Granit is completely irrigated and, despite last year's drought, the fairways and greens remained lush the entire season.

Carved out of pine woods on a gently rolling landscape, the course has three par three holes, four par fours, and two extra long par fives. One par five is 645 yards and the other is 575 yards long from the back tees. Every hole is trapped and each fairway is separated with stands of pine.

Beats Jacobs, Gay Brewer in 18-Hole Playoff

By KEN ALYTA
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — What's next for Jack Nicklaus? The powerful Columbus, Ohio, blond slugger, given a reprieve in the form of a playoff after by his own admission blowing the Masters Golf Tournament, didn't miss Monday.

His victory in the 18-hole playoff with Tommy Jacobs and Gay Brewer added another in his list of historic Augusta accomplishments.

He became the first man to win the Masters two years in a row. He has won it three times in four years, finishing in a second-place tie the year he didn't win.

Last year he set the tournament record of 271—17 under par—and included a tournament record-equalling 64 enroute.

When he won his first Masters three years ago at 23 he became the youngest winner of the classic.

The $20,000 check he earned by shooting a playoff 70 against 72 for Jacobs and 78 for Brewer brought his official money earnings since turning professional to over $449,000.

Is the Top Player

At 26 he stands as the recognized No. 1 player in golf. And this at an age some 10 years before many players reach their peak.

Asked how long he'd continue to play tournament golf, he replied, "As long as I continue to enjoy it and have a desire to win. The two go hand-in-hand. The money hasn't a thing in the world to do with it."

He gave a hint of his next ambition by saying he planned to compete in the British Open — with a difference. This year he'll go there about 10 days early to practice for the classic. "I like to practice, anyway," he explained.

By winning the Masters he has taken the first step toward accomplishing the professional Grand Slam of golf that has eluded Arnold Palmer for so long.

The British Open, the U.S. Open and the PGA Championship round out the prestige-laden quartet he'd like to sweep.

Rendezvous Truder Wins Yonkers Feature

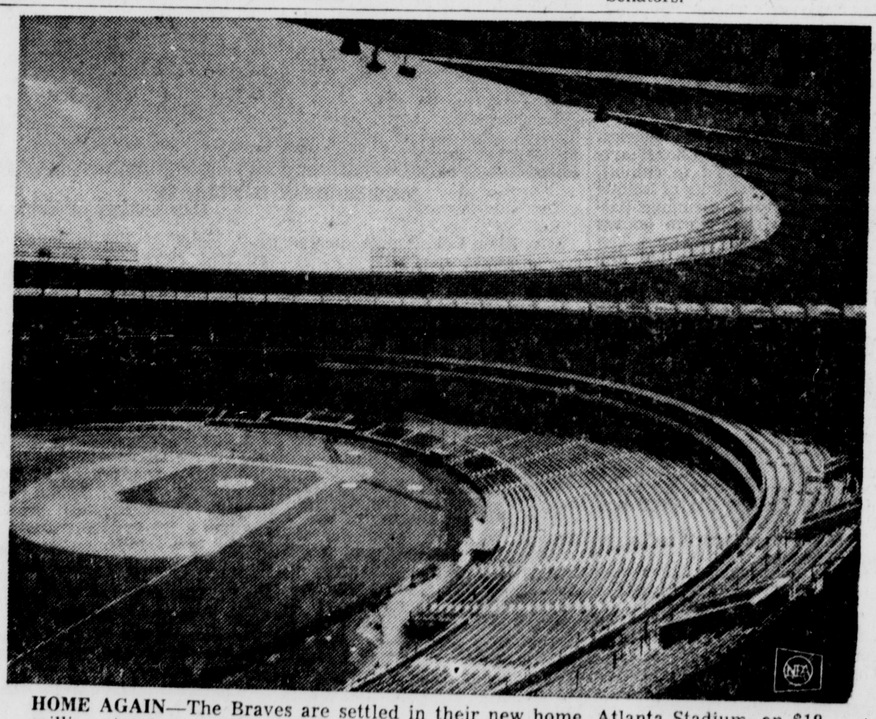

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rendezvous Truder posted a three - quarter - length victory over rank outsider Spike Ed in the $4,500 Ossining pace at Yonkers Raceway Monday night.

Caccialupi, a 19-1 shot, won the $1,200 pace at Batavia Downs, the only other harness track currently operating in New York State.

Rendezvous Truder ($4.60), driven by Archie Niles Jr., took command in the stretch and paced the mile in 2:04 4-5. Simple Simon was third.

Caccialupi ($41.00) paced to a half-length victory over S T in 2:08 2-5. Colonel Lew finished third.

BETWEEN YOU 'N' ME ... by TITURRAY

Mantle Has Goals

FT. LAUDERDALE, Fla. (NEA)—The players speak out as spring training draws to a close. . . .

Mickey Mantle, Yankees: "I have a couple of goals this season. I'd like to play in more games than any Yankee ever played in. I think I need about 120 or 130. I'd also like to hit 500 home runs. I think I need 27 more." . . .

Maury Wills, Dodgers: "Being an entertainer in the winter has helped me to be humorous, not to be too serious about things, to enjoy what I'm doing, not be thin-skinned. It has also taught me how to communicate with people, which is important in baseball because we have 25 different personalities on a ball club. I came to spring training two weeks late and in two weeks surpassed the players who came two weeks early." . . .

Maury Wills

Gene Mauch, Phillies: "I know we've got seven or eight boys on the Phillies we can put in our lineup every day who all know how to play and how to win. Whoever finishes first will have to finish ahead of us." . . .

Tommy Davis, Dodgers: (The outfielder coming back from a fractured ankle): "People don't realize. I'm not limping. It's one of those crazy walks. I've walked like this most of my life. Sort of a nonchalant walk, one foot lazier than the other. Right now everybody notices it since I had the broken ankle." . . .

Jim Maloney, Reds: "I didn't hold out for publicity. I waited until I got what I felt I deserved. I wasn't interested in what Koufax and Drysdale asked for. I just wanted my $50,000." . . .

Bill White, Phillies: "My reaction to the trade (from the Cards) was good because I was going to a better team. We have a chance to win the pennant. The first time I was traded (from the Giants) I wanted it. They had Orlando Cepeda and Willie McCovey and a young fellow named Charley Dees. So I was excess baggage. I know the Cardinal payroll is quite a bit smaller since they got rid of the old guys like me and Boyer." . . .

Bobby Bragan, Braves: "The game is the thing. If all the league presidents and the commissioner and owners were to pass on tonight, God forbid, we'd go ahead with our scheduled exhibition game tomorrow. Baseball is bigger than any individual." . . .

Henry Aaron, Braves: "Do I expect any problems in Atlanta as a Negro player? Not in Atlanta itself because it's a very nice city. What scares me is when I get outside of Atlanta. It'll be right in the midst of a bunch of Ku Klux Klansmen, and I don't care to go through that again. I'm an Alabama boy and my folks still live there and when I go back and no one knows who I am, I'm just a second-class citizen. It's different when they know me, and this I don't care for. I want to be just a human being whether I'm a professional ballplayer or a common laborer." . . .

Bobby Richardson, Yankees: "I can't say that this year will be my last year because I'm already a year past my deadline. We'll have to see." . . .

Between you'n'me, commissioner William D. Eckert said, "Spring training in Florida is certainly an experience. I never got to the beach, never swam, didn't sit in the sun or go fishing or sailing. Baseball is a great sport." . . .

Bat Patrol, 76ers Win 3rd, 4th Grade Tilts

76ers, Celtics To Play Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Coach Dolph Schayes still feels his Philadelphia 76ers will "come out roaring" as they try to fight off elimination in the National Basketball Association Eastern playoff tonight against the Boston Celtics.

"Time is running out," Schayes said Monday as he watched the 76ers in an hour-long practice. "But the fact that we're one defeat away doesn't mean anything.

Philadelphia, trailing Boston 3-1 in the best-of-seven series, must win its next three games to advance to the final round.

A Boston victory will close out the Eastern series.

There's probably a good reason for Schayes' outlook for this game. Boston hasn't won on the Convention Hall floor since December, 1964, including five games this season.

In the Western Division final playoff, St. Louis, trailing Los Angeles 3-2 in a best-of-seven series, faces the Lakers Wednesday night on the Hawks' court.

The Hawks stayed alive by defeating the Lakers 112-100 Sunday night in Los Angeles. Now the determined Hawks must take the next two to keep going.

Several Changes In ABC Standings

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A flurry of high scores shook up the standings, but failed to dislodge the leader Monday in the American Bowling Congress Tournament.

The runners-up rolled games of 437, 463 and 430 in a strong bid to overtake Tony Loiacano and Bob Kwiecien of Detroit, who have led the regular doubles since April 3 with 1,351.

Baer also claimed fourth place in regular all-events with 1,932. In addition to his doubles series, he rolled 669 in the team event and 615 in singles.

Baier appeared to be in a strong position to challenge John Wilcox of Williamsport, Pa., who is the all-events division leader with 2,004. But Baier dropped to 164 in his final game of the singles.

Bob Pitzer of Newcastle, Pa., fired the best series of his 10-year bowling career, 702, to move into sixth place in regular singles. The 30-year-old mailman rolled games of 248, 191 and 263.

John Rogers and Joe Signorelli of Lafayette, Ind., tied for second place in classic doubles with a 1,428 total. Signorelli, 26, a supermarket manager, set the pace with 642.

Sam Stump of Zanesville, Ohio, bowled a 677 series to take third place in classic singles. The classic division is reserved for professional bowlers.

First Contest Is Scheduled This Saturday

Pitcher Gary Greiner, shortstop Paul (Boots) Buytkins and first baseman George Druttman are the trio of returning starters Ulster Community College baseball coach Al DiBernardo will count on to lead the Senators through a rugged schedule. The opener is Saturday at Dietz Stadium against Kingsborough.

Last year Ulster posted a 5-6 record. This season's slate includes some of the best junior college baseball teams in the area and chances of going over the .500 mark depend on how the newcomers jell.

Because of limited facilities, the team has been working at Loughran Park and that is not designed to handle a college team.

There are no locker room facilities and no shower and many of the candidates dress in good clothing.

DiBernardo, who also serves as the school's athletic director, said that when the gymnasium and athletic field becomes a reality, the athletic program will prosper and athletics for girls can also be started.

A Southpaw Staff

As for this year's club, Greiner figures to head a pitching staff which also includes Kingston's Ken Heppner, Cole Vulpiani of Highland, Bruce Hanson of Wallkill and Gene Fix of Margaretville. Fix is the only righthander on the staff.

Bruce Erlichmann is the number one catcher with Joe Amendola and Leroy Winchell in reserve.

Two former Saugerties stars—Richie Greco at third and John Freligh at second—will man two of the infield posts. Buytkins, a .488 hitter last season, is the shortstop and Druttman will be back again at first. Bob Murphy and John Donnaruma are other infield prospects.

Tony Toney, Bill Egan and Amendola, all former Kingston High players, will be in the outfield along with Onteora's Hugh Spoljaric and Winchell.

Two Tough Clubs

A highlight of this year's slate is the game on Saturday, Apr. 30 against Nassau Community College. Nassau was the fifth ranked club in the country in 1965 and boasts a pair of junior college All-America players. They will meet the Senators at Dietz Stadium.

Also on the slate is Hudson Valley Community College, the Region III champion.

Monticello Is Getting Ready, Barn Area Opens on Friday

MONTICELLO, N. Y.—Monticello Raceway, the Catskill Mountains' Mighty M, is now fully engrossed in preparation for its ninth racing season. Action at the pictorial plant commences on May 5 and continues through September 17.

On tap for the 1966 tenure is 117 evenings and the usual four afternoons of competition. The Afternoon, part of the track's unique double-header programs, are inked for July 2 and 23, August 13 and September 3.

Activity officially starts this Friday, April 15, when the equine inhabitants roll in for the summer. However, things have been jumping at the Mighty M since last Monday.

Aside from the usual reading procedures, workmen were hurried into action a week earlier because of a situation at Roosevelt Raceway which developed during the last two weeks of March.

Horsemen stabled at Roosevelt were asked to move since Roosevelt's barn area was to be renovated. Continually in use for nearly three years, the Long Island oval's barns needed repair.

Most of the horsemen at Roosevelt had no other place to stable their horses. Yonkers Raceway was full, as were both tracks in Goshen, N. Y. and all the farms on Long Island. So, Monticello came to the rescue and management made swift plans to open the Mighty M barn area and training track nearly two weeks earlier than the April 15 traget date.

Emergency Call

Calls quickly went out to trackmen, electricians, plumbers, carpenters and painters. The 23 barns and 703 stalls were the objective.

To accomodate such horsemen caught in the bind at Roosevelt like Bill Haughton, Johnny Chapman, Lou Miller, Jim Michaels, Jack Lake, Lou Kummer, Lee Broglio and Joe Faraldo, much work had to be completed pronto. Water and electricity was turned on in jig time. Repairs were made in short order and the training track was instantly scraped clear of its winter coat of straw before tractors, harrows and screens smoothed its wrinkles.

By last Thursday, horses were pounding around the training track in abundance, some 200 strong. Thirty of these were members of the Haughton string, 25 were from Chapmans stable and another 20 are under trainer-writer Lou Miller's wing.

As busy as the Mighty M has been, nothing truly gives indication of what is in store for the fans this season. In addition to such stand-bys as the twin double, perfecta, double-headers, juvenile and aged events on the track itself, several innovations will greet the patron on opening night.

New Post Time

A new 8:30 post time will be introduced as well as messenger service in the elegant General Sullivan Room. Also, horses will be classified under the A, B, C system instead of the conditioned method which has been used the last three years.

For watching and wagering pleasure will be no less than 33 stakes or special events spotted throughout the meet. Augmenting such annual fixtures as the Juvenile Educational Program finals, Excelsior and New York Sire Stakes, will be three new series.

These are the $160,000 estimated Grand Circuit Series for the nation's top two and three-year-olds during a two week run of July 11-23, two legs and a final of the $75,000 estimated Can-Am Series for three-year-olds, and two $7,500 estimated three-year-old events for locally-bred racers. Monticello will also celebrate the birth of harness racing in this country 160 years ago with its Yankey Trot on June 10. This is an aged test named in honor of Yankey, the first horse to ever race faster than 3:00, a feat which was accomplished on June 10, 1806 with a mile in 2:59 over the old Harlem race course.

Mighty M management is optimistic this will be the best season ever. With old and new attractions aplenty, plus many new faces in the drivers and equine ranks, virtually nothing has been overlooked in an effort to make it such.

"Management has done its best to provide good racing and patron comfort," said Franklin E. Devlin, President and General Manager. "We are optimistic about our 1966 season. We eagerly look forward to the greatest meet in our history."

Ulster Golfers Slate Opener on April 20

Coach Mike Perry is handling the divot diggers, who practice and play home matches at Wiltwyck Country Club.

Returning from last year's squad are Wayne Bock and Hugh Crowell. Newcomers include Lee Robbins, Pat Manfro, Jim Dougherty and Don Wolff. Perry has been working the squad indoors.

The schedule:

Rookie Barry On All-Star Team

NEW YORK (AP) — San Francisco's Rick Barry, Rookie of the Year in the National Basketball Association, has moved into exclusive company.

He's been chosen along with Wilt Chamberlain of Philadelphia, Jerry Lucas and Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati and Jerry West of Los Angeles on the NBA All Star team.

The voting, conducted among sports writers and broadcasters in the nine league cities, producedo unanimous choices. Robertson came closest, missing on only one of the 86 ballots cast.

Named to the second team were Bill Russell, John Havlicek and Sam Jones, all of Boston, and Philadelphia's Hal Greer and Baltimore's Gus Johnson.

Dobbs Seen as Top Candidate For Army Grid Coaching Job

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Texas Western Athletic Director George McCarty said time was the biggest factor regarding his football coach, Bobby Dobbs, and the West Point position.

"I'm going on the assumption that the longer this hangs the better our chances are," said McCarty. "He hasn't made up his mind. I don't know what he'll do."

Dobbs met last weekend with Army's Athletic Director Ray Murphy and talked with him on the telephone Monday about the West Point coaching post, vacated last week when Paul Dietzel resigned and became the South Carolina football coach.

"We're negotiating," said Dobbs about the telephone call.

A spokesman at West Point, N.Y., said Monday night, "Ray Murphy will be in his office Tuesday and may make a decision at that time."

He said physical education instructors had enough know-how to send the Cadets through the basics of punting and throwing "at least for a while." He also said Dobbs was the only candidate for the post.

Dobbs coached the Miners to their first winning record since 1957 and among victories in the 8-3 mark was a 13-12 triumph against Texas Christian in the Sun Bowl in his first season last year.

Dobbs graduated from West Point in 1946 playing on the 1943-44 Army teams under Earl (Red) Blaik and was a member of Blaik's coaching staff after graduation.

"He's really torn up between the two places," said McCarty.

Screaming for Mothers and God

Routine Patrol Duty Turns Into Horrible Viet Fight

BINH GIA, Viet Nam (AP)—"It was horrible," said Pfc. Ronald Haley, as he stood in the tiny clearing blasted from the jungle so that the dead and wounded could be evacuated.

"I've never heard such screaming in my life. Many of the wounded were yelling for their mothers. Some of the kids were calling for God," said Haley, one of the few survivors.

In Jungles Two Weeks

Haley, of Ukiah, Calif., was dirty and unkempt after his unit had been in the jungles 30 miles east of Saigon for two weeks searching for the Viet Cong. The U.S. 1st Division infantrymen found them Monday afternoon and in the bitter fight perhaps a third or more of the company were killed or wounded.

The company commander, Capt. William Nolen of Florence, S.C., described how the battle involving his "Big Red One" troops developed. He was wounded twice.

The company, part of the 2nd Battalion, 16th Regiment, was moving through the jungles northeast of Binh Gia on a routine patrol. At noon sniper fire began.

"After a while," Nolen said, "heavy fire started coming in. We moved into a perimeter. In this first part of the fight that lasted from 45 minutes to an hour, we took quite a few casualties.

"The Viet Cong withdrew and we called in artillery fire. An Air Force rescue helicopter came over and powered a ladder. They hauled out about a dozen of our wounded.

Completely Surrounded

"But suddenly we started receiving fire from all round. There were mortars coming in, heavy machinegun fire. We were completely surrounded."

The Viet Cong were everywhere. An estimated battalion of the enemy from a main force regiment was involved.

First Lt. Kenneth Alderson, of Nashville, Tenn., said snipers kept firing from the trees.

"One of my boys picked up a grenade and charged one of the trees. He was killed. I saw another lieutenant running from tree to tree looking for Viet Cong positions. He was hit seven times before he was finally killed," he said.

Staff Sgt. Lewis Painter, of Olympia, Wash., who arrived on the scene early today, said:

"I went in with the relief company. We found the Viet Cong command post. There were bunkers and trenches all around. While I was searching one bunker a Viet Cong wearing a khaki uniform and carrying a weapon came walking along. I shot him on the spot. I have his weapon as a souvenir, but it won't bring back the guys that got killed."

Police Probing Kaplan Burglary

Detectives Leonard Ellsworth and John Crespino said that approximately $350 worth of merchandise was taken. They said the loot included a velvet armchair, two bar stools, two mirrors and a 12-by-12-foot rug. They said that one of the bar stools was recovered under a nearby pile of lumber.

Entry was gained through a rear window on the Ferry Street side of the building, police said. It was reported that a vehicle might have been backed up to the building to haul away the merchandise.

B52s Escalate

Air Force jets roared over the Dien Bien Phu area, in northwestern North Viet Nam, as well as Vinh. Pilots reported destroying three storage buildings near Son La, 54 miles east of Dien Bien Phu, four more in a staging zone 45 miles to the east, and setting four more aflame nearby. They also said they destroyed 20 buildings and damaged five at Bung Cha, 74 miles southwest of Vinh, and damaged three roads and a pontoon bridge.

The U.S. spokesman did not explain why the decision had been made to send the Guam-based bombers north. But it is known the U.S. Military Command is highly pleased with the saturation bombings in the south, both as a military weapon against underground Viet Cong positions and as a psychological weapon against enemy morale.

Waves of 10

Flying over the weather at 40,000 feet, the B52s usually strike in waves of 10 planes. They can't be heard from the ground, and the enemy doesn't know he is being attacked until the bombs come tumbling down on him.

The multimillion-dollar bombers, pride of the Strategic Air Command, were designed originally to carry nuclear weapons for massive retaliation against an aggressor before the development of accurate ocean-spanning intercontinental ballistic missiles.

Pleased with their successful use in a guerrilla war, the Defense Department recently embarked on a program of modification expanding the payload of the bombers from 38,250 pounds to 60,000 pounds. They will be able to carry 84 of the 500-pound bombs inside and 24 of the 750-pound bombs under their wings.

Admits Bomb Shortage

The Defense Department acknowledged in Washington that the U.S. air war in the south had been temporarily curtailed because of a shortage of bombs.

Assistant Secretary of Defense Arthur S. Sylvester said that the political troubles in Da Nang had forced the diversion of ships with ordnance to other unloading areas.

Sylvester also said another factor in the "temporary reduction in sorties within South Viet Nam" was that the South Vietnamese "are mounting fewer attacks requiring air support." This also seems due to the political situation.

A U.S. spokesman in Saigon reported Monday that American planes carried out 300 missions over South Viet Nam Sunday compared with the usual total of 450-500.

The Viet Cong activity reported by Vietnamese officials Monday night was a hit-and-run attack on a police substation on the outskirts of Saigon, near the Chinese section of Cholon. A spokesman said a civilian was killed and a policeman wounded when the guerrillas fired four mortar rounds.

Firemen Are Busy

City fire fighters were kept busy battling brush fires today in various parts of the city. Fire dispatchers reported a grass fire in progress this afternoon at Fourth Avenue and Pulaski Street. The alarm came in at 12:23 p. m. Earlier, at 11:11 a. m., firemen were summoned to another grass fire across from 55 Spring Street. They also were summoned to a brush fire at 10:30 a. m. at the rear of 23 Ulster Street.

File Charges, Counter Charges In Highland Case

It all started about 1 a. m. this morning when Helen and Richard Woodin of Highland drove up to the Highland state police sub-station and requested the troopers to arrest Allan Taylor on a third degree assault charge. After that things became very confusing for Troopers Harry Foster and C. J. Bedensee.

Before the matter was concluded, several people preferred charges against each other and the whole matter was adjourned by Town of Lloyd Justice Lewis DiStasi until 8 p. m. on May 3. All parties involved were released in their own recognizance.

Started at Trailer

It was gathered by state police that the babysitting job was to have concluded at 5 p. m. but it was 1 a. m. when the parents arrived.

An argument ensued and trouble brewed. Allan Taylor, New Paltz, who was visiting the Crogers, became involved in the affair and before it ended several charges were lodged.

Helen Woodin swore out a warrant against Taylor charging third degree assault committed against her and the two children and also lodged a complaint against John Croger for assault, third degree against herself. Richard Woodin Sr., also swore out a warrant.

Charge Mischief

Then Croger swore out an information against Helen Woodin charging malicious mischief for the alleged breaking of a window in the trailer. Allan Taylor swore out a warrant charging Helen Woodin with third degree assault and a warrant was also sworn out by Taylor charging Richard Woodin Sr. with third degree assault.

When the affair was over no one knew just who had been charged for what and Judge DiStasi adjourned the matter until May 3. Even the officers who served the warrants were confused.

Upstate Attorney Dies

GLENS FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—L. Ray Lewis, an attorney in nearby Hudson Falls for more than 50 years, died today in Glens Falls Hospital. He was 83.

—Require the public employment relations board to take away recognition from any union responsible for a strike. The board could deny recognition "indefinitely or for a specified period of time."

Commenting on the panel's recommendations, Travia said he felt that organized labor would withdraw some of its objections to the Democratic measure and urge its passage.

Was Vetoed Before

Except for the penalties against unions, the panel's report resembles the Democratic bill in many respects. Rockefeller vetoed a similar Democratic proposal last year on the ground that it would "undermine the deterrent to strikes by public employes."

Rockefeller has given no sign as to whether he will adopt the panel's recommendations intact or revise them in drafting his measure.

Carpenter Named

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg announced that Francis W. Carpenter of Harrison, N.Y., has been named director of the office of public affairs in the U.S. Mission to the United Nations. Previously Carpenter had been acting director. Carpenter, a former newspaperman, joined the mission as a press officer in 1957.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—Electronics, aerospace issues and specialties were strong in an irregularly lower stock market early this afternoon.

The Down Jones industrial average at noon was off 3.89 at 938.53.

Color television stocks and related electronics received a boost from reports that manufacturers of color-TV sets do not expect to catch up with consumer demand until well into 1967 and are stepping up production in an effort to double last year's sales.

Airlines were mixed, some of them undergoing profit taking. The office equipments and drugs worked higher but rails and chemicals were mixed. Nonferrous metals were lower.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down .3 at 348.7 with industrials off .7, rails off .2 and utilities up .1.

powers of our counties, cities, towns and villages in 1962. Commission of per capita State Aid to local governments established in 1962. Suburban Town Law enacted and Ten-year sewer program initiated also in 1962.

"Perhaps the most important gain we have made since 1925 is the development of a new attitude of local officials—an eagerness to strengthen our local government better to serve their people. This is demonstrated by the fact that most of our advances have been initiated and accomplished by the united efforts of our local officials themselves," the report states.

During the past 25 years the function of local assessing of real property has kept pace with the improvement brought about in the performance of almost every other function of local government in our state.

Lag Still There

"Despite the notable gains that have been made in some cities, towns and villages, real property assessing has generally lagged far behind almost everywhere," Raichel charges.

Since the local assessment roll is the foundation upon which we have built our entire system of local finance, "weaknesses in that foundation impair the ability of our local government to finance services to their people and to fairly apportion the cost hereto among the real estate taxpayers. As real estate taxes rise, it becomes increasingly important that assessments be equitable — otherwise, the harmful effects of inequities are multiplied," the report states.

In the five years between 1955 and 1960, real estate taxes in this State, outside the city of New York, increased by about a half a billion dollars, or 68 per cent. Most of the increase was in the towns, where tax levies for all purposes (county, village, town, school district and special district purposes) rose by more than $360 million, or 84 per cent, in that short period. In our upstate cities during the same five years, the report states, real estate taxes increased by $115 million, or 43 per cent.

"The primary objective of our entire system of local assessing should be to bring about equitable distribution of the real estate tax burden among the real estate taxpayers. Despite notable progress in some of our cities, towns and villages, we have generally fallen short of that objective. Because of rising real estate taxes, it has become increasingly urgent that we eliminate the weaknesses of the present system and move much more swiftly toward achieving equitable assessments," the report states.

Equitable apportionment of the real estate tax burden among property owners in each locality cannot be achieved unless these weaknesses are identified and eliminated.

Summarizes Weaknesses

These weaknesses are summarized in the report as:

Failure of local governing bodies to recognize the importance of assessing function and of the local assessor's responsibilities.

Because of the important responsibilities of the local assessor, we must have better qualified assessors.

(Twenty-five years ago there was determined movement in the state to abolish the justice court. Then there were 3,500 justices in the town of the State. Of that number 2,100 had never tried a single case. Under the leadership of the Association of Towns, the number was reduced by one half. As a result of this and the initiation of training programs, the prestige of the justice court was lifted, and this important function of town government survived, despite the attacks upon it in the recent reorganization of the entire court system of the State).

Generally speaking, the assessor in this state, with the usual occasional exception, is poorly compensated. In part, this is due to the lack of understanding by the governing bodies of the municipalities of the importance of the assessing function. In large measure, however, it is also due to the fact that in many localities the governing bodies realize that a single well-qualified appointed assessor, adequately compensated, equipped and protected against improper interference, could do a better job than three, but they are reluctant to assume the possible political risks of reducing the number by their own action. In such situations local boards compromise by making minimum expenditures for a system that is not working well.

Lack Equipment, Tools

In many localities, the assessors lack the equipment and tools necessary for competent assessing, such as tax maps and property description records.

The report points out that the New York State Institute of Assessing Officers, several municipal organizations and the State Board of Equalization and Assessment now provides training programs. Unfortunately those most in need of this training fail to avail themselves of its benefits. It is also pointed out that even assessors fully qualified to appraise ordinary types of property find it impossible to value large industrial and utility properties.

The report also points out that in most places, complaints on Grievance Day are heard and determined by the same persons who made the original assessment and no independent review can be had before the assessment becomes final. "Our taxpayers have long complained about the lack of independent review," the report notes.

"In some of the communities that have had professional reevaluations, the initial investment in the job is being rapidly lost by failure to keep the assessment rolls up to date in subsequent years," the report adds.

Raichle, in his report notes that the functions of assessment be transferred to the county. One county has transferred assessing from the town to the county and several others in recent years have given it consideration. In other states, county assessment is the general rule rather than the exception.

School districts have a direct interest in city and town assessment rolls since school taxes are required to be spread on such rolls. Because of taxpayer complaints about inequities, some school boards have proposed that the county prepare a special assessment roll for school purposes. Other school officials have gone so far as to suggest that the school districts prepare their own assessment rolls, Raichle points out.

"The function of assessing should be retained by the cities, towns and villages, provided the necessary changes can be made to insure substantially better results," Raichle reports.

Non-competitive class which means they must meet qualifications (but not written examination).

Fixed term of office providing sufficient time for assessor to demonstrate that he con do a good job without danger of removal for doing so.

Initiation of New System.

Initiate the new system by State legislation providing, however, that it may be submitted to local referendum if questioned by the voters, thus preserving local home rule as done in the case of the legislation reducing the number of Justices of the Peace.

Tax maps.

Property description cards.

Initial revaluation of all taxable properties.

In addition the assessors should have,

Competent advice on assessment proceedures, and mechanical and clerical help.

Statutory provision should be made for reasonable schedules of dates allowing adequate time for the assessor to carry out his duties.

The law should provide the taxpapers with an independent review of assessments, by a local board consisting of persons who did not participate in making original assessment. The assessor should attend the proceedings and should have the right to have his views recorded.

Improvements in provisions for judicial review of assessments.

Cooperation Necessary

Cities, towns and villages must act cooperatively, and the State and counties must assist the localities to achieve effective performance of the assessing function, Raichle points out. Among the things the State should do is to develop a program of State assistance for providing Tax maps; develop a program of State assistance for initial revaluations where cost would be an excessive burden upon the locality; provide counties in performing responsibilities assigned to them under the program; expand training programs for assessors; provide assessors manuals, handbooks and source data; provide information concerning opportunities and procedures for cooperative arrangements between local governments.

Among the things the counties should provide are: Establishment of appropriate department or agency of county government to assist local assessors, individually and collectively; prepare tax maps, maintain them in current condition and advise assessors as to their use; provide advisory valuations on moderately complex properties with State advise on very complex properties; advise and assist local assessors on assessment procedures and law; coordinate and improve the preparation of information on real estate sales; assist in training assessors; advise local board of review. In addition, the report states, the counties should be empowered, but not required, to provide mechanical and clerical assistance and records and forms in connection with assessment and tax collection.

In conclusion the report states that "the program should be reviewed, criticized constructively, and progressed as a whole, if we are to achieve the results to which our people are entitled. By working together, we can overcome the obstacles that have so long confronted us and raise the function of assessing and the office of assessor to a position of competence and effectiveness, comparable with the best in any other local government service."

Need 10 Years

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China's National Policy Conference has decided it will take more than 10 years to modernize the nation's industry, agriculture, science and defense, Peking radio said today.

The conference, which heard a report from Premier Chou En-lai, was held at an unspecified time and place and brought together many government and party leaders.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

by ROGER E. SPEAR
Investment Advisor & Analyst

Hold Utility Stocks At Relatively Low Levels

Q) "I own the following utility stocks. At present they are lower than when I bought them. In your opinion, should I hold on or sell? The stocks are Brooklyn Union Gas; Columbia Gas; Philadelphia Electric; Union Electric of Missouri; Ohio Edison. What has happened to these stocks?"

D.A.

A) This is a very reasonable question. I have answered it before but since it keeps cropping up, I will do so again. Public utilities as a group are among the most secure and predictable stocks on the list. They are held in large part by institutions, who always reduce their positions when money rates harden. The steady rise in the tightness of money has influenced these investors—and many other conservative persons — to switch into higher-yielding bonds or loans.

Furthermore, the present market has been quite speculative for a considerable period, with attention focused on fast-moving high-multiple stocks, such as Polaroid; Xerox; Zenith and other color TV issues. You have, on the whole, a good list of utilities and I would not sell them at current relatively low prices. Over a period of time, they should work out well for you.

Q) "Our investment club is made up of Navy and Army men stationed on the West Coast. We believe that the Nike-X program will really be big within the next six months and know that Raytheon will play a major role. Do you think Raytheon is the best investment among companies involved in Nike-X or would you suggest another?" T.I.

A) It is a great pleasure to number you gentlemen among my readers. If the Nike-X program becomes big in the near future, Raytheon is probably your best buy from the standpoint of security. If you care to assume more risk, I suggest you also consider Varian and Microwave Associates, both potential sub-contractors.

Mr. Spear connot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

1. Said the first elements of a combat engineers will arrive in South Viet Nam by the end of May if Senate approval is received this month as expected. The House of Representatives approved the force Monday night by a vote of 81-7.

"I'm assured by Senate leaders the bill will pass by a pretty good margin," the president said.

2. Predicted that the continuing negotiations between the Philippines and the United States on America bases here would be completed by the end of 1966.

Won't Modify Trade Ban

3. Declared that the Philippines, which has outlawed communism, will not modify its present ban on trade with Red China. Some Filipino legislators have urged a change in this economic policy.

Marcos, 48, a guerrilla hero of World War II, completed his first 100 days in office April 9. He pointed with pride to the fact that the Philippine peso is firmer on the international monetary market than at any time since the nation got its independence from the United States July 4, 1946.

On U.S.-Philippine relations, Marcos expressed delight that on April 15 the United States will turn back to the Philippines 61,750 acres of the big U.S. Clark Air Base which American defense authorities say are no longer needed.

Wants Ryuku Returned

TOKYO (AP) — Seiho Matsuoka, the government chief of American- occupied Okinawa, told the Japan Times today he will work to return the Ryukyu Islands to Japanese control except for U.S. bases there.

Matsuoka told Shintaro Fukushima, president of the Times and of Kyodo News Service, he wants to develop self-government in the Ryukyus by abolishing decrees issued by U.S. government administrators.

The chief executive, who now is chosen by the Okinawan legislature, said he also wants to institute direct elections.

Dismiss Felony Against Porter, Held on Other

A felony charge of second degree grand larceny against Troy Porter, 29, of 20 Ann Street, was dismissed today in City Court.

However, he was ordered rearrested on a petit larceny charge. Special City Judge George A. Beck adjourned the case for a hearing Wednesday and Porter was remanded to the County Jail. Porter was arrested over the weekend by Detectives Leonard Ellsworth and William Slover.

In other court cases, Judge Beck adjourned to April 26 a hearing for Donald Fogarty, 28, of 83 Green Street, arrested on a third degree assault charge. He was arrested on the complaint of Clara Suto, of 136 Delaware Avenue.

Judge Beck also adjourned to April 19 a hearing for William "Willie" Mebane, 46, of 608 Broadway, arrested Sunday on a first degree assault charge in connection with a shooting.

Mebane, who was remanded to the County Jail without bail, was charged with shooting Walter Sims, of 60 Van Buren Street, with a 22 caliber rifle.

Rockefeller said: "By encouraging communities throughout the State to maintain uniformly high levels of treatment of wastes, these State contributions for operation and maintenance costs are an integral part of the 'Pure Waters' program."

EMPLOYMENT

NOTICE TO JOB APPLICANTS
The Kingston Daily Freeman does not knowingly accept Help Wanted advertisements from employers covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act if they offer less than legal minimum wages or pay wage differentials based on sex. Most employes engaged in interstate commerce or in the production of goods for such commerce must be paid not less than $1.25 an hour and time and one-half for hours worked over 40 in a week. Beginning September 3, 1964, most employes in certain large retail service, construction and other enterprises engaged in or producing goods for commerce must be paid not less than $1.15 an hour and time and one-half for hours worked over 42 in a week. The Act also requires equal pay for equal work for men and women. If you are offered less by covered employers, or if you have questions concerning the Fair Labor Standards Act, call or write the U. S. Labor Department's local office at 881 Gerard Ave., Bronx, N. Y., 10452, WYandotte 2-1235.
IMPORTANT NOTICE: The New York State Law against Discrimination and the Federal Civil Rights Act of 1964 prohibit discrimination in employment because of sex unless based on a bona fide occupational qualification. Help Wanted and Situation Wanted advertisements are arranged in columns captioned "Male" and "Female" for the convenience of readers and are not intended as an unlawful limitation or discrimination based on sex.

Exam Announced For Investigator In Alcohol Field

The State of New York Division of Alcoholic Beverage Control has announced that an examination for the position of Beverage Control Investigator with the State Liquor Authority and local Beverage Control Boards will be held June 4.

Applications from interested area residents will be accepted up to May 2 and must be filed no later than that date. The opportunity to become an investigator, at a salary of $6,675 to $8,135 exists on both the state and local levels. It is expected that there will be a substantial number of appointments made this year.

Maximum salaries are reached in five annual increases in this position and only minimum experience is required. General qualifications for this position are high school graduation and two years of satisfactory business, governmental or investigative experience. Two years of additional experience in field investigation or in the administration of an Alcoholic Beverage Control program at a county level is also required. Graduation from an accredited college or university from a four year course for which a bachelor's degree is granted may be substituted for one year of the general experience and one year of the specific experience. Graduation from a recognized law school or admission to the Bar of New York State may be substituted for 1½ years of the general experience and 1½ years of the specific experience.

Candidates must be of sound health and in good physical condition, and must be of good moral character and habits.

Numismatists Hold Auction; Hear Hall

Robert Sandt of Woodstock presided at the last meeting of the Mid-Hudson Numismatics Club of Saugerties, in the absence of president Merwin Hommel.

There was a large attendance to hear Charles Hall speak and show his large collection of commemorative coins.

The club voted to send for ten Special Mint Sets to be used as special gifts.

At the next meeting in Kingston on April 21, Joe Manchester of Schoharie will conduct the auction.

Herman Hoffman of Mt. Tremper was voted into membership in the club.

Mrs. Robert Sandt of Woodstock and Mrs. Violet Martin served refreshments.

Urges Extension Of Dutchess Runway

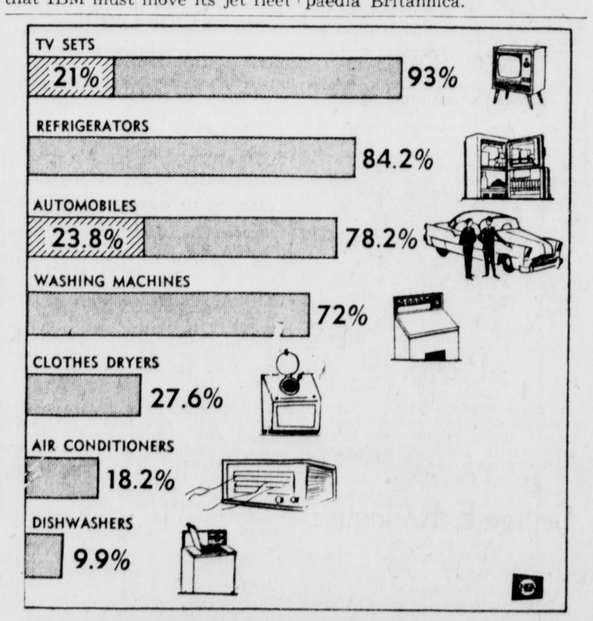

The need of extension to Dutchess County Airport to permit operation of IBM's jet fleet there was emphasized by Thomas J. Watson Jr., IBM board chairman in a letter to Dutchess Board of Supervisors.

The Dutchess Board of Supervisors met Monday morning.

Watson's letter said the firm will continue its operations here "if an adequate runway of at least 5,000 feet is ready for use by mid-1967."

Watson said the facilities at New Hackensack were inadequate. In a previous warning by an IBM official the firm noted that IBM must move its jet fleet operations to an airport with more suitable facilities unless the board takes action.

HOUSEHOLD POPULARITY CONTEST—Television sets are far and away the most popular appliances in American homes according to a Census Bureau survey. Almost 93 per cent of the nation's 60 million households have sets and 21 per cent have more than one. But there are still more two-car—23.8 per cent—than two-television families. Newsgraph shows other popular appliances in order of preference.

DOG DUTY—Newport, Ark., has come up with sure-fire protection against the postman's bane, hostile dogs. It's another dog, named Postman. Postman, who makes his bed in the rear of the post office and never misses his daily rounds, stands guard as carrier James McCoy takes mail from a deposit box.

Sclerosis Group To Confer With Legislators Soon

An invitation to visit Albany has been extended to the executive committee of the Mid-Hudson Valley Chapter of the National Multiple Slerosis Society by Assemblyman John McBride, a member of the chapter's board of trustees.

Donald S. Tracey, board chairman of the chapter, advises that McBride has suggested the visit, to take place Wednesday, April 20, will afford an opportunity for meeting the elected representatives of the six-county area served by the chapter, and has invited six assemblymen and three senators to breakfast with the chapter executive as his guests at the Ten Eyck Hotel.

Expected to be present at the breakfast are Stephen G. Doig, Jr., Rockland; Joseph T. St. Lawrence, Orange - Rockland; Daniel Becker, Orange; Willis H. Stephens, Dutchess-Putnam; Victor C. Waryas, Dutchess, Kenneth L. Wilson, Ulster; and McBride, Orange-Sullivan-Ulster. The three senators invited are D. Clinton Dominick, Orange-Rockland; Lloyd A. Newcombe, Orange - Sullivan - Ulster - Greene; and R. Watson Pomeroy, Dutchess-Putnam- Columbia.

Tracy said that he and several chapter officers will also attend, in addition to the field representative of the national society.

Held on 3 Charges After Auto Mishap

Joseph William Rometa, 34, Saugerties, was arrested by Trooper W. E. Wiedemann of the Lake Katrine sub-station Monday evening on charges of being an unlicensed operator, driving while intoxicated and second degree grand larceny, following an accident on Blue Mountain Road, Town of Saugerties. Rometa was remanded to jail for a hearing today by Justice of the Peace Calvin H. Cody, Town of Saugerties.

According to an investigation by state police Rometa was driving east on Blue Mountain Road in a car owned by Alvah Weeks, R.D. 1, Saugerties, a brother-in-law, when the car left the road, went off the highway to the right and struck seven guard posts. It then crossed the road and struck two guard posts on the left and slid into a tree. Rometa was taken to Kingston Hospital by Saugerties Ambulance where he was treated for a nose injury and released. The accident happened about 6:50 p. m.

Lee Marvin, Academy Award Nominee, Talks of Many Things on Visit Home

ALL IN THE FAMILY — Academy award nominee Lee Marvin puts a friendly arm around the shoulders of his father, Lamont Marvin, of Bearsville, during a recent visit home. Strong family resemblance is obvious. Not so obvious is the fact that "I'm the only actor in Hollywood who doesn't hate his father," said Lee, jokingly. (Freman photo by Kruh)

The beige corduroy trousers are perfectly cut, perhaps even custom tailored; the pullover outer shirt is Warner Brothers western sunset blazing orange; the turtleneck inner shirt looks like pure silk; and the voice is well-modulated gravel-toned. He strides around the living room, a man of tall stature, erect carriage, eyes darting in every direction, ready for a fight—or a for a laugh.

Lee Marvin likes action. He wants to move the world, to feel the stir, to make his talent count for something. Other men have so aspired, but he has succeeded better than most.

At the moment he is off-screen, relaxing at his old home in Bearsville on a recent visit with his father. He seems to relax easily. He listens, he talks; there is no stiffness or unapproachableness. In Hollywood, it's probably a different story. Marvin has reached the peak of his profession. An actor can achieve no higher pinnacle than an Academy Award nomination and he has that on the basis of a satirical western, Cat Ballou. He might just as well have had it for Ship of Fools, too, in which he excelled this year.

Lee Marvin is a man of very definite views, which he does not hesitate to express. "He's always sticking his neck out," says a long-time Woodstock associate; "he's not afraid to rock the boat." It is an attribute that manifests itself in many ways, large and small.

Not That Engrossed

Thus, in an age when the emphasis in life is on security and conformity, Marvin is an apostle of non-conformity. "I'll make no more television series or guest spot appearances on TV if I can help it," he says, "only one on two pictures a year. I'm not engrossed in a sense that I have to work all the time."

He says this in the full knowledge that M Squad, still being rerun on television years after it was originally filmed, helped tremendously in building him into a bigger name. Yet, it also served to retard his film career since TV actors — in what has come to be known as The Big Pause — didn't make features at all for some years. Until things eventually opened up, Marvin went without a single movie contract for five years. Now, one of the biggest stars in Hollywood, he intends to stay in movies because it is the bigger medium. "What can you get really from a small picture on a 27 inch screen?" he asks with slight vehemence.

It is characteristic of Marvin that, though he has achieved star status, he still participates in the give-and-take of home and Woodstock when he's visiting. He laughs hilariously at jokes told by his brother, teacher Robert Marvin; thinks it's excruciatingly funny that Bob and his wife live next door to a girl named Lee Marvin in the city. He insists that his father, Lamont Marvin, repeat the story of a plane adventure on a recent trip to Florida. "There's nothing he likes better," says a Woodstock buddy of younger days, "than to mix it up with old friends in a reminiscent discussion. He doesn't forget his old friends, and he wouldn't miss a session of verbal fisticuffs for love or money."

Retains Friendships Here

One thing is certain — Marvin does come back home with regularity. Unlike such celebrities as Dean Martin, who is said never to have returned to Stubenville, Ohio, since he left, Lee's reasons for frequently including Woodstock on his itinerary are because of his family and the fact that he has "a lot of friends here." His career often brings him to New York from Los Angeles and Woodstock is easy to get to from New York.

Does he personally feel that Cat Ballou, for which he may win an Oscar this month, is his best all-time performance? "How would I know, really?" he answers. "Olivier was nominated seven times and won only once for Hamlet. Maybe it'll be my year."

Who does he feel is the man to beat for filmdom's most coveted award? Oskar Werner, with whom he co-starred in Ship of Fools, mainly because Werner has already won the New York Film Critics Award for best actor of the year. Werner's in the race all the way, says Lee—more so than Olivier, whose Othelllo was merely a filmed stage play — or Rod Steiger, whose, The Pawnbroker was seen by only a few in the art houses.

A Don Quixote

Although Marvin is capable of the utmost courtesy and niceties, what comes through with more than normal intensity is that, if need be, he could be as tough as any of the tough roles he's portrayed in films. This could simply be one of the pitfalls of the profession. On the other hand, it may be due to the fact that Lee is on a horse with a spear, trying to knock over some windmills.

One issue he never battles over is that part of the game which says a celebrity must acknowledge his public. If asked for his autograph he gives it. If urged to say a few words to the crowd, he does. Offered a drink by a business executive, he accepts "Just don't go out at all if you don't want to be recognized or approached," he says. "If you do go, then sign autographs and do it graciously."

When the need for privacy is acute, Marvin "runs away" to Mexico. Even there, they know him, and he goes far enough into the jungle where hunting and fishing are the only intrusions. Private, too, is his house at the beach, to which he invites friends, not fans. Nights out in public must be considered as a "tour of duty," he feels and, grateful for small favors, he is elated that, at least, he is no teenage idol and is spared mob scenes.

No Longer Typecast

Pretty much typecast early in his career as the bad guy in gangster plot films, Marvin can play any role in the script today. He is equally at home in the part of an astronaut, bumbling hillbilly, Indian war hero, drunken baseball player, silver-nosed bandit or straight man for Bob Hope. How did he manage the journey from petty criminal to romantic leads? "I think," he says, "when you're unknown, you're cast for what you look like. If you do enough of that and have gained success in doing it, you start trying to make the switch slowly. You pull out of the killer class you were always considered to be in; emerge as the romantic lead or victor—not as the bad guy but the good guy."

The actor in Marvin goes forward in a variety of ways. He thinks ambition plays a part of his makeup only insofar as it has to do with his performance. "If your ambition is great enough," he says, "you give everything to a part. Hard work when the camera is running—that's what leads to success." He minimizes cocktailing it or table hopping as means to stardom; says' fan magazines and gossip columnists emphasize these Hollywood mannerisms too much.

He has no real desire to do a stage play but would consider it if the right one came a long. "Pictures are still the end thing," he says "If you're making them, stick with them. Henry Fonda, who deserted films for Broadway, never got back to being the star he was."

Not the Batman Type

Would he have accepted a part like Batman if it had been offered to him? "No, not for any reason—no way and nohow. It's a hit and I'm glad for all those involved, but where does an actor like Robin go from here? The Police Commissioner is the only man in the series who really acts. And look at what happened to George Reeves, who played Superman. He ended up a suicide with a bullet in him."

Marvin thinks of himself not so much as a non-conformist as a product of his generation. Men like himself, who have lived through two World Wars, Korea and Viet Nam, simply cannot be considered dumb yokels any more, he says. Young men who go into the Army know something when they come out; they're bound to be more selective—if you want to call selectivity non-conformity, he feels. A veteran of Warld War II, Lee is convinced that if a man wants to talk market today, he has to consider the kids, who make up a large portion of the population and have more money than ever to spend selectively. Hollywood's old habits are dying off, he feels, and, to make a good picture now, film brass has to update it for the kids. "Bright young people today won't accept junk," he says.

Marvin will be in England for the next few months, making The Dirty Dozen; working for one of the top producers and one of the best directors in the business. His career is heading even higher and he is now considered an absolute champ in the same way Spencer Tracey and Marlon Brando are champs in their profession.

Makes More Than LBJ

No one is more surprised than Lee about his fortune. "The men with whom I'm competing for the Academy Award can all act circles around me," he says, "but this is the land of milk and honey. If you have the right gimmick, you're in. I never got out of high school and here I am, making many more times the money the president of the United States makes. It's pretty ridiculous really, but that's how it is."

That's how it is for Lee Marvin, who's gone about as high as he can go and shows no signs of sliding down.

List Marist Poet As Viet Speaker

DR. OSWALD LeWINTER

Professor Osward LeWinter, associate professor of English at Marist College, will speak and direct the discussion at the first of three workshops to be held on the subject of Viet Nam at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard O. Day Jr., in Woodstock, Wednesday at 8 p. m.

Dr. LeWinter, who has won a number of important prizes in poetry and is the author of several works, was instrumental in arranging the Teach-In Debate on Viet Nam held at Marist College in Poughkeepsie on March 22, and was faculty chairman of the Ad Hoc Committee to promote debate on foreign policy.

As the complexity of issues in Viet Nam continue to remain unresolved and since the Administration has failed to provide detailed background against which our present involvement in this war-torn land is carried on, citizens are eager to learn more than many presently know about the history of Viet Nam since the date of the Geneva Conference, says Mrs. Day.

Dr. LeWinter, in his talk at Marist College, indicated the data he will present at the first workshop will be informative, illuminating and interesting. All those wishing to attend are invited to phone Mrs. Day in Woodstock. Because a large audience is expected at this first area event on Viet Nam, reservations must be made by telephone. Area clergy are especially invited to attend.

Topic Is Atonement For Christ Scientists

Doctrine of Atonement will be the subject at Christian Science church services this Sunday. Bible passages to be considered will focus on Jesus' parable of the prodigal son (Luke 15) and end with his statement, "And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me." Related readings from the denominational textbook will include these lines: "Like our Master, we must depart from material sense into the spiritual sense of being . . . This is having part in the atonement; this is the understanding, in which Jesus suffered and triumphed" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy).

Sunday services in Woodstock are held at 11 a. m.

Jaycees Schedule Bowling Tournament

The Woodstock Jaycees have scheduled the annual Junior Bowling Tournament for Saturday, April 30 at the Woodstock Lanes. The tournament will be held with the cooperation of the American Junior Bowling Congress (AJBC). Tournament play will begin at 1 p. m. for youngsters from the Woodstock and West Hurley area, ages 12-17.

There will be competition within various age groups and a nominal fee will be charged for three games. Awards will be presented to the winners in the various groups.

Chilly 29 Matches 1952 Low for Date

The record low temperature reading for today's date was equalled at 5 this morning when the mercury plunged to 29 degrees. This matched the previous low for the date set in 1952, according to figures maintained by the city engineer's office.

The cold pattern was consistent with early morning temperature readings this month, which have kept close to the near-freezing mark.

Muscovite Burns Self to Death Over Viet Protest

MOSCOW (AP) — A young truckdriver from the Ukraine burned himself to death in a central Moscow square after Soviet authorities would not let him fight in Viet Nam, Russian sources said today.

The sources said Nikolai Didyk, 26, poured gasoline on his head about 8 p.m. last Thursday in front of a big chidren's store, set himself aflame, and ran into the street with his arms spread wide, stopping traffic.

They reported Didyk's wife said he had been "obsessed with the war in Viet Nam."

The sources said Didyks' immolation occurred in Dzershinsky Square, in view of Lubianak Prison, headquarters of the Soviet secret police. They reported passersby seized the young man, put the fire out and called an ambulance.

According to the sources, Didyk was from Zuigres, in the Don River basin of the Ukraine, and had been a border guard until 1962. He reportedly volunteered for service in Viet Nam at home, was repeatedly turned down, and had come to Moscow to try again.

Police referred all questions about the incident to the press department of the Soviet Foreign Ministry. A spokesman there said he had no information on the case.

The deputy director of the hospital also said he had no information. The Soviet press has carried no stories on the incident.

The Russian sources who described the suicide said they had heard about it from eyewitnesses and had confirmed it by further checks.

Soviet officials have reported a number of times that many Soviet citizens have volunteered to fight in Viet Nam. There has never been any announcement of any being accepted.

Tore Up Manuals To Help Blaze Following Crash

PITTSFIELD, Mass. (AP) — The pilot of a single-engine plane that crashed in the Berkshire hills Sunday night says he shivered all night awaiting rescue.

The pilot, Robert Breen, 25, of Providence, R.I., and two soldier passengers, Alex Mazika, 20, of Johnston, R.I., and George McNamee, 20, of Providence, were flying from North Smithfield, R.I., to Watertown, N.Y., when their Piper Cherokee crashed about 8 p.m. on October Mountain.

Doctors at Pittsfield General Hospital described McNamee's condition today as poor. They said he was suffering from concussion and cuts. The other two —Breen at St. Luke's Hospital, Mazika at Pittsfield General— were reported in fair condition. Mazika suffered broken ribs.

Breen, who walked out of the snowy woods to summon help, said the three tore up an airways manual about the size of a city telephone book and used it to keep a fire going for about 2½ hours. But they had to give up the fire "because we couldn't find enough wood to keep it going," Breen said.

"The plane was at an angle," he said, "but we climbed back in and got some sleep. Most of the windows were broken and the heater was useless because it worked off the engine, but at least we had some cushions to sit on."

Temperatures were below freezing, Breen said, and the men had no blankets, just the jackets they wore. They had no food, but a first aid kit enabled them to treat cuts.

In the morning, walking out to the road, Breen found a blanket in an abandoned shack. "I wrapped it around me because I'd been shivering all night," he said. After trudging through the woods for 90 minutes, he came to the home of Mrs. Charlotte Morgan in the town of Washington, about 15 miles southeast of Pittsfield, and notified police of the crash.

Scarsdale Man Beaten

NEW YORK (AP) — A Scarsdale man was beaten and robbed of $200 and a wrist watch Monday in a self-service elevator in midtown Manhattan, police reported.

The victim was Charles Gilbert, 64, who told police his assailant pushed him out of the elevator after robbing him. Gilbert was treated for cuts and bruises and released.

He lives at 281 Garth Road, Scarsdale.

Plaza Announces Event Winners

Kingston Plaza's week long Easter celebration ended Saturday with an Easter Egg Race for children ages 4 through 11. Many youngsters turned out for the races and the adults in the crowd were having such a good time watching, the judges of the races ran races for adults as well.

The races were divided into three age groups. First prize was 8,500 Triple-S Blue stamps, second price, 2,000 stamps and third prize, 1,000 stamps. Winners in each age group were: Age four through six: Lenore Throneberg and Mary Throneberg, 59 West Pierpont Street, first and second prize and Faye Mills of 6 Washington Avenue, third prize. Age group seven through 9: Veronica Throneberg, 59 West Pierpont Street, first prize; Debra Burton, R.D. 2, Kingston, second prize and Diana Coley, 24 West O'Reilly Street, third prize. Age group 10 through 11: Peter Boyd, 18 Overlook Drive, first prize; Delores Swarthout, Bloomington, second prize and Dennis Stokes, 192 TenBroeck Avenue, third prize.

Several adults entered a special race for adults only. Winners of 250 Triple-S Blue stamps each were Henry Mayer of Lake Katrine, Marion Persico, 100 West Chester Street and Mike Cronin, 12 Washington Avenue.

Immediately after the races the names of the winners of the Guess the Eggs contest were announced. They are:

First prize, 10,000 Triple-S Blue Stamps, Ed Burtis, RD 1, West Hurley; second prize, 5,000 Triple-S Blue Stamps, Betty Dupuis, 87 S. Broadway, Red Hook; third prize, 2,000 Triple-S Blue Stamps, Steven Bonesteel, Willow; fourth prize, 1,000 Triple-S Blue Stamps, Mrs. H. Hotaling Jr., Oakwood Drive, Kingston; fifth through eighth prizes, 500 stamps each: April Bartle, Stone Ridge; Miss Gloria Haynes 55 Lawrenceville Street Kingston; Diane Tabakman 41 Catskill Avenue Kingston and Mike Davis, 3 Rita Street, New Paltz.

Master of ceremonies at the races was Tony Bell. The egg races and guess the eggs contest were sponsored by the Kingston Plaza Merchants Association and Triple-S Blue Stamps. "The response to both contests was tremendous," said Don Wright, president of the Plaza Merchants Association, "we hope we can hold a similar contest and races again next year."

Says Immolation Attempt Was Hoax

NEW YORK (AP) — Arthur Zimmer, 20, says a gasoline dousing was as far as he planned to go when he appeared in front of the White House with fuel and matches after threatening to set himself on fire.

"I had no intention of burning myself," he said Monday. "It was a publicity stunt."

He planned the hoax, he said, to dramatize his opposition to U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

Zimmer, a Boston University student, was grabbed in front of the White House Sunday by detectives as he poured gasoline on himself from a plastic bottle.

He was taken to a hospital for mental observation and released Monday.

Nickerson Has Plan

MINEOLA, N. Y. (AP)—Nassau County Executive Eugene H. Nickerson, the only declared Democratic gubernatorial candidate, proposed today that free higher education be provided for handicapped students who are accepted by accredited colleges.

Nickerson termed "unrealistic" and "to subjective," the state's present criteria for providing financial aid to handicapped students.

A Nassau County Committee an the handicapped, appointed by Nickerson in 1963, also recommended creation of a permanent office for the handicapped within local government and legislation on the federal, state and county levels to bar discrimination against the handicapped.

Today in Washington

Start JFK Memorial

WASHINGTON (AP) — An 11-ton block of granite has been lowered into place as the first stone of President John F. Kennedy's permanent gravesite at Arlington National Cemetery.

The block of Deer Island granite from Stonington, Maine, will form part of the base for the eight-foot wall at the head of the Kennedy grave on a grassy slope 20 feet from where his body was buried in 1963.

Work started last fall on the $2-million gravesite and should be completed this fall. It will include the eternal flame at the head of the grave, an elliptical overlook at its foot and a circular walkway. More than 2,800 tons of granite and marble will be used in its construction.

To Eliminate Religion

WASHINGTON (AP) — A study requested by the Senate Internal Security subcommittee says Red China is taking steps to hasten gradual disappearance of religion, but adds that its approach is more subtle than most Communist nations.

"Although the Chinese Communists believe that religion is a form of reactionary idealism which must eventually be abolished, practical considerations in mainland China prevent its immediate elimination," said the report prepared by the staff of Library of Congress.

Banker Is Named

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York banker John J. McCloy has been named a special State Department consultant on North Atlantic Treaty Organization affairs. He flies to Bonn Thursday for talks with West German and British representatives.

McCloy, 71, was one of the chief negotiators in discussions which ended Allied occupation of Germany. He is a former U.S. high commissioner to Germany.

TOY BOWLING BALLS: Marbles started in 17th century England during the time the adult sport of bowling was gaining popularity there. Bowling balls were made of marble and the toys for children were just small imitations.

Blame 3rd Rail Contact on Delay Of Eight Trains

NEW YORK (AP) — Eight passenger trains of two railroads were delayed from 7 to 46 minutes today by the loss of third rail contact shoes on two trains in Manhattan.

Power was shut off from 59th to 110th Streets while firemen hosed down the ties and repairs were made to the third rail.

A spokesman for the New York Central said three of that carrier's passenger trains and five of the New Haven Railroad were delayed.

The trouble began with the loss of shoe contact on a south bound New Haven train at 8:31 a. m. The train finally stalled at 56th Street, where it was stranded for 39 minutes. Another New Haven train directly behind it was caught in the tunnel for 29 minutes.

A second mishap occurred at 8:43 a. m. when a Central train running empty from Grand Central lost shoe contact and stalled at 60th Street on the four-track line.

Another Central train, carrying passengers, was used to push the disabled train to the Motthaven vards in the Bronx. The pusher train made all of its scheduled stops but lost 46 minutes while helping the other train.

The track blockages delayed three other outbound and two inbound trains before the difficulties were ended and normal service restored about 10:15 a. m.

Girl, 11, Killed By Penned Horse At Johnson City

JOHNSON CITY, Tx. (AP) —The 11-year-old daughter of a Secret Service agent assigned to the LBJ ranch detail was killed by a horse in a pen behind the family's Johnson City home Monday.

He said the girl had tied a rope around her horse's neck and to her waist. The horse dragged the girl around the pen several times and then jumped a fence, he said.

The horse was not wearing a saddle when caught, the sheriff said, adding he did not know why the girl tied the rope to her waist.

Actor, Wife to Curtain

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Kirk Douglas and his wife plan a person-to-person tour of five Iron Curtain nations at their own expense, a spokesman for the actor says.

The couple plans to visit the capitals of Poland, Czechoslovakia, Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary between April 17 and May 4.

Douglas will address student groups, visit hospitals and orphanages and take part in discussions on radio and television while in the Communist countries.

The actor has made previous trips for the U.S. State Department to Europe, South America and the Near and Far East.
